Ike Says Tax Cuts Possible

30,000 New Mexico Votes Said Illegal

Cast Out Would Give Republican Hurley A Victory

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP) — A Senate elections subcommittee recommended today that about 30,000 votes cast in the New Mexico senatorial election last year be thrown out for "lack of secrecy" in the balloting.

If the Senate adopted this recommendation, the 5,000-vote margin by which Democratic Sen. Dennis Chavez won re-election would be transformed into a 5,000-vote edge for his Republican opponent, Patrick J. Hurley.

GOP Would Have Majority

And if Hurley replaced Chavez, the Republicans would have a one-vote majority in the Senate. The present party lineup is 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and one independent.

But the subcommittee's recommendation is a long way from adoption. In the first place it is not a formal subcommittee report. Sen. Barrett (R-Wyo), chairman of the group, described it as only more or less laying out ground rules to decide how the disputed New Mexico contest should be judged.

Even a formal report would have to be approved by the full Rules Committee of which the Elections subcommittee is a part, and then survive an angry debate on the Senate floor.

Barrett said that of the 30,000 votes now suspect, some 20,000 were cast for Chavez and about 10,000 for Hurley. Chavez was re-elected by a vote of approximately 122,000 to 117,000.

Laws Were "Violated"

New Mexico statutes providing that separate compartments must be maintained in polling places were "flagrantly violated" in the 1952 election, Barrett said. He had reported earlier that more than 50 witnesses had told the subcommittee their ballots had been tampered with, and that in some cases judges in one Albuquerque precinct argued with voters about the ballots they cast.

The investigation was launched by the Senate after Hurley complained that there were many irregularities in the voting. Hurley, a colorful soldier, lawyer and diplomat, was secretary of war in the Hoover administration and ambassador to China in the Roosevelt regime.

Terry's Bikini Is Left Behind

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 18 (AP)—The people who have the last word on such things cluck-clucked at Terry Moore's white-fur Bikini, so she headed for Korea today without it.

The voluptuous movie beauty assured actor George Murphy, president of the Hollywood Coordinating Committee, that the controversial get-up was not in her luggage as she and eight other entertainers left by plane.

The committee supplies Hollywood talent for entertainment of GIs. Murphy said he sent word to her yesterday that the costume—narrow bra and tight-fitting shorts—shouldn't go. He said church people had been upset by reports that Terry planned a strip tease in an ermine Bikini. They didn't think it was proper entertainment for their boys overseas.

"My feeling is that some press agent tried to take advantage of our USO Christmas tours to get publicity for one person," Murphy said. "This I resent. I don't think Terry had any intention of doing anything that would offend, but I think possibly she was badly advised."

Elizabeth, Duke To Visit Towering Polynesian Queen

SUVA, Fiji Islands, Dec. 18 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh left here by flying boat tonight to visit the towering Polynesian Queen Salote and her Tonga Islands people.

The trip to the British protectorate known alternately as the Friendly Islands will be a reunion of the two queens who first met at Elizabeth's coronation ceremonies last June.

The smiling 6-foot-3 matriarch of the 150 islands in the Tonga group was a much-photographed star of the London celebrations.

Before leaving the Fijis, the world-tcuring Queen Elizabeth and her husband lunched on crabs cooked in cocoanut milk and attended a native athletic meet.

Senator Hopes McCarthy Will Soon Join Team

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) expressed the hope tonight that Sen. McCarthy will get on the Republican team and "get on it soon."

McCarthy, a Wisconsin Republican, recently suggested that the public ask President Eisenhower to halt U. S. aid to free world nations which trade with Red China. Considerable mail and telegrams to the White House followed.

The administration has taken the position that this country's allies are not shipping Red China any strategic materials and that such trade as is being conducted with Red China is, on the whole, to the advantage of the West.

"In the difference of opinion between Joe McCarthy and the President," Smith said on the CBS radio program "Capitol Cloakroom" tonight, "I'm with the President and Mrs. Dulles (secretary of state) because we're on a team and I hope Mr. McCarthy will get on that team and get on it soon.

"We may have differences and we can argue them in the family, but to argue them outside the family just isn't right and I'm disturbed over charges and countercharges made that the Eisenhower-Dulles administration is dominated by the old Truman-Acheson (administration) and so on.'

As for McCarthy's campaign to have the public write or wire the President about China trade, Smith said:

"I don't approve of that. I don't think it's right for any one of us to ask the public to vote between our position and the President of the United States, when we're both in the same party."

Smith said he had been quoted as taking McCarthy's side.

"I sympathize with the point McCarthy is making," said Smith, who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on the Far East. "I myself have questioned the wisdom of trade while at war. But now we have a truce we're trying to bring about. An argument can be made to consider the views of the British and others."

Smith expressed belief the British could be convinced of the futility of trying to recognize the Communist Chinese regime.

Pope Pius X To Be Elevated To Sainthood In The Spring

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 18 (AP)—Pope Pius X, the humble prelate already popularly known as "Papa Santo," the Pope saint, will be elevated to sainthood in the spring of 1954, the Vatican said today.

His canonization will be a highlight of the Marian year which started 10 days ago to honor the Virgin Mary.

Pius X, once Giuseppe Cardinal Sarto, archbishop of Venice, died Aug. 20, 1914. His beatification took place on June 3, 1951. He thus became the first Pope in 279 years to be so honored.

In one of the final steps of the process toward sainthood, The Congregation of Rites—one of 12 congregations that govern Catholic church affairs—approved the validity of two miracles attributed to the dead pontiff's intervention. Two verified and accepted miracles are normally required for canonization, and must have occurred after the death of the candidate for sainthood.

The miracles approved involved a Neopolitan attorney and a Sicilian nun in 1951 and 1952. The Congregation of Rites validated them as miracles after a commission of nine doctors met last June and reported that cures of diseases in both persons had been affected supernaturally.

Allies Doubt UN Prisoners Held By Fear

Some Of 22 May Have Committed Crimes, UN Says

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, Dec. 19 (AP)—U.N. officers and Indian neutrals today discounted the report of a South Korean repatriate that three or four of the 22 Americans held in a pro-Red compound want to come home but are cowed by leaders.

"No one is holding them there with a knife," said an Indian officer whose troops guard the prisoners.

Both U.N. and Indian officers said there were flaws in the South Korean's story.

May Ask At Last Minute

However, some U.N. officers thought that one or two Americans might ask for repatriation at the last minute under the emotional pressure of knowing that next Wednesday is the truce deadline for explanations.

At midnight Wednesday the U. S. Army will classify the 22 Americans as absent without leave and they automatically will become deserters 30 days later.

A United Nations source who has access to files on the 22 said a half-dozen may have refused repatriation in fear of being court-martialed for crimes they are suspected of committing against other prisoners in North Korea. The source said the men would not be promised immunity from trial for actual crimes.

The U.N. Command took the names of three Americans given by the repatriated South Korean as prisoners who confided to him they would like to come home. But U.N. officers put little stock in the story.

"They have every opportunity to be repatriated," an Indian officer said.

"All they have to do is yell for a guard. Every day some of them go to the hospital. When they walk to the hospital, all they would have to do would be to whisper to a guard."

Reds Scoff At Story

Red sources also scoffed at the South Korean's story that he talked with the Americans.

Alan Winnington and Wilfred Burchett, Red correspondents for newspapers in London and Paris, said some of the Americans had learned a little Chinese in camp but none could make himself understood in Korean. The Korean, however, had said he spoke some English and the Americans spoke some Korean.

Explanations to the prisoners have been stalled since Dec. 11 when pro-Red South Koreans refused to show up but instead turned over 30 pages of demands, including one that they be allowed to make "counter-explanations" to the interviewers.

Seeing that the explanations probably will not be resumed, Brig. Gen. A. L. Hamblen, commander of the U.N. repatriation group, conferred yesterday with Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, India's chairman of the NNRC. They did not disclose what they discussed.

Red's Statement Given As Evidence

FRANKFURT, Germany, Dec. 18 (AP)—A handwritten statement by a former Russian army officer that he spied for the Kremlin on Soviet refugees in West Germany was entered in evidence at a U. S. District Court today.

Georgi Vladimirovich Khorumzhii said in the statement the Russians paid him 10,000 marks ($2,380) for giving them information on the refugees, but denied American charges he had spied on U. S. counter intelligence agents.

The 36-year-old Russian's statement, together with one by his German-born wife, Elizabeth, were admitted into evidence in a closed court session.

Both are on trial on spy charges. Both have pleaded innocent.

Dolan Indicted For Perjury In Greenlease Ransom Probe

Officer Is Put In Jail, Bond Set At $25,000

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 18 (AP) — A federal grand jury probing the missing Greenlease ransom money today indicted a suspended St. Louis policeman on a charge of perjury.

Action against the 25-year-old officer, Elmer Dolan, came less than 15 hours after the execution of the kidnapers he had helped arrest.

Dolan, suspended last week by the St. Louis Police Board pending a hearing on charges growing out of his handling of the arrest appeared before the jury less than five minutes this afternoon. As he was chatting with newsmen, predicting no indictments would be returned today, two deputy U. S. marshals took him into custody.

Bond Is $25,000

He was placed in jail, after his arraignment, in default of a $25,000 bond.

Dolan and Lt. Louis Shoulders, since resigned from the police department, took kidnaper Carl Austin Hall into custody at a St. Louis hotel Oct. 6. Hall contended two suitcases containing the ransom money, were not taken to a police station with him. Later $303,720 of the ransom money was missing.

The policeman insisted both suitcases were brought to the station.

Following are part of the questions and answers on which the perjury indictment was based:

'Q. When did you know there were two suitcases involved in this case? A. When I got to the police station.

'Q. Did you take them out? A. I took one of them and Lt. Shoulders took the other.

'Q. Was this immediately after you got to the station? A. Right after I got to the station; the lieutenant was going into the station with the prisoner and I had taken one of the suitcases out.

'Q. How long was it after Hall was in there before you went in with the suitcase. A. A matter of minutes, possible. . . . "

Witnesses Testified

Previous witnesses who were in the police station, had testified they saw no suitcases brought into the station when Hall was brought in to be booked. Included were at least two policemen and a visitor.

And in the indictment, the grand jury said:

"The testimony of Elmer Dolan, as he then and there well knew and believed, was untrue and false in that the suitcases mentioned containing the ransom money were not taken into the police station at the time or in the manner alleged in the testimony."

Red Agency Says GI Seeks Refuge

BERLIN, Dec. 18 (AP)—The official East German news agency, ADN said tonight an American soldier has entered the Soviet zone and asked for asylum.

ADN identified the soldier as Clifford Murphy. No address was given.

The agency quoted a letter it said was written by Murphy. It read in part:

"I have come to the East German republic as I reject being a soldier any longer, for I know that America is planning a third world war against Russia.

"I hate service in the American Army, which has aggressive intentions of bringing about a new world war against peace-loving countries. For this reason I have decided to break with the American Army for good and ask for the right to stay in the German democratic republic."

The letter, ADN said, was signed "Soldier Clifford Murphy" and dated Dec. 9.

American authorities withheld comment pending a check of the records of missing men.

Plane Wreck Survivors On Glacier Seen

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Dec. 18 (AP)—The wreck of a U. S. Navy bomber was sighted on Myrdalsjokull glacier today and at least three of the nine-man crew were reported alive.

American fliers and Icelandic rescue parties raced to the bleak scene on the mile-high glacier, 110 miles southeast of Reykjavik, in an effort to reach the wrecked plane tonight. News of the result of their efforts was expected in early morning.

The bomber, a two-engine Lockheed Neptune with a nine-man crew, disappeared yesterday on a patrol flight from Keflavik Airport, a field near the Icelandic capital of Reykjavik.

A U. S. air rescue plane this afternoon spotted the wreckage, which it described as "badly broken up," on Myrdalsjokull glacier after a 24-hour search through blizzards by 10 planes and at least two ships.

"There are believed to be survivors," said a terse report to U. S. Air Force headquarters in London. The report did not indicate how many of the nine might have lived through the crash.

The glacier is 30 miles long and from 10 to 20 miles wide. It rises as high as 5,466 feet above sea level. The wreckage lies deep in its snowy wastes.

Icy winds still swept the barren area, but there were signs the weather might be improving.

It is feared some if not all the reported survivors may be suffering from injuries or exposure to the cold.

B29 Crash Kills One, Seven Hurt

OGDEN, Utah, Dec. 18 (AP)—A B29 crashed at the Ogden Municipal Airport today and at least one of the occupants died in the flames that consumed the plane.

Seven men were taken alive from the scene. Firemen reported they recovered the body of an unidentified co-pilot.

The plane, its base not known at once, overshot a runway, bounced across a highway and through an orchard. It stopped 1,000 feet from the crash spot.

Police said passersby pulled the injured from the wreckage and flames. Three men were carried away to a hospital in ambulances, four in police cars.

French Remain Deadlocked In Balloting For President

VERSAILLES, France, Saturday, Dec. 19 (AP)—With the field of candidates narrowed to two, the French Parliament remained deadlocked on the fourth ballot in its effort to elect a man to succeed Vincent Auriol as president of France. It then decided early today to put off the fifth ballot until 2 p.m. (8 a.m., EST).

The leader in the balloting was Premier Joseph Laniel, wealthy independent who is lukewarm toward the European army plan (EDC) and he was closely followed by Marcel-Edmond Naegelan, a Socialist who is opposed to EDC.

The tally in the fourth ballot in the old Versailles Palace today gave Laniel 408 votes to 344 for Naegelen. Laniel also had been the leader in the third ballot, when he polled 358 to 313 for Naegelen and 225 for Yvon Delbos, who withdrew after the count. Georges Bidault had withdrawn after the second ballot.

Laniel needed 460 votes, or a majority of those voting, for election on the fourth ballot. He thus lacked 52 votes of election. However, he picked up 50 votes over his third ballot tally.

Prospects of a selection appeared to brighten when Bidault, foreign minister, withdrew his candidacy before the third ballot yesterday and when former Foreign Minister Delbos withdrew before the fourth.

But Maurice Schumann, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, said at the end of the fourth ballot that many deputies and senators were throwing their votes to non-candidates in order to keep either Laniel or Naegelen from being elected.

The weary parliamentarians were looking around for a bright new candidate to break the deadlock. No such candidate was yet in sight.

Economy Cited By President At Conference

Jan. 1 Deadline For Reductions Goes Unchanged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower said tonight that economies by his administration have paved the way for the tax reductions which are to take effect Jan. 1.

On that date personal income taxes go down about 10 per cent and the excess profits tax on corporations is abolished.

The question of who is responsible for the reductions is a matter of political controversy. Democrats have pointed out that tax legislation passed by the last Democratic-controlled Congress provided for the reductions, while Republicans have replied that the cuts could not be allowed except for Republican economies.

After an all-day conference with Republican leaders of Congress on problems to come up at the new congressional session opening in January, Eisenhower said:

"Because of reductions in expenditures already made and presently planned, it was agreed that the way was cleared for January tax reductions in personal income taxes and excess profits taxes."

The administration made known some time ago that the cuts would be permitted to go into effect without any attempt to delay them by new legislation.

The excess profits levy had been due to expire six months ago but was extended at the administration's request after a hot fight with Rep. Reed (R-NY), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The reductions effective Jan. 1 will not require new legislation because they are automatic under existing law. There is always a possibility that Congress could vote later a retroactive bill rescinding the cuts, but that is considered out of the question unless there is some big new emergency.

Taxes, atomic energy, agriculture and foreign affairs shared emphasis as the President and his Capitol Hill advisors ploughed through the second day of a three-day conference on the 1954 legislative program.

The conferees also covered the St. Lawrence seaway, Hawaiian statehood and public works. At the end of the day Eisenhower summed up the points of discussion in a statement.

The conferences, for a second day, ran from 8:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. A final round of them is slated for tomorrow.

The whole program for 1954 probably won't jell into final form until Eisenhower gets to work on his State of the Union message to Congress after Christmas. The message is to be delivered in person, Jan. 7, the day after Congress reconvenes.

While Eisenhower omitted any hints as to what the administration plans for the farmer, he recited what he called the past year's accomplishments in the agricultural field:

1. Removal of livestock and meat controls.
2. A drought emergency program that put more than a million tons of feed into stricken areas, with the help of reduced rail rates.
3. Government purchase of 249 million pounds of beef in a stepped-up buying program.
4. Extension of necessary price supports even when no storage facilities were available.
5. Expansion of grain storage facilities.
6. Reorganization of the Agricultural Credit Administration, and establishment of a bipartisan agricultural advisory committee.

Six Years Of Effort Wins Ann Rutherford Citizenship

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18 (AP)—Six years of detective work paid off in United States citizenship today for actress Ann Rutherford.

The 33-year-old brunette from Vancouver, B. C., didn't learn until she went to vote the first time that she was not a citizen although she had lived in this country since the age of four months.

Herman R. Landon, district immigration director, said she would have been a U. S. citizen, even though born abroad, if her father had been a citizen and she had come to this country before she was 16. Her father, however, was born in Canada.

Landon said there was no record of her entry to the United States. He said she had to prove she had lived in the country before 1924, when the law requiring record of entry was adopted.

Miss Rutherford took the oath of citizenship today along with approximately 125 other candidates.

For six years, she said, she has been gathering documents and statements from friends.

"I even had to show that I had no police record by getting records from police chiefs in every town in which I ever lived," the actress told newsmen.

"I found the Sunday school teacher I had when 4 years old in San Francisco, the dentist I had as a child and my first grade teacher."

Miss Rutherford said her parents, opera singer John Dufferin Rutherford and actress Lucille Mansfield, brought her to San Francisco four months after she was born in Canada.

Red sources also scoffed at the South Korean's story that he talked with the Americans.

Alan Winnington and Wilfred Burchett, Red correspondents for newspapers in London and Paris, said some of the Americans had learned a little Chinese in camp but none could make himself understood in Korean. The Korean, however, had said he spoke some English and the Americans spoke some Korean.

Explanations to the prisoners have been stalled since Dec. 11 when pro-Red South Koreans refused to show up but instead turned over 30 pages of demands, including one that they be allowed to make "counter-explanations" to the interviewers.

Seeing that the explanations probably will not be resumed, Brig. Gen. A. L. Hamblen, commander of the U.N. repatriation group, conferred yesterday with Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, India's chairman of the NNRC. They did not disclose what they discussed.

Red's Statement Given As Evidence

FRANKFURT, Germany, Dec. 18 (AP)—A handwritten statement by a former Russian army officer that he spied for the Kremlin on Soviet refugees in West Germany was entered in evidence at a U. S. District Court today.

Georgi Vladimirovich Khorumzhii said in the statement the Russians paid him 10,000 marks ($2,380) for giving them information on the refugees, but denied American charges he had spied on U. S. counter intelligence agents.

The 36-year-old Russian's statement, together with one by his German-born wife, Elizabeth, were admitted into evidence in a closed court session.

Both are on trial on spy charges. Both have pleaded innocent.

Dolan Indicted For Perjury In Greenlease Ransom Probe

Officer Is Put In Jail, Bond Set At $25,000

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 18 (AP) — A federal grand jury probing the missing Greenlease ransom money today indicted a suspended St. Louis policeman on a charge of perjury.

Action against the 25-year-old officer, Elmer Dolan, came less than 15 hours after the execution of the kidnapers he had helped arrest.

Dolan, suspended last week by the St. Louis Police Board pending a hearing on charges growing out of his handling of the arrest appeared before the jury less than five minutes this afternoon. As he was chatting with newsmen, predicting no indictments would be returned today, two deputy U. S. marshals took him into custody.

Bond Is $25,000

He was placed in jail, after his arraignment, in default of a $25,000 bond.

Dolan and Lt. Louis Shoulders, since resigned from the police department, took kidnaper Carl Austin Hall into custody at a St. Louis hotel Oct. 6. Hall contended two suitcases containing the ransom money, were not taken to a police station with him. Later $303,720 of the ransom money was missing.

The policeman insisted both suitcases were brought to the station.

Following are part of the questions and answers on which the perjury indictment was based:

'Q. When did you know there were two suitcases involved in this case? A. When I got to the police station.

'Q. Did you take them out? A. I took one of them and Lt. Shoulders took the other.

'Q. Was this immediately after you got to the station? A. Right after I got to the station; the lieutenant was going into the station with the prisoner and I had taken one of the suitcases out.

'Q. How long was it after Hall was in there before you went in with the suitcase. A. A matter of minutes, possible. . . . "

Witnesses Testified

Previous witnesses who were in the police station, had testified they saw no suitcases brought into the station when Hall was brought in to be booked. Included were at least two policemen and a visitor.

And in the indictment, the grand jury said:

"The testimony of Elmer Dolan, as he then and there well knew and believed, was untrue and false in that the suitcases mentioned containing the ransom money were not taken into the police station at the time or in the manner alleged in the testimony."

Red Agency Says GI Seeks Refuge

BERLIN, Dec. 18 (AP)—The official East German news agency, ADN said tonight an American soldier has entered the Soviet zone and asked for asylum.

ADN identified the soldier as Clifford Murphy. No address was given.

The agency quoted a letter it said was written by Murphy. It read in part:

"I have come to the East German republic as I reject being a soldier any longer, for I know that America is planning a third world war against Russia.

"I hate service in the American Army, which has aggressive intentions of bringing about a new world war against peace-loving countries. For this reason I have decided to break with the American Army for good and ask for the right to stay in the German democratic republic."

The letter, ADN said, was signed "Soldier Clifford Murphy" and dated Dec. 9.

American authorities withheld comment pending a check of the records of missing men.

Plane Wreck Survivors On Glacier Seen

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Dec. 18 (AP)—The wreck of a U. S. Navy bomber was sighted on Myrdalsjokull glacier today and at least three of the nine-man crew were reported alive.

American fliers and Icelandic rescue parties raced to the bleak scene on the mile-high glacier, 110 miles southeast of Reykjavik, in an effort to reach the wrecked plane tonight. News of the result of their efforts was expected in early morning.

The bomber, a two-engine Lockheed Neptune with a nine-man crew, disappeared yesterday on a patrol flight from Keflavik Airport, a field near the Icelandic capital of Reykjavik.

A U. S. air rescue plane this afternoon spotted the wreckage, which it described as "badly broken up," on Myrdalsjokull glacier after a 24-hour search through blizzards by 10 planes and at least two ships.

"There are believed to be survivors," said a terse report to U. S. Air Force headquarters in London. The report did not indicate how many of the nine might have lived through the crash.

The glacier is 30 miles long and from 10 to 20 miles wide. It rises as high as 5,466 feet above sea level. The wreckage lies deep in its snowy wastes.

Icy winds still swept the barren area, but there were signs the weather might be improving.

It is feared some if not all the reported survivors may be suffering from injuries or exposure to the cold.

B29 Crash Kills One, Seven Hurt

OGDEN, Utah, Dec. 18 (AP)—A B29 crashed at the Ogden Municipal Airport today and at least one of the occupants died in the flames that consumed the plane.

Seven men were taken alive from the scene. Firemen reported they recovered the body of an unidentified co-pilot.

The plane, its base not known at once, overshot a runway, bounced across a highway and through an orchard. It stopped 1,000 feet from the crash spot.

Police said passersby pulled the injured from the wreckage and flames. Three men were carried away to a hospital in ambulances, four in police cars.

French Remain Deadlocked In Balloting For President

VERSAILLES, France, Saturday, Dec. 19 (AP)—With the field of candidates narrowed to two, the French Parliament remained deadlocked on the fourth ballot in its effort to elect a man to succeed Vincent Auriol as president of France. It then decided early today to put off the fifth ballot until 2 p.m. (8 a.m., EST).

The leader in the balloting was Premier Joseph Laniel, wealthy independent who is lukewarm toward the European army plan (EDC) and he was closely followed by Marcel-Edmond Naegelan, a Socialist who is opposed to EDC.

The tally in the fourth ballot in the old Versailles Palace today gave Laniel 408 votes to 344 for Naegelen. Laniel also had been the leader in the third ballot, when he polled 358 to 313 for Naegelen and 225 for Yvon Delbos, who withdrew after the count. Georges Bidault had withdrawn after the second ballot.

Laniel needed 460 votes, or a majority of those voting, for election on the fourth ballot. He thus lacked 52 votes of election. However, he picked up 50 votes over his third ballot tally.

Prospects of a selection appeared to brighten when Bidault, foreign minister, withdrew his candidacy before the third ballot yesterday and when former Foreign Minister Delbos withdrew before the fourth.

But Maurice Schumann, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, said at the end of the fourth ballot that many deputies and senators were throwing their votes to non-candidates in order to keep either Laniel or Naegelen from being elected.

The weary parliamentarians were looking around for a bright new candidate to break the deadlock. No such candidate was yet in sight.

Economy Cited By President At Conference

Jan. 1 Deadline For Reductions Goes Unchanged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower said tonight that economies by his administration have paved the way for the tax reductions which are to take effect Jan. 1.

On that date personal income taxes go down about 10 per cent and the excess profits tax on corporations is abolished.

The question of who is responsible for the reductions is a matter of political controversy. Democrats have pointed out that tax legislation passed by the last Democratic-controlled Congress provided for the reductions, while Republicans have replied that the cuts could not be allowed except for Republican economies.

After an all-day conference with Republican leaders of Congress on problems to come up at the new congressional session opening in January, Eisenhower said:

"Because of reductions in expenditures already made and presently planned, it was agreed that the way was cleared for January tax reductions in personal income taxes and excess profits taxes."

The administration made known some time ago that the cuts would be permitted to go into effect without any attempt to delay them by new legislation.

The excess profits levy had been due to expire six months ago but was extended at the administration's request after a hot fight with Rep. Reed (R-NY), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The reductions effective Jan. 1 will not require new legislation because they are automatic under existing law. There is always a possibility that Congress could vote later a retroactive bill rescinding the cuts, but that is considered out of the question unless there is some big new emergency.

Taxes, atomic energy, agriculture and foreign affairs shared emphasis as the President and his Capitol Hill advisors ploughed through the second day of a three-day conference on the 1954 legislative program.

The conferees also covered the St. Lawrence seaway, Hawaiian statehood and public works. At the end of the day Eisenhower summed up the points of discussion in a statement.

The conferences, for a second day, ran from 8:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. A final round of them is slated for tomorrow.

The whole program for 1954 probably won't jell into final form until Eisenhower gets to work on his State of the Union message to Congress after Christmas. The message is to be delivered in person, Jan. 7, the day after Congress reconvenes.

While Eisenhower omitted any hints as to what the administration plans for the farmer, he recited what he called the past year's accomplishments in the agricultural field:

1. Removal of livestock and meat controls.

2. A drought emergency program that put more than a million tons of feed into stricken areas, with the help of reduced rail rates.

3. Government purchase of 249 million pounds of beef in a stepped-up buying program.

4. Extension of necessary price supports even when no storage facilities were available.

5. Expansion of grain storage facilities.

6. Reorganization of the Agricultural Credit Administration, and establishment of a bipartisan agricultural advisory committee.

Six Years Of Effort Wins Ann Rutherford Citizenship

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18 (AP)—Six years of detective work paid off in United States citizenship today for actress Ann Rutherford.

The 33-year-old brunette from Vancouver, B. C., didn't learn until she went to vote the first time that she was not a citizen although she had lived in this country since the age of four months.

Herman R. Landon, district immigration director, said she would have been a U. S. citizen, even though born abroad, if her father had been a citizen and she had come to this country before she was 16. Her father, however, was born in Canada.

Landon said there was no record of her entry to the United States. He said she had to prove she had lived in the country before 1924, when the law requiring record of entry was adopted.

Miss Rutherford took the oath of citizenship today along with approximately 125 other candidates.

For six years, she said, she has been gathering documents and statements from friends.

"I even had to show that I had no police record by getting records from police chiefs in every town in which I ever lived," the actress told newsmen.

"I found the Sunday school teacher I had when 4 years old in San Francisco, the dentist I had as a child and my first grade teacher."

Miss Rutherford said her parents, opera singer John Dufferin Rutherford and actress Lucille Mansfield, brought her to San Francisco four months after she was born in Canada.

Pope Pius X To Be Elevated To Sainthood In The Spring

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 18 (AP)—Pope Pius X, the humble prelate already popularly known as "Papa Santo," the Pope saint, will be elevated to sainthood in the spring of 1954, the Vatican said today.

His canonization will be a highlight of the Marian year which started 10 days ago to honor the Virgin Mary.

Pius X, once Giuseppe Cardinal Sarto, archbishop of Venice, died Aug. 20, 1914. His beatification took place on June 3, 1951. He thus became the first Pope in 279 years to be so honored.

In one of the final steps of the process toward sainthood, The Congregation of Rites—one of 12 congregations that govern Catholic church affairs—approved the validity of two miracles attributed to the dead pontiff's intervention. Two verified and accepted miracles are normally required for canonization, and must have occurred after the death of the candidate for sainthood.

The miracles approved involved a Neopolitan attorney and a Sicilian nun in 1951 and 1952. The Congregation of Rites validated them as miracles after a commission of nine doctors met last June and reported that cures of diseases in both persons had been affected supernaturally.

Byrd Ends Doubts, Files As Governor Candidate

Retiring President Of State University Is Second Contender

DR. H. C. BYRD

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 18 (AP)—Dr. H. C. Byrd ended all doubts today and filed as a candidate for governor.

The retiring president of the University of Maryland said he did so to squash "false impressions" that he might not really run.

He signed a certificate of candidacy and the state's anti-subversive oath and left a check for $270 at the Secretary of State's office late this afternoon.

Thus the 64-year-old Eastern Shoreman who built the University of Maryland into one of the nation's largest institutions of higher education formally entered the political battlefield.

Identified With Politics

He has long been identified with state politics but not until now as a candidate.

He had asked the university's Board of Regents last June to find a successor. He said he wanted to be free to step out after 18 years as president by January of 1955. In that month the next governor will take office.

Byrd did little or nothing to stifle conjecture that he at last intended to run for the statehouse, a goal often discussed in political speculation for the white-haired educator. But not until today did he definitely confirm his ambition.

He became the second official contender for the Democratic nomination. George P. Mahoney, Baltimore contractor, who tried in 1950, filed earlier this month.

Mayor D'Alesandro of Baltimore has announced his candidacy but has not yet signed the necessary papers.

Byrd's formal entry was delayed while he hunted a notary public. Once his certificate was stamped he spent only a few minutes in the statehouse and then drove off to College Park.

Answers Impressions

He said his filing was "the answer to the false impressions that some persons have been disseminating that I would never file and would not run.

"In order that these empressions should not any longer be given credence by anybody, I decided not to wait until Jan. 2 but to file today."

Byrd and the university Board of Regents had agreed informally that he would not actively seek office until after the first of the year. Just this week the regents announced that Dr. T. B. Symons, former dean of agriculture, would be called out of retirement to serve as temporary president until a permanent successor to Byrd could be found.

Group To Back GOP Candidates Who Favor Ike

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The National Citizens-for-Eisenhower congressional committee is planning to back pro-Ike Republican candidates in "80 to 90" marginal districts in the 1954 congressional elections.

This was made known today by William R. Haley, secretary of the group, in the wake of a luncheon given by Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the Studebaker Corp., who was a leading organizer of the successful campaign to win the 1952 Republican presidential nomination for Eisenhower. Hoffman was first head of the rich Ford Foundation.

Haley said the citizens committee will make its appeal to independents and Democrats who helped elect Eisenhower.

In an interview, Haley said the new committee will not take part in the 1954 primaries but will concentrate on 80 to 90 congressional districts. These will be districts that went Republican or Democratic by a narrow margin—say 5 per cent or less—in 1952, and where the GOP candidates next year generally back Eisenhower policies.

He made clear the committee won't be active in behalf of GOP congressmen from marginal districts who make a record of opposition to Eisenhower policies.

But Haley said the committee hasn't yet singled out any present House members or senators for support "and probably will not until after the President's State of the Union speech and we get the reactions to it from Congress."

Thief Erred When He Took Woman's Auto

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Women are a relentless species, as any man knows. Take, for example, Mrs. Dolores McClosky, 22.

She heard the family car early one morning outside her 20th St. apartment and looked out the window in time to see a thief drive it away.

Without waiting to put on a coat, Mrs. McClosky hit the street running and grabbed a cab. She trailed her car block after block as it twisted and turned and ran red lights in lower Manhattan.

Finally, the thief abandoned the car. Mrs. McClosky called police while the cab driver followed the thief.

The police joined Mrs. McClosky and it took them only a few minutes to find their quarry. He was walking along the street with the cab trailing him like a bird dog.

After he was booked, Mrs. McClosky suddenly remembered her husband, Joseph, and her 4-months-old daughter, Susan. As she bade the cops adieu, the relentless Mrs. McClosky told them:

"I've got to get home. Joe doesn't know how to take care of the baby."

Missing Money Still Mystery As Killers Die

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—The Greenlease kidnap-killers died in Missouri's gas chamber early today talking calmly to each other but they left behind the enigma of what happened to half the record $600,000 ransom.

Right to the end officials had hoped Carl Austin Hall, the 34-year-old heir to a $200,000 fortune, would give them a lead to the missing $300,000—the last remaining mystery of the shocking kidnap-killing of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease Sept. 28.

But at the end, just before the gas chamber door closed, Hall and his 41-year-old divorced alcholic mistress only shook their heads when acting U.S. Marshal William B. Tatman asked if they had any last words.

They spent their last 10 minutes together in the chamber's detention cell before being led blindfolded the few feet into the lethal tank itself.

They sat on a cot, handcuffed together—Carl smoking a cigarette. He leaned over and gave Bonnie a puff. They held hands, embraced and a few minutes later went to their deaths as impassively as they had whiled away the time since they were "dressed in" at the state prison Nov. 20.

They talked as two lovers would, even as the deadly cyanide powder was dropped into the acid in receptacles beneath their chairs, less than two feet apart.

It was 12:02 a.m. when Warden Ralph N. Eidson tripped the lever, releasing the deadly gas. They were unconscious almost at once. Twelve minutes later Carl was dead. It took two minutes more for Bonnie. Dr. G. Donald Shull said her breathing lasted longer than any convict he had seen die in the chamber.

Thus the pair paid in record speed for punishment under the Lindbergh kidnaping law. It had been just 81 days since Mrs. Heady, posing as his aunt, abducted little Bobby from an exclusive Roman Catholic school in Kansas City.

The condemned themselves made swift justice possible. They pleaded guilty, then waived all rights of appeal after they had been sentenced to death.

Clergymen who talked to the couple said they died completely reconciled and "ready to meet their Almighty God."

Mrs. Heady's body was taken to Maryville, Mo. to await burial tomorrow in the family plot in the cemetery at Clearmont, Mo., her childhood home.

Hall's body still lay in a Jefferson City funeral home. Marshall K. Hoag of Pleasanton, Kan., an attorney and lifelong friend of the Hall family, claimed Hall's body. He refused to say where the burial would be but the kidnap-killer's parents are buried at Pleasanton.

The Glen Burnie and Marley Creek fire companies answered the call and were hampered when ice formed about the area from hose streams.

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Dec. 18 (AP)—Prince Georges County commissioners by a 3-2 vote today fired county Police Chief F. Allen Richards.

Youth Is Sentenced In Defraud Attempt

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 18 (AP)—A Sedalia, Mo., youth who tried to sell purported information to the Robert C. Greenlease family about the missing Bobby Greenlease ransome money, was given a three-year suspended sentence today in federal district court.

Isabella King Succumbs At 67

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 18 (AP)—Isabella Greenway King, a friend of presidents and the only woman ever elected to Congress from Arizona, died today at the age of 67. She had been ill for a year.

Before her election to the House of Representatives in 1934, she served six years as Arizona national committeewoman.

Pair Indicted In Poison Deaths

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Harlow Fraden, a poetic wastrel, was indicted with a weak-willed chum today for first degree murder in the champagne toast of death slaying of his parents.

Thus the state moved swiftly to convict them and get a mandatory sentence of death—a fate Fraden's companion, Dennis Wepman, forecast yesterday when he sang out to fellow prisoners in a detention cell:

"We're going to the chair. Where are you going?"

The deaths of Mr. and Mrs. William Fraden were listed for four months as suicide—although police were not entirely convinced.

Fraden, 20, and Wepman, 22, reportedly have admitted spiking champagne with cyanide and tricking the elder Fradens into toasting their only child with the swift and deadly potion last Aug. 19. Fraden staged the champagne celebration on the occasion of a false statement he had gone to work.

As the parents writhed in their death throes, Fraden allegedly finished them off by forcing raw poison down their throats.

Wepman claimed the motive was money — an inheritance young Fraden expected to get from his parents. It first was estimated at $150,000 but today the figure appeared to be about $96,000. Fraden ran through an estimated $50,000 before his arrest Wednesday.

Fingerprints are formed four months before birth and the pattern remains the same through life.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 18 (AP)—Formal indictments were drawn up today charging Franklin Roosevelt D'Alesandro, 20-year-old son of the mayor, with perjury and accusing James H. (Jack) Pollack with trying to obstruct justice.

Pollack, Baltimore political leader and associate of the mayor, and Young D'Alesandro were named in presentments recently.

The charge against young D'Alesandro stems from testimony at his trial on a morals charge. Pollack was charged with trying to influence testimony of others involved in the series of trials.

Labor Scoffs At Economist

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Labor organizations scoffed today at a contention by a U. S. Chamber economist that unions seem to have little to do with the amount of wages paid workers.

"Baloney," said the CIO News. "Yes, dear wage earners of America, there is a Santa Claus," said the AFL's weekly News-Reporter in a hooting article.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, the Chamber economic research director, set out his views in a Chamber publication last Monday. He said government statistics show the percentage of national income going to compensate employees was practically the same in 1952 as in 1936.

Schmidt also said "a competitive free market economy automatically passes into the hands of workers the gains of rising productivity."

The CIO News said, Dr. Schmidt knows better and so does every business man." It added: "Even if the proportion of labor's share of the national income has not changed, labor's share would have gone down if unions hadn't been out scrapping for wage increases."

West Powers Ready Plans For Possible Big 4 Parley

PARIS, Dec. 18 (AP)—If and when Russia decides to join in a Big Four foreign ministers conference in Berlin, the Western Powers intend to be ready with all the answers.

They proposed Dec. 8 that the conference start Jan. 4, a date now little more than two weeks off. The Russians have not yet replied. West German leaders in Bonn speculated today the Russians would suggest putting off the meeting until the second half of January.

But an Allied team of experts is working in Paris this week to prepare Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault to deal with any issue the Russians might introduce.

This means the three Western governments, in addition to drafting detailed proposals for unification of Germany and an independence treaty for Austria, are attempting to anticipate Kremlin moves in other fields.

The experts are headed by Douglas MacArthur II of the United States, Sir Frank Roberts of Britain and Francois Seydoux of France.

The experts' current session actually is the fourth that has been held in preparation for projected four-power meetings on Germany's future. But it is the most painstaking yet and its scope has been broadened to take in such additional subjects as a five-power meeting including Communist China which Russia has proposed and which the Big Three, answering from Bermuda, said might be discussed at Berlin.

The experts' first task is to draft detailed and precise proposals indorsed by all three of their governments for the machinery of reuniting Germany—the time and exact system of free elections in both East and West zones, the method of choosing a provisional government based on those elections and all the other steps that will have to be taken.

No New Atom Tests Planned

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Dec. 18 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today it has no plans for nuclear tests during this winter or spring at the nearby Nevada proving ground.

The statement by manager Seth R. Woodruff of the local AEC field office was in response to a newsman's query.

After the last in a series of 11 test explosions the AEC said only that the final shot had ended any need of additional tests this year.

The fact that no activity is scheduled at this continental test site in the near future was taken by observers here as a hint that a new series at the mid-Pacific proving grounds in the Marshall Islands is likely.

Byrd Ends Doubts, Files As Governor Candidate

Retiring President Of State University Is Second Contender

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 18 (AP)—Dr. H. C. Byrd ended all doubts today and filed as a candidate for governor.

The retiring president of the University of Maryland said he did so to squash "false impressions" that he might not really run.

He signed a certificate of candidacy and the state's anti-subversive oath and left a check for $270 at the Secretary of State's office late this afternoon.

Thus the 64-year-old Eastern Shoreman who built the University of Maryland into one of the nation's largest institutions of higher education formally entered the political battlefield.

Identified With Politics

He has long been identified with state politics but not until now as a candidate.

He had asked the university's Board of Regents last June to find a successor. He said he wanted to be free to step out after 18 years as president by January of 1955. In that month the next governor will take office.

Byrd did little or nothing to stifle conjecture that he at last intended to run for the statehouse, a goal often discussed in political speculation for the white-haired educator. But not until today did he definitely confirm his ambition.

He became the second official contender for the Democratic nomination. George P. Mahoney, Baltimore contractor, who tried in 1950, filed earlier this month.

Mayor D'Alesandro of Baltimore has announced his candidacy but has not yet signed the necessary papers.

Byrd's formal entry was delayed while he hunted a notary public. Once his certificate was stamped he spent only a few minutes in the statehouse and then drove off to College Park.

Answers Impressions

He said his filing was "the answer to the false impressions that some persons have been disseminating that I would never file and would not run.

"In order that these empressions should not any longer be given credence by anybody, I decided not to wait until Jan. 2 but to file today."

Byrd and the university Board of Regents had agreed informally that he would not actively seek office until after the first of the year. Just this week the regents announced that Dr. T. B. Symons, former dean of agriculture, would be called out of retirement to serve as temporary president until a permanent successor to Byrd could be found.

Group To Back GOP Candidates Who Favor Ike

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The National Citizens-for-Eisenhower congressional committee is planning to back pro-Ike Republican candidates in "80 to 90" marginal districts in the 1954 congressional elections.

This was made known today by William R. Haley, secretary of the group, in the wake of a luncheon given by Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the Studebaker Corp., who was a leading organizer of the successful campaign to win the 1952 Republican presidential nomination for Eisenhower. Hoffman was first head of the rich Ford Foundation.

Haley said the citizens committee will make its appeal to independents and Democrats who helped elect Eisenhower.

In an interview, Haley said the new committee will not take part in the 1954 primaries but will concentrate on 80 to 90 congressional districts. These will be districts that went Republican or Democratic by a narrow margin—say 5 per cent or less—in 1952, and where the GOP candidates next year generally back Eisenhower policies.

He made clear the committee won't be active in behalf of GOP congressmen from marginal districts who make a record of opposition to Eisenhower policies.

But Haley said the committee hasn't yet singled out any present House members or senators for support "and probably will not until after the President's State of the Union speech and we get the reactions to it from Congress."

Thief Erred When He Took Woman's Auto

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Women are a relentless species, as any man knows. Take, for example, Mrs. Dolores McClosky, 22.

She heard the family car early one morning outside her 20th St. apartment and looked out the window in time to see a thief drive it away.

Without waiting to put on a coat, Mrs. McClosky hit the street running and grabbed a cab. She trailed her car block after block as it twisted and turned and ran red lights in lower Manhattan.

Finally, the thief abandoned the car. Mrs. McClosky called police while the cab driver followed the thief.

The police joined Mrs. McClosky and it took them only a few minutes to find their quarry. He was walking along the street with the cab trailing him like a bird dog.

After he was booked, Mrs. McClosky suddenly remembered her husband, Joseph, and her 4-months-old daughter, Susan. As she bade the cops adieu, the relentless Mrs. McClosky told them:

"I've got to get home. Joe doesn't know how to take care of the baby."

Missing Money Still Mystery As Killers Die

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—The Greenlease kidnap-killers died in Missouri's gas chamber early today talking calmly to each other but they left behind the enigma of what happened to half the record $600,000 ransom.

Right to the end officials had hoped Carl Austin Hall, the 34-year-old heir to a $200,000 fortune, would give them a lead to the missing $300,000—the last remaining mystery of the shocking kidnap-killing of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease Sept. 28.

But at the end, just before the gas chamber door closed, Hall and his 41-year-old divorced alcholic mistress only shook their heads when acting U.S. Marshal William B. Tatman asked if they had any last words.

They spent their last 10 minutes together in the chamber's detention cell before being led blindfolded the few feet into the lethal tank itself.

They sat on a cot, handcuffed together—Carl smoking a cigarette. He leaned over and gave Bonnie a puff. They held hands, embraced and a few minutes later went to their deaths as impassively as they had whiled away the time since they were "dressed in" at the state prison Nov. 20.

They talked as two lovers would, even as the deadly cyanide powder was dropped into the acid in receptacles beneath their chairs, less than two feet apart.

It was 12:02 a.m. when Warden Ralph N. Eidson tripped the lever, releasing the deadly gas. They were unconscious almost at once. Twelve minutes later Carl was dead. It took two minutes more for Bonnie. Dr. G. Donald Shull said her breathing lasted longer than any convict he had seen die in the chamber.

Thus the pair paid in record speed for punishment under the Lindbergh kidnaping law. It had been just 81 days since Mrs. Heady, posing as his aunt, abducted little Bobby from an exclusive Roman Catholic school in Kansas City.

The condemned themselves made swift justice possible. They pleaded guilty, then waived all rights of appeal after they had been sentenced to death.

Clergymen who talked to the couple said they died completely reconciled and "ready to meet their Almighty God."

Mrs. Heady's body was taken to Maryville, Mo. to await burial tomorrow in the family plot in the cemetery at Clearmont, Mo., her childhood home.

Hall's body still lay in a Jefferson City funeral home. Marshall K. Hoag of Pleasanton, Kan., an attorney and lifelong friend of the Hall family, claimed Hall's body. He refused to say where the burial would be but the kidnap-killer's parents are buried at Pleasanton.

Church Is Damaged By $25,000 Blaze

GLEN BURNIE, Md., Dec. 18 (AP)—Damage was estimated at $25,000 today in an early morning fire that hit the sanctuary, altar, Sunday School rooms and other facilities of the Glen Burnie Baptist Church located on Crain highway.

The Glen Burnie and Marley Creek fire companies answered the call and were hampered when ice formed about the area from hose streams.

Prince George Fires County Police Chief

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Dec. 18 (AP)—Prince Georges County commissioners by a 3-2 vote today fired county Police Chief F. Allen Richards.

Richards was suspended a week ago on charges of personal misconduct and misuse of county equipment.

Youth Is Sentenced In Defraud Attempt

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 18 (AP)—A Sedalia, Mo., youth who tried to sell purported information to the Robert C. Greenlease family about the missing Bobby Greenlease ransome money, was given a three-year suspended sentence today in federal district court.

Benny Bruce Hatfield, 18, pleaded guilty Dec. 4 to a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Isabella King Succumbs At 67

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 18 (AP)—Isabella Greenway King, a friend of presidents and the only woman ever elected to Congress from Arizona, died today at the age of 67. She had been ill for a year.

Before her election to the House of Representatives in 1934, she served six years as Arizona national committeewoman.

Pair Indicted In Poison Deaths

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Harlow Fraden, a poetic wastrel, was indicted with a weak-willed chum today for first degree murder in the champagne toast of death slaying of his parents.

Thus the state moved swiftly to convict them and get a mandatory sentence of death—a fate Fraden's companion, Dennis Wepman, forecast yesterday when he sang out to fellow prisoners in a detention cell:

"We're going to the chair. Where are you going?"

The deaths of Mr. and Mrs. William Fraden were listed for four months as suicide—although police were not entirely convinced.

Fraden, 20, and Wepman, 22, reportedly have admitted spiking champagne with cyanide and tricking the elder Fradens into toasting their only child with the swift and deadly potion last Aug. 19. Fraden staged the champagne celebration on the occasion of a false statement he had gone to work.

As the parents writhed in their death throes, Fraden allegedly finished them off by forcing raw poison down their throats.

Wepman claimed the motive was money — an inheritance young Fraden expected to get from his parents. It first was estimated at $150,000 but today the figure appeared to be about $96,000. Fraden ran through an estimated $50,000 before his arrest Wednesday.

Fingerprints are formed four months before birth and the pattern remains the same through life.

Ike And Mamie Mail Out Simple Christmas Cards

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower mailed their Christmas cards today.

On the front is the presidential seal, embossed and in white.

Below the seal, in gold Old English letters, are the words "Seasons Greetings."

The message inside, in black and white script engraving, reads:

"The President and Mrs. Eisenhower extend their best wishes for Christmas and the New Year."

D'Alesandro's Son Indicted For Perjury

BALTIMORE, Dec. 18 (AP)—Formal indictments were drawn up today charging Franklin Roosevelt D'Alesandro, 20-year-old son of the mayor, with perjury and accusing James H. (Jack) Pollack with trying to obstruct justice.

Pollack, Baltimore political leader and associate of the mayor, and Young D'Alesandro were named in presentments recently.

The charge against young D'Alesandro stems from testimony at his trial on a morals charge. Pollack was charged with trying to influence testimony of others involved in the series of trials.

Middies Sing Carols

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 18 — The brigade of 3,600 midshipmen at the Naval Academy winds up Christmas festivities here tonight with carol singing before departing for a two-week holiday tomorrow at noon.

Labor Scoffs At Economist

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Labor organizations scoffed today at a contention by a U. S. Chamber economist that unions seem to have little to do with the amount of wages paid workers.

"Baloney," said the CIO News.

"Yes, dear wage earners of America, there is a Santa Claus," said the AFL's weekly News-Reporter in a hooting article.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, the Chamber economic research director, set out his views in a Chamber publication last Monday. He said government statistics show the percentage of national income going to compensate employees was practically the same in 1952 as in 1936.

Schmidt also said "a competitive free market economy automatically passes into the hands of workers the gains of rising productivity."

The CIO News said, Dr. Schmidt knows better and so does every business man." It added: "Even if the proportion of labor's share of the national income has not changed, labor's share would have gone down if unions hadn't been out scrapping for wage increases."

West Powers Ready Plans For Possible Big 4 Parley

PARIS, Dec. 18 (AP)—If and when Russia decides to join in a Big Four foreign ministers conference in Berlin, the Western Powers intend to be ready with all the answers.

They proposed Dec. 8 that the conference start Jan. 4, a date now little more than two weeks off. The Russians have not yet replied. West German leaders in Bonn speculated today the Russians would suggest putting off the meeting until the second half of January.

But an Allied team of experts is working in Paris this week to prepare Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault to deal with any issue the Russians might introduce.

This means the three Western governments, in addition to drafting detailed proposals for unification of Germany and an independence treaty for Austria, are attempting to anticipate Kremlin moves in other fields.

The experts are headed by Douglas MacArthur II of the United States, Sir Frank Roberts of Britain and Francois Seydoux of France.

The experts' current session actually is the fourth that has been held in preparation for projected four-power meetings on Germany's future. But it is the most painstaking yet and its scope has been broadened to take in such additional subjects as a five-power meeting including Communist China which Russia has proposed and which the Big Three, answering from Bermuda, said might be discussed at Berlin.

The experts' first task is to draft detailed and precise proposals indorsed by all three of their governments for the machinery of reuniting Germany—the time and exact system of free elections in both East and West zones, the method of choosing a provisional government based on those elections and all the other steps that will have to be taken.

No New Atom Tests Planned

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Dec. 18 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today it has no plans for nuclear tests during this winter or spring at the nearby Nevada proving ground.

The statement by manager Seth R. Woodruff of the local AEC field office was in response to a newsman's query.

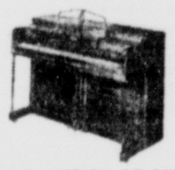

After the last in a series of 11 test explosions the AEC said only that the final shot had ended any need of additional tests this year.

The fact that no activity is scheduled at this continental test site in the near future was taken by observers here as a hint that a new series at the mid-Pacific proving grounds in the Marshall Islands is likely.

3½ Million Pounds Of Turkey For GIs

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—A total of 3½ million pounds of turkey has been purchased by the Army quartermaster corps for Christmas and New Year dinners in the armed forces, the Department of Defense announced today. Most of the turkey required for overseas forces has already been shipped.

North End Tank Work Progresses

Work on the North End water tank is approaching the final stages, according to a report yesterday by William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and electric light.

Welding of the tank will be completed within a day or two and progress is being made in other phases of the project.

The Fire Department will cooperate in testing the 75,000-gallon tank for leaks.

Final interior and exterior painting will follow, but the inside paint, a special colorless and tasteless preservative, cannot be applied until the temperature rises to at least 48 degrees.

Pumps, motors, and electrical controls are in the shop, being cleaned and checked, and the pump house which will shelter the equipment has been completed.

Excavation for the supply line, which must be cut up to 10 feet in shale, is underway.

Plans are being made to install a pressure regulator in the line leading from the tank.

Gephart PTA Plans Purchase Of Projector

The Parent-Teacher Association of Gephart School has voted to purchase a new film projector for the school. Following the meeting, a musical program was presented by W. Valgene Routch, supervisor of music in Allegany County schools, and Mrs. Routch.

Instead of the usual jingle party, members of the unit contributed food parcels, which will be distributed to the needy for Christmas. Refreshments were served.

Church Planning Yule Program

The First Presbyterian Church School will present a Christmas program tomorrow at 7 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall. The program will include:

"The Little Child of Christmas," junior department; "Song Over the World," a pageant by the junior and senior high departments with Mrs. John Sower, Mrs. Peter Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison, Samuel Swayne, Billy Long, Victor Reuschlein, Offutt Johnson, Shirley Turley, Grace Facci, Linda Linthicum, Bertha Jean Duke, Suzzane Ervin, Susan Bell, Jack Tosh, Patty Brown, Peter Smith, Robert Moffatt, John Stallings, Jack Chappell, Billy Frey, Ralph Wilson, Earnest Slonaker, and others taking part.

A gift from Korea will be opened and a treat will be distributed. Jon DeHart and Billy Chappell have arranged the stage setting.

Conlon Elected Head Of Young Democrats

Thomas F. Conlon Jr., this city, was elected president of the Young Democrats of Allegany County at a meeting Thursday night in the Herman Room at the Queen City Brewery.

Conlon served during the past year as treasurer. He succeeds William Kelly of Lonaconing, a vice president who was acting president after the president, John P. Mackey, moved to Arizona several months ago.

Other officers elected last night were William B. Orndorff, this city, first vice president; William Walsh, this city, second vice president; Anne B. Everline, this city, secretary, and Harold Frankhouser, Cresaptown, treasurer.

Mrs. Everline was re-elected. As one of the Allegany County club's seven delegates to the state convention of the Young Democrats of Maryland, she gave an official report of the sessions.

Members discussed the Democratic workshop, the political school being conducted by party leaders throughout the state.

Five District Men Join Armed Forces

Five area men were enlisted in the armed forces this week, according to Sfc Donald S. Barron, local recruiter.

Verle DeWitt, Mt. Lake Park, was re-enlisted in the Air Force from the Navy for four years and was sent to Bolling Air Force Base for re-assignment.

Four other men were enlisted in the Regular Army for three years each and were sent to Fort George G. Meade for processing. They are:

Kenneth L. Welch, Elk Garden, W. Va.; Joseph L. Braller and Charles E. Reffner, both of Everett, Pa., and Paul D. Sparks, Hopewell, Pa.

Major Doak Gets New Assignment

Major Robert L. Doak, formerly of Cumberland, has been assigned to Third Army Headquarters at Fort McPherson, Georgia, as Assistant Chief of the Personnel Management Division of G-1 (Personnel) Section.

Major Doak, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson H. Doak, 517 Memorial Avenue, recently returned from a tour of duty in Korea, where he served with the Military Armistice Commission in Munsan-Ni. He has also served in Korea with the 40th Infantry Division and in the European Theater of Operations in 1944 with the 8th Infantry Division.

A 1935 graduate of Fort Hill High School and a former student at Potomac State School, Keyser, Major Doak entered the Army in 1941.

Foresters Receive Training

Personnel of the State Department of Forests and Parks from Allegany and Garrett counties attended a state-wide training session Thursday at Hollifield in Baltimore County.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said the main part of the training program concerned methods of handling large fires and the organization work needed to keep large numbers of fire fighters in the field.

A mock fire was staged in the Patapsco State Forest nearby with a team of veteran foresters demonstrating procedures to be followed in forest fires of the "disaster" type, Johnson said. One of the demonstrators was Jack Paulhamus, assistant forester for Garrett County.

Distribution of personnel in the field and feeding of these men while they are on duty was demonstrated. Proper use of equipment in battling fires was also shown.

Attending the meeting besides Johnson and Paulhamus were Harry Hartman, assistant forester; George Brown, Thomas Dixon, and William Slider, forest guards, all of Allegany County; Elmer Upole, senior forest supervisor; Thomas Thayer, assistant forester; Charles Thomas, Richard Bond, Floyd Custer and Merrill Wilt, forest guards, all of Garrett County.

Ralph Witt, supervisor of the Green Ridge State Forest, also attended. H. C. Buckingham, state forester, presided.

North End Tank Work Progresses

Work on the North End water tank is approaching the final stages, according to a report yesterday by William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and electric light.

Welding of the tank will be completed within a day or two and progress is being made in other phases of the project.

The Fire Department will cooperate in testing the 75,000-gallon tank for leaks.

Final interior and exterior painting will follow, but the inside paint, a special colorless and tasteless preservative, cannot be applied until the temperature rises to at least 48 degrees.

Pumps, motors, and electrical controls are in the shop, being cleaned and checked, and the pump house which will shelter the equipment has been completed.

Excavation for the supply line, which must be cut up to 10 feet in shale, is underway.

Plans are being made to install a pressure regulator in the line leading from the tank.

Gephart PTA Plans Purchase Of Projector

The Parent-Teacher Association of Gephart School has voted to purchase a new film projector for the school. Following the meeting, a musical program was presented by W. Valgene Routch, supervisor of music in Allegany County schools, and Mrs. Routch.

Instead of the usual jingle party, members of the unit contributed food parcels, which will be distributed to the needy for Christmas. Refreshments were served.

Church Planning Yule Program

The First Presbyterian Church School will present a Christmas program tomorrow at 7 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall. The program will include:

Carols, orchestra; "Away in the Manger" and "In a Tiny Manger," nursery department; rythm band, song, and recitations by the kindergarten department; "A Christmas Alphabet," "I'm Glad It's Christmas," "Trimming the Christmas Tree," and "God Made the Christmas Tree," primary department.

"The Little Child of Christmas," junior department; "Song Over the World," a pageant by the junior and senior high departments with Mrs. John Sower, Mrs. Peter Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison, Samuel Swayne, Billy Long, Victor Reuschlein, Offutt Johnson, Shirley Turley, Grace Facci, Linda Linthicum, Bertha Jean Duke, Suzzane Ervin, Susan Bell, Jack Tosh, Patty Brown, Peter Smith, Robert Moffatt, John Stallings, Jack Chappell, Billy Frey, Ralph Wilson, Earnest Slonaker, and others taking part.

A gift from Korea will be opened and a treat will be distributed. Jon DeHart and Billy Chappell have arranged the stage setting.

Five District Men Join Armed Forces

Five area men were enlisted in the armed forces this week, according to Sfc Donald S. Barron, local recruiter.

Verle DeWitt, Mt. Lake Park, was re-enlisted in the Air Force from the Navy for four years and was sent to Bolling Air Force Base for re-assignment.

Four other men were enlisted in the Regular Army for three years each and were sent to Fort George G. Meade for processing. They are:

Kenneth L. Welch, Elk Garden, W. Va.; Joseph L. Braller and Charles E. Reffner, both of Everett, Pa., and Paul D. Sparks, Hopewell, Pa.

Major Robert L. Doak, formerly of Cumberland, has been assigned to Third Army Headquarters at Fort McPherson, Georgia, as Assistant Chief of the Personnel Management Division of G-1 (Personnel) Section.

Major Doak, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson H. Doak, 517 Memorial Avenue, recently returned from a tour of duty in Korea, where he served with the Military Armistice Commission in Munsan-Ni. He has also served in Korea with the 40th Infantry Division and in the European Theater of Operations in 1944 with the 8th Infantry Division.

A 1935 graduate of Fort Hill High School and a former student at Potomac State School, Keyser, Major Doak entered the Army in 1941.

Conlon Elected Head Of Young Democrats

Thomas F. Conlon Jr., this city, was elected president of the Young Democrats of Allegany County at a meeting Thursday night in the Herman Room at the Queen City Brewery.

Conlon served during the past year as treasurer. He succeeds William Kelly of Lonaconing, a vice president who was acting president after the president, John P. Mackey, moved to Arizona several months ago.

Other officers elected last night were William B. Orndorff, this city, first vice president; William Walsh, this city, second vice president; Anne B. Everline, this city, secretary, and Harold Frankhouser, Cresaptown, treasurer.

Mrs. Everline was re-elected. As one of the Allegany County club's seven delegates to the state convention of the Young Democrats of Maryland, she gave an official report of the sessions.

Members discussed the Democratic workshop, the political school being conducted by party leaders throughout the state.

Foresters Receive Training

Personnel of the State Department of Forests and Parks from Allegany and Garrett counties attended a state-wide training session Thursday at Hollifield in Baltimore County.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said the main part of the training program concerned methods of handling large fires and the organization work needed to keep large numbers of fire fighters in the field.

A mock fire was staged in the Patapsco State Forest nearby with a team of veteran foresters demonstrating procedures to be followed in forest fires of the "disaster" type, Johnson said. One of the demonstrators was Jack Paulhamus, assistant forester for Garrett County.

Distribution of personnel in the field and feeding of these men while they are on duty was demonstrated. Proper use of equipment in battling fires was also shown.

Attending the meeting besides Johnson and Paulhamus were Harry Hartman, assistant forester; George Brown, Thomas Dixon, and William Slider, forest guards, all of Allegany County; Elmer Upole, senior forest supervisor; Thomas Thayer, assistant forester; Charles Thomas, Richard Bond, Floyd Custer and Merrill Wilt, forest guards, all of Garrett County.

Ralph Witt, supervisor of the Green Ridge State Forest, also attended. H. C. Buckingham, state forester, presided.

Serious Consideration Due

While the United States, the United Nations, and the rest of the world awaited Soviet Russia's reply to the atomic energy proposals placed by President Eisenhower before the U.N. General Assembly on December 8, steps for working out the "Eisenhower proposals" were being studied. The State Department said on December 11 that the next move "is under consideration now and it is impossible to tell what form it may take."

Moscow radio on December 12 quoted Foreign Minister Molotov as promising that "serious attention" would be given to the Eisenhower speech. The Soviets' mistake on a similar broad U. S. proposal—the Marshall Plan in 1947—ought to induce them to consider the present plan seriously.

If the Marshall Plan can be viewed as a major stride toward knitting together a Western European anti-Communist coalition of nations, much of the credit must go to Soviet procedure after that plan had been broached. Soviet foreign experts could hardly plead with accuracy that they were caught unprepared in 1947. Secretary of State Marshall's commencement address at Harvard University on June 5 had been foreshadowed by a speech from Under Secretary Acheson at Cleveland, Miss., almost a month earlier.

The United States, Acheson had declared, must "push ahead with the reconstruction of those two great workshops of Europe and Asia—Germany and Japan," without waiting for Big Four agreement. The proposal made at Harvard by Marshall was only slightly more detailed:

"It would be neither fitting nor efficacious for this government to undertake to draw up unilaterally a program designed to place Europe on its feet economically. . . . The initiative, I think, must come from Europe. The role of this country should consist of friendly aid in the drafting of a European program and of later support of such a program so far as it may be practical for us to do so. The program should be a joint one, agreed to by a number, if not all, European nations." (On June 12 Marshall specifically included Soviet Russia among the nations invited to participate.)

The "initiative" was not long in coming. Foreign Minister Bevin on June 13 announced Great Britain's enthusiastic support. Until then Marshall's "plan" had occasioned little comment in the United States; it was soon to arouse vigorous opposition from the left-wing supporters of former Vice President Wallace.

Britain and France then invited Russia to discuss the plan at a Paris conference. The meeting, at which the United States was not represented, broke up on July 2, with Molotov rejecting in entirety an Anglo-French proposal for an overall economic program for Europe. Said Molotov: "The European countries would find themselves placed under control and would lose their former economic and national independence because it so pleases certain strong powers."

Nevertheless, Bevin and Foreign Minister Bidault of France invited 22 European nations to attend a further conference. Included among Soviet-dominated countries were Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Hungary, Poland, Romania, and Yugoslavia. On July 7, Czechoslovakia announced that it would be represented at the conference, but three days later, after Premier Gottwald had talked with Stalin in Moscow, Czechoslovakia reversed its stand. Russia and its satellites had "included themselves out," thereby losing a good chance to hamstring the Marshall Plan.

Carriers Not Obsolete

The U. S. Navy, through its experience back in the '20s and under the pressure of World War II, wrote the book which is the doctrine today for adapting aircraft for use at sea. No other nation brought carrier operations to such a fine edge of performance. To the recorded history of sea strategy, this is America's one clear cut contribution.

It may be somewhat of a shock to rabid Navy partisans to learn that others can get good ideas, too. The proof was the demonstration in Philadelphia the other morning of a new catapult launching device which will greatly increase the efficiency of U. S. carriers in handling jet planes.

The device, a steam catapult, was invented by a British naval reserve officer. It will be installed in all U. S. carriers.

Heretofore the Navy has used what it called a "reeved cables" system of catapult launching. Before the advent of jet fighters, carrier flight decks were sufficient for takeoff. But jets gather speed too slowly, so it was either a case of building mammoth floating runways or depending on catapults.

U. S. naval observers first discovered the efficiency of the British steam catapult during joint naval exercises in European waters several years ago. American engineers made a few changes. The commissioning of the first model took place at the Navy's air development center at Philadelphia. A jet and propeller powered plane were shot into the air before a group of dignitaries.

Carriers aren't obsolete, strategically, and the Navy has assembled a family of excellent jet fighters for attack and interceptor jobs. Any device which speeds up the involved task of launching these planes at a faster clip is a tremendous boost to the potency of carrier operations.

Sharing Christmas

As the number of pre-Christmas shopping days becomes smaller and smaller, the average family in comfortable circumstances is keenly interested in buying presents for the happy event. Not only the elders, but also the children, are concerned.

It is a period of whispered conferences, with even the youngsters planning with great care what they shall buy with their own money for parents and one another. Happy surprise on Christmas is the aim of all.

But the spirit of the holiday season should and does for many extend their own family circles. These realize that even in a period of peak prosperity there are families in genuine distress, perhaps in danger of being broken up, to whom a lack of aid at this time would make the period of normal gayety drearier than any other by contrast.

Those who are moved to share with the less fortunate will find their own Christmas satisfaction all the keener.

How To Keep Well

A Butterfly On The Face

Last year we reported on the value of ACTH and cortisone in the treatment of that rare and bizarre condition, lupus erythematosus (er-y-the-ma-to-sus). This was encouraging news because up to that time there was no effective remedy for certain forms of the disorder. Meanwhile, however, physicians discovered that our modern anti-malarial drugs, such as atabrine, are capable of doing a better job. Various reports have noted "great improvement in 19 of 23 cases" and "good to excellent results in 13 of 17 cases."

Lupus erythematosus is one of the many collagen diseases. Rheumatoid arthritis, rheumatic fever, periarteritis nodosa, and scleroderma are included also in this group of maladies. Collagen is the material that binds the cells of the body in much the same way as cement holds bricks together. The material exists everywhere in the body and this is the reason why collagen diseases can involve so many different organs and structures. It is generally believed that victims of lupus erythematosus are overly sensitive to certain chemical substances including the proteins in bacterial toxins, serums, penicillin, the sulfonamides, iodides, and the foods eaten. But this is not the last word on the causative factors.

During the last two years physicians have found an easier way to diagnose the ailment, and so many new cases have been uncovered that lupus erythematosus is no longer considered a rare ailment. The test consists of a thoro study of the blood and bone marrow for abnormal leucocytes known as L. E. cells. Removing a piece of suspected tissue and analyzing it in the laboratory is another diagnostic aid.

Lupus erythematosus is manifested in many ways. In the chronic discoid type symptoms are mainly on the surface. The eruption usually begins on the bridge of the nose and spreads to both cheeks to produce the typical butterfly pattern. The edges of the lesions are red and covered with silvery-white scales and the center is lighter in color. Similar patches may develop elsewhere on the body.

The systemic type of lupus erythematosus is more widespread in distribution. In addition to the skin rash, many sufferers encounter chest pain, difficulty in breathing, and sore joints. They are tired and weak and lose weight. A slight elevation in temperature often adds to discomfort.

The best results with atabrine were noted in the chronic discoid form, whereas ACTH or cortisone is more effective in the systemic variety. Not enough time has elapsed to evaluate the effect of atabrine in the latter group altho a few reports have appeared describing the beneficial aspects of the drug. A combination of atabrine and ACTH or cortisone also is being tried.

DELAYED MANIFESTATION

J. C. writes: What type of heart trouble results in a person in his sixties from an unrecognized attack of rheumatic fever in childhood?

REPLY

Individuals who have had rheumatic fever in childhood and develop leakage of the heart may live to be 60 or older. When they reach this age they also are susceptible to the type of heart disease that results from hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure.

ANTIBIOTIC-RESISTANT GERMS

L. M. G. writes: When a person has taken repeated doses of penicillin and becomes immune to the drug, will aureomycin or terramycin kill the germs?

REPLY

It is the bacteria and not the individual that becomes immune. For example, when penicillin fails to cure pneumonia because the germs are resistant to the medication, the physician suggests another antibiotic.

OVERSIZED HEART

B. A. writes: Can an enlarged heart be reduced to normal size?

REPLY

This depends upon whether the cause can be remedied For example, when the heart enlarges as a result of an overactive thyroid gland, it will return to normal when the thyroid is removed or brought under control with medicine. The same occurs occasionally when enlargement is due to high blood pressure and the tension is relieved through diet or medication.

RECTAL BLEEDING

M. N. writes: Is bleeding with nearly every movement serious?

REPLY

The cause of bleeding should always be investigated because it may mean cancer.

EXERCISE IN BACKACHE

D. W. writes: Does exercise help or retard recovery from sacroiliac strain?

REPLY

Strain usually is relieved with rest, but there is a limit to how long a person can rest. Consequently, when pain subsides, graduated exercises are in order to help strengthen muscles. Should pain recur, exercise must be discontinued because at this stage it will aggravate rather than improve the condition of the strained joint.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Reds Threaten New Attack In Korea; Dean Flies Home To Warn Of New Korean Dangers; Syngman Rhee May Renew Hostilities After January 22

WASHINGTON — Inside reason for Arthur Dean's dramatic flight from Korea to Washington was to carry an urgent warning to President Eisenhower that the Korean War will erupt wide open again unless some drastic decisions are made by January 22. Dean, who is John Foster Dulles' law partner, abruptly broke off haggling with the Communists and flew straight to Washington to report to the President. State Department expert Kenneth Young was left behind to keep a foot in the door in case the Communists change their minds.

Meanwhile, Dean has warned Washington in blunt terms that the Korean truce is threatened by two ominous storm clouds:

1. The Communists reportedly will resist with force if the U. S. goes ahead with its pledge to release on January 22 the 22,000 Red prisoners who still refuse to be repatriated.

2. Stubborn South Korean President Syngman Rhee won't be talked out of launching his own offensive against North Korea if a peace conference hasn't been called by January 22.

Dean has based his warning partly on an incident occurring between the Communists and Indian guards. The Reds informed the Indians they planned to attack if the 22,000 Red prisoners who refuse to go home are released. The Communists further offered the Indian safe withdrawal into North Korea.

As a result, the alarmed Indians have asked both sides to present written statements on what they intend to do if the prisoner explanation program is still bogged down on January 22.

No "Gas" To Rhee

U. S. commanders have become so worried that restless, cantankerous, 78-year-old Syngman Rhee may strike across the 38th Parallel with ROK troops, that they have actually rationed Rhee's gasoline supply. However, Rhee's rugged troops can walk to war as easily as ride, and the implacable South Korean leaders could light the fuse to the Korean powder keg at any moment.

Everyone from President Eisenhower on down has pleaded with Rhee. He has indicated that he would give a peace conference time to operate once it got started, but he demanded that it get started by January 27.

Meanwhile, U. S.-Korean negotiators for a peace conference are not too far apart. Only major stumble-block, Dean reports, is whether Russia shall attend as a neutral or a belligerent. So far, the U. S. has flatly refused to allow Russia to play the role of a neutral.

O'Konski Rents From O'Konski

Good old Congressman O'Konski of Wisconsin has found a new way to take a little more money from the taxpayers. And it's all proper and legal. He does it by renting office space in his own radio station and letting Uncle Sam pay for it.

Congressmen are permitted $75 from the government to rent office space in their home districts—if there's no space available in a federal building.

With no federal building space available in his area, the congressman from Wisconsin rented office space in Radio Station WLIN in Merrill, Wis.

And who owns WLIN? None other than Congressman O'Konski. Thus Uncle Sam pays Congressman O'Konski, who in turn pays radio station owner O'Konski, and Mr. O'Konski is $75 to the good.

Headlines And Footnotes

CIO leaders tried to drum up a debate between the chief economic advisers of the Eisenhower and Truman administrations. The CIO invited Dr. Arthur Burns, Ike's top economist, to discuss economic issues with Leon Keyserling, Truman's ex-consultant. Dr. Burns declined . . . West Germany is waiting for the go-ahead to launch its last week on a mission to help the first time since the war, the Germans will be permitted to mine uranium—but only nine tons annually . . . Senator McCarthy is sore about Allied trade with Red China. However, Japanese firms, with our okay, are now trading, not only with Red China but also North Korea . . . Egypt's deposed King Farouk has hired a battery of international lawyers to block a $15,000,000 auction of his personal goods in Egypt, including pictures of scantily draped females. Farouk is buying ads in the world press warning foreign buyers to keep hands off his former possessions or risk legal action . . . Meanwhile, Egyptian Premier Naguib has been bringing pressure upon the Italian government to declare Farouk persona non grata and force him to leave Italy, in hopes he will get as far away from Egypt as possible . . . Gerald L. K. Smith, the apostle of hat, slipped into Washington last week on a missio nto help Senator McCarthy. Smith also held a secret meeting at the Statler Hotel, admitting only those who carried letters signed by himself. This column got hold of a letter and sent a representative to the meeting. Smith spent the whole time ranting against Eisenhower, Jews and Negroes, and praising Senator McCarthy. He wants a new anti-Jewish party, headed by McCarthy . . . Incidentally, McCarthy's appeal for letters to the President flopped so badly that the White House has lost some of its fear of McCarthy's political pulling power.

These Days

By GEORGE E SOKOLSKY

Television And News

At home, I listen to the radio but I practically never look at television. The program that suits my tastes most adequately is called "Music through the Night," which commences at 1 a. m. and runs on until six or seven o'clock in the morning. Most often I read during part of that period and have the radio on, thus far without complaint from the family or the neighbors.

The other day, in Chicago, I awoke at a proletarian hour and having no radio, I turned on television. I do not recall which network produced what I saw but I stuck to it while I breakfasted and read the newspapers and dressed, just to see what they did. It was not so good, particularly at breakfast when one's soul needs to be at peace.

Apparently they play the same show over and over again. I am sure I saw it at least two and a half times before I cut it off. A tired-looking man was trying so hard to be funny at that unfunny hour of the morning. He had some girls there who, he said, had stayed up all night just to be on this show. They did not look like gals who had been up all night, after a day of hard work. There was not a haggard line in the lot. Besides, what they said and did on this television show was so banal that they could have gone to bed without loss to anybody.

A monkey came on the act. What does a monkey do on an act? It scratches itself. That's what this monkey did. After watching him for a while, I got itchy myself Fortunately the monkey was taken away. Somebody was put on to give the news. I had already read the news the night before. Also in the morning newspapers. Maybe some people do not read and only get what they have by ear. It is a way of living but I am sure that I cannot learn anything by bulletins and short takes and a fellow reading from paste-ups.

Then to have the same thing repeated like a nickel-in-the-slot machine performance was too much.

Naturally, the commercials were numerous, prolonged, uninteresting and a deterent to enjoyment. Advertisements in a newspaper can be taken or left at will. If you refuse to read them, nobody can sue you. My wife reads the ads before she reads the news. It is a matter of taste. She says that ads are news — for her. I only earn the money; she spends it. So she needs to have somebody tell her how to spend it.

But these commercials on television come up suddenly, in the middle of something. If you don't want to listen to them, you have to get up, walk across the room, turn the darn thing off until you calculate the jingles are dead. Then you walk some more, turn it on, and get caught with beer or spaghetti or something.

During the newspaper strike in New York, I was astonished that both radio and television lacked the initiative to set up a news service that would supply the community's need. I listened every day for a week to the radio, having it on all the time. I got flashes, bulletins, some amateurish background, but it was inadequate.

The radio companies may say, with some justice, that they did not know how long the newspaper strike would last and that therefore they could not set up a complex news organization such as newspapers have. Furthermore, they have commitments which require them ot show particular serials about broken love to take care of soap, breakfast food and cigaret advertising. Also, they like to cater to all tastes, including those who have no taste. It is like the argument of the advertising agencies against sponsoring controversial persons on the ground that as many Democrats as Republicans smoke cigarets and for that matter, so do Socialists, Communists and even spies. Therefore, the best kind of person to have on the air is someone who is bland.

So, we go back to the newspapers, after this strike, with the sure knowledge that the printed word is here to stay and that radio and television, while they have their particular places, will never replace the newspaper as a means of recording the course of events.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower faces a problem in practical government which no amount of theory can solve. It is how to get a legislative program enacted that will redound to the credit and benefit of the Republicans who are up for election in the 1954 congressional campaign.

The theorists—among them the amateurs who have been telling the President it's just a little matter of freezing out "reactionaries" and going to the "left" or to the "liberal side"—talk as if a congressional election and a presidential campaign are one and the same thing.

Actually there is no sharply defined cleavage inside the Republican party which can be characterized as "left" and "right." There are some senators, for example, who are more conservative than others, but that's the situation inside the Democratic party, too.

Generalizations Are Out

The fact is that there can be no generalizations on a legislative program. There will be one line-up on amendments to the Taft-Hartley labor relations act and another line-up on increasing social security benefits. There's to be one kind of vote on a new farm program which, in line-up, will not resemble in the slightest the vote on increasing or diminishing economic aid abroad.

The fallacy in White House thinking—that is, the thinking of those who seem to pour their theories into the President's ears—seems to be that the President must assert his "leadership" by bludgeoning members of his party and threatening them with some form of reprisal if they don't toe the mark. The reprisals, for instance, would be the activities of a revived Citizens-for-Eisenhower movement, which would presumably go into the primaries to help punish Republican senators and representatives who had refused to be "rubber stamps."

The idea seems to be developing hereabouts that a president is a kind of benevolent dictator and that Congress is a sort of subordinate agency of the government which hasn't much knowledge about what the people want, anyhow. Omniscience is supposed to reside chiefly in the White House secretariat, which strives hard to give the impression that the Republican party as such is somehow without respectability and needs something called "liberalism" of the leftish sort to give it a majority at the polls.

The belief persists that Eisenhower can by some magic convert many of the Stevenson and Truman followers and make up for the loss of conservative votes—those who started out sponsoring Taft in early 1952. But, as the facts of political life and congressional reality come into view, it will be found that the Democrats who stuck by Stevenson and Truman for the most part cannot be weaned away. They are too far over to the "left" in the Northern states to be drawn away by a "pseudo-liberalism," as they call it. Just why a Democratic congressman should vote for all the Eisenhower programs and go before his constituency as a Democrat next time seems not to have occurred to those at the White House who are looking for Democratic votes in Congress to offset all Republican defections.

Purges Haven't Worked

Any attempt to force Republican members of Congress to swallow the whole Eisenhower program without crossing a "T" or dotting an "I" will be met with the same defeat that other presidents have encountered when they tried to bulldoze or "purge" members of their own party.

Mr. Eisenhower can try for the help of Democrats in Congress, but he would be better advised also to find the common denominator of Republican strength and mould his policies accordingly. For in an election year most of the opposition members of Congress will say they favor the "principle" but they want to see "certain amendments" adopted and if, as usually happens, these are not accepted by the administration in power, then its opponents will vote against the measure on final passage.

Bipartisan voting may be expected on labor legislation and on farm legislation but on not much else. On other questions, the Democratic party line-up is likely to hold tightly. Republican defections are probable because of local situations. A story is told about President Harding, who vetoed a soldier's bonus bill in the '20's and in conference with a Republican congressman urged him to uphold the veto, but back came this reply: "I'm sorry, Mr. President, I'd like to please you, but unfortunately you don't vote in my district."

That's the practical side of any presidential program of legislation, and it will decide the fate of the Eisenhower program, too. Public opinion throughout the United States in 531 districts still decides elections—not a few theorists in the Washington bureaucracy.

Christmas

What does Merry Christmas mean?
I've conned it o'er and o'er;
Is it an empty platitude—
A tiresome, Scrooge-like bore?

When Jesus left the land supernal
And came to this terrestrial ball,
The whole creation made obeisance
And he gave these radiant gifts to all:

Heaven is nearer
Earth is fairer
Skies are bluer
Love is sweeter
God is holier

Hearts are purer

In the glory of Bethlehem's cradle
Merry Christmas came to earth,
Mid mystic signs and wonders
Forthtelling the Messiah's birth.

Gifts For Sharing

Blessed spirit of Christmas!
End this age of sin and strife;
Teach mankind that brotherhood
Is the royal road of life.

There's no patent right to Christmas,
God's wondrous gifts are ours to share
With father, mother, sister, brother,
Friends and neighbors everywhere.
O Immanuel! Abide Thou with us,
Drive dull care and fear away,
Let the eerie shades of nightfall
Be harbingers of a better day.

In atonement for the above "poetic" effusion, the author invites his readers (if any) to disentangle from the following acrostic the 14 hidden letters that spell out his seasonal greeting to one and all:

Acrostic Greeting

My first is in poem
But not in classic,
The meter is bad,
The lines are fantastic.

My second is in needle,
But never in knit,
You can solve this puzzle
With very little wit.

My third is in grapefruit,
Likewise in persimmon,
My fourth is just like it,
But not found in lemon.

My fifth is in jelly
But not in preserves;
Eat plenty of celery,
It's good for the nerves.

My sixth is in vitamins—
A, B, C, and D:
Count your calories
If healthy you'd be.

My seventh is in holly,
But not in mistletoe;
These symbols at Christmas
Keep affections aglow.

My eighth is in yew tree
But never in cone;
The light that shines farthest
Shines brightest at home.

My ninth is in friend,
But never in foe;
Our friends grow dearer
As years come and go.

Untold Treasure

My tenth is in silver,
But not in gold;
The coin of friendship
Is treasure untold.

My eleventh is in tangerine,
Likewise in kumquat;
Here's wishing you health,
Happiness and what not.

My twelfth is in many,
But not in few;
Many happy returns
I'm wishing for you.

My thirteenth is in apple,
But not in dewberry;
Eat fruits and vegetables,
But cut out the sherry.

My fourteenth is in Santa
Put not in reindeer;
May this joyous slogan
Be yours through the year!

The next "show" will be January 9, 1954. Till then, Personally yours,

ON THE NEWS

No External Revenue

Government expressed me form 1040-F to re-load for farm income, if, when and why.

If, meaning if living, when, meaning when did it occur and why meaning why.

The farm dollar has shrunk like a coward's sclap. My farm is on a flat rock that's uphill both ways. Last summer we bought 20 loads of top-soil and an extra load for the cat.

We tried to raise some Connecticut leaf but the borers got into it. The manufacturer sent it back with a note, "We make cigars—not piccolos."

We rented our ever-normal silo to an artist who signs nothing but his own pictures. There was no income from anything inside the barn. But we got two tickets from Ringling Brothers for plastering the outside with circus posters.

The crows acted as middlemen for the corn, the jaybirds got the berries and the robins took care of everything else. By the time skywriting gets out our way it doesn't spell anything. The radio is all static and the television is herringboned like a gambler's vest.

Serious Consideration Due

While the United States, the United Nations, and the rest of the world awaited Soviet Russia's reply to the atomic energy proposals placed by President Eisenhower before the U.N. General Assembly on December 8, steps for working out the "Eisenhower proposals" were being studied. The State Department said on December 11 that the next move "is under consideration now and it is impossible to tell what form it may take."

Moscow radio on December 12 quoted Foreign Minister Molotov as promising that "serious attention" would be given to the Eisenhower speech. The Soviets' mistake on a similar broad U. S. proposal—the Marshall Plan in 1947—ought to induce them to consider the present plan seriously.

If the Marshall Plan can be viewed as a major stride toward knitting together a Western European anti-Communist coalition of nations, much of the credit must go to Soviet procedure after that plan had been broached. Soviet foreign experts could hardly plead with accuracy that they were caught unprepared in 1947. Secretary of State Marshall's commencement address at Harvard University on June 5 had been foreshadowed by a speech from Under Secretary Acheson at Cleveland, Miss., almost a month earlier.

The United States, Acheson had declared, must "push ahead with the reconstruction of those two great workshops of Europe and Asia—Germany and Japan," without waiting for Big Four agreement. The proposal made at Harvard by Marshall was only slightly more detailed:

"It would be neither fitting nor efficacious for this government to undertake to draw up unilaterally a program designed to place Europe on its feet economically. . . . The initiative, I think, must come from Europe. The role of this country should consist of friendly aid in the drafting of a European program and of later support of such a program so far as it may be practical for us to do so. The program should be a joint one, agreed to by a number, if not all, European nations." (On June 12 Marshall specifically included Soviet Russia among the nations invited to participate.)

The "initiative" was not long in coming. Foreign Minister Bevin on June 13 announced Great Britain's enthusiastic support. Until then Marshall's "plan" had occasioned little comment in the United States; it was soon to arouse vigorous opposition from the left-wing supporters of former Vice President Wallace.

Britain and France then invited Russia to discuss the plan at a Paris conference. The meeting, at which the United States was not represented, broke up on July 2, with Molotov rejecting in entirety an Anglo-French proposal for an overall economic program for Europe. Said Molotov: "The European countries would find themselves placed under control and would lose their former economic and national independence because it so pleases certain strong powers."

Nevertheless, Bevin and Foreign Minister Bidault of France invited 22 European nations to attend a further conference. Included among Soviet-dominated countries were Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Hungary, Poland, Romania, and Yugoslavia. On July 7, Czechoslovakia announced that it would be represented at the conference, but three days later, after Premier Gottwald had talked with Stalin in Moscow, Czechoslovakia reversed its stand. Russia and its satellites had "included themselves out," thereby losing a good chance to hamstring the Marshall Plan.

Carriers Not Obsolete

The U. S. Navy, through its experience back in the '20s and under the pressure of World War II, wrote the book which is the doctrine today for adapting aircraft for use at sea. No other nation brought carrier operations to such a fine edge of performance. To the recorded history of sea strategy, this is America's one clear cut contribution.

It may be somewhat of a shock to rabid Navy partisans to learn that others can get good ideas, too. The proof was the demonstration in Philadelphia the other morning of a new catapult launching device which will greatly increase the efficiency of U. S. carriers in handling jet planes.

The device, a steam catapult, was invented by a British naval reserve officer. It will be installed in all U. S. carriers.

Heretofore the Navy has used what it called a "reeved cables" system of catapult launching. Before the advent of jet fighters, carrier flight decks were sufficient for takeoff. But jets gather speed too slowly, so it was either a case of building mammoth floating runways or depending on catapults.

U. S. naval observers first discovered the efficiency of the British steam catapult during joint naval exercises in European waters several years ago. American engineers made a few changes. The commissioning of the first model took place at the Navy's air development center at Philadelphia. A jet and propeller powered plane were shot into the air before a group of dignitaries.

Carriers aren't obsolete, strategically, and the Navy has assembled a family of excellent jet fighters for attack and interceptor jobs. Any device which speeds up the involved task of launching these planes at a faster clip is a tremendous boost to the potency of carrier operations.

Sharing Christmas

As the number of pre-Christmas shopping days becomes smaller and smaller, the average family in comfortable circumstances is keenly interested in buying presents for the happy event. Not only the elders, but also the children, are concerned.

It is a period of whispered conferences, with even the youngsters planning with great care what they shall buy with their own money for parents and one another. Happy surprise on Christmas is the aim of all.

But the spirit of the holiday season should and does for many extend their own family circles. These realize that even in a period of peak prosperity there are families in genuine distress, perhaps in danger of being broken up, to whom a lack of aid at this time would make the period of normal gayety drearier than any other by contrast.

Those who are moved to share with the less fortunate will find their own Christmas satisfaction all the keener.

How To Keep Well

A Butterfly On The Face

Last year we reported on the value of ACTH and cortisone in the treatment of that rare and bizarre condition, lupus erythematosus (er-y-the-ma-to-sus). This was encouraging news because up to that time there was no effective remedy for certain forms of the disorder. Meanwhile, however, physicians discovered that our modern anti-malarial drugs, such as atabrine, are capable of doing a better job. Various reports have noted "great improvement in 19 of 23 cases" and "good to excellent results in 13 of 17 cases."

Lupus erythematosus is one of the many collagen diseases. Rheumatoid arthritis, rheumatic fever, periarteritis nodosa, and scleroderma are included also in this group of maladies. Collagen is the material that binds the cells of the body in much the same way as cement holds bricks together. The material exists everywhere in the body and this is the reason why collagen diseases can involve so many different organs and structures. It is generally believed that victims of lupus erythematosus are overly sensitive to certain chemical substances including the proteins in bacterial toxins, serums, penicillin, the sulfonamides, iodides, and the foods eaten. But this is not the last word on the causative factors.

During the last two years physicians have found an easier way to diagnose the ailment, and so many new cases have been uncovered that lupus erythematosus is no longer considered a rare ailment. The test consists of a thoro study of the blood and bone marrow for abnormal leucocytes known as L. E. cells. Removing a piece of suspected tissue and analyzing it in the laboratory is another diagnostic aid.

Lupus erythematosus is manifested in many ways. In the chronic discoid type symptoms are mainly on the surface. The eruption usually begins on the bridge of the nose and spreads to both cheeks to produce the typical butterfly pattern. The edges of the lesions are red and covered with silvery-white scales and the center is lighter in color. Similar patches may develop elsewhere on the body.

The systemic type of lupus erythematosus is more widespread in distribution. In addition to the skin rash, many sufferers encounter chest pain, difficulty in breathing, and sore joints. They are tired and weak and lose weight. A slight elevation in temperature often adds to discomfort.

The best results with atabrine were noted in the chronic discoid form, whereas ACTH or cortisone is more effective in the systemic variety. Not enough time has elapsed to evaluate the effect of atabrine in the latter group altho a few reports have appeared describing the beneficial aspects of the drug. A combination of atabrine and ACTH or cortisone also is being tried.

DELAYED MANIFESTATION

J. C. writes: What type of heart trouble results in a person in his sixties from an unrecognized attack of rheumatic fever in childhood?

REPLY

Individuals who have had rheumatic fever in childhood and develop leakage of the heart may live to be 60 or older. When they reach this age they also are susceptible to the type of heart disease that results from hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure.

ANTIBIOTIC-RESISTANT GERMS

L. M. G. writes: When a person has taken repeated doses of penicillin and becomes immune to the drug, will aureomycin or terramycin kill the germs?

REPLY

It is the bacteria and not the individual that becomes immune. For example, when penicillin fails to cure pneumonia because the germs are resistant to the medication, the physician suggests another antibiotic.

OVERSIZED HEART

B. A. writes: Can an enlarged heart be reduced to normal size?

REPLY

This depends upon whether the cause can be remedied. For example, when the heart enlarges as a result of an overactive thyroid gland, it will return to normal when the thyroid is removed or brought under control with medicine. The same occurs occasionally when enlargement is due to high blood pressure and the tension is relieved through diet or medication.

RECTAL BLEEDING

M. N. writes: Is bleeding with nearly every movement serious?

REPLY

The cause of bleeding should always be investigated because it may mean cancer.

EXERCISE IN BACKACHE

D. W. writes: Does exercise help or retard recovery from sacroiliac strain?

REPLY

Strain usually is relieved with rest, but there is a limit to how long a person can rest. Consequently, when pain subsides, graduated exercises are in order to help strengthen muscles. Should pain recur, exercise must be discontinued because at this stage it will aggravate rather than improve the condition of the strained joint.

Reds Threaten New Attack In Korea; Dean Flies Home To Warn Of New Korean Dangers; Syngman Rhee May Renew Hostilities After January 22

WASHINGTON — Inside reason for Arthur Dean's dramatic flight from Korea to Washington was to carry an urgent warning to President Eisenhower that the Korean War will erupt wide open again unless some drastic decisions are made by January 22. Dean, who is John Foster Dulles' law partner, abruptly broke off haggling with the Communists and flew straight to Washington to report to the President. State Department expert Kenneth Young was left behind to keep a foot in the door in case the Communists change their minds.

Meanwhile, Dean has warned Washington in blunt terms that the Korean truce is threatened by two ominous storm clouds:

1. The Communists reportedly will resist with force if the U. S. goes ahead with its pledge to release on January 22 the 22,000 Red prisoners who still refuse to be repatriated.

2. Stubborn South Korean President Syngman Rhee won't be talked out of launching his own offensive against North Korea if a peace conference hasn't been called by January 22.

Dean has based his warning partly on an incident occurring between the Communists and Indian guards. The Reds informed the Indians they planned to attack if the 22,000 Red prisoners who refuse to go home are released. The Communists further offered the Indian safe withdrawal into North Korea.

As a result, the alarmed Indians have asked both sides to present written statements on what they intend to do if the prisoner explanation program is still bogged down on January 22.

No "Gas" To Rhee

U. S. commanders have become so worried that restless, cantankerous, 78-year-old Syngman Rhee may strike across the 38th Parallel with ROK troops, that they have actually rationed Rhee's gasoline supply. However, Rhee's rugged troops can walk to war as easily as ride, and the implacable South Korean leaders could light the fuse to the Korean powder keg at any moment.

Everyone from President Eisenhower on down has pleaded with Rhee. He has indicated that he would give a peace conference time to operate once it got started, but he demanded that it get started by January 27.

Meanwhile, U. S.-Korean negotiators for a peace conference are not too far apart. Only major stumble-block, Dean reports, is whether Russia shall attend as a neutral or a belligerent. So far, the U. S. has flatly refused to allow Russia to play the role of a neutral.

O'Konski Rents From O'Konski

Good old Congressman O'Konski of Wisconsin has found a new way to take a little more money from the taxpayers. And it's all proper and legal. He does it by renting office space in his own radio station and letting Uncle Sam pay for it.

Congressmen are permitted $75 from the government to rent office space in their home districts—if there's no space available in a federal building.

With no federal building space available in his area, the congressman from Wisconsin rented office space in Radio Station WLIN in Merrill, Wis.

And who owns WLIN? None other than Congressman O'Konski. Thus Uncle Sam pays Congressman O'Konski, who in turn pays radio station owner O'Konski, and Mr. O'Konski is $75 to the good.

Farouk is buying ads in the world press warning foreign buyers to keep hands off his former possessions or risk legal action . . . Meanwhile, Egyptian Premier Naguib has been bringing pressure upon the Italian government to declare Farouk persona non grata and force him to leave Italy, in hopes he will get as far away from Egypt as possible . . . Gerald L. K. Smith, the apostle of hat, slipped into Washington last week on a missio nto help Senator McCarthy. Smith also held a secret meeting at the Statler Hotel, admitting only those who carried letters signed by himself. This column got hold of a letter and sent a representative to the meeting. Smith spent the whole time ranting against Eisenhower, Jews and Negroes, and praising Senator McCarthy. He wants a new anti-Jewish party, headed by McCarthy . . . Incidentally, McCarthy's appeal for letters to the President flopped so badly that the White House has lost some of its fear of McCarthy's political pulling power.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Television And News

At home, I listen to the radio but I practically never look at television. The program that suits my tastes most adequately is called "Music through the Night," which commences at 1 a. m. and runs on until six or seven o'clock in the morning. Most often I read during part of that period and have the radio on, thus far without complaint from the family or the neighbors.

The other day, in Chicago, I awoke at a proletarian hour and having no radio, I turned on television. I do not recall which network produced what I saw but I stuck to it while I breakfasted and read the newspapers and dressed, just to see what they did. It was not so good, particularly at breakfast when one's soul needs to be at peace.

Apparently they play the same show over and over again. I am sure I saw it at least two and a half times before I cut it off. A tired-looking man was trying so hard to be funny at that unfunny hour of the morning. He had some girls there who, he said, had stayed up all night just to be on this show. They did not look like gals who had been up all night, after a day of hard work. There was not a haggard line in the lot. Besides, what they said and did on this television show was so banal that they could have gone to bed without loss to anybody.

A monkey came on the act. What does a monkey do on an act? It scratches itself. That's what this monkey did. After watching him for a while, I got itchy myself. Fortunately the monkey was taken away. Somebody was put on to give the news. I had already read the news the night before. Also in the morning newspapers. Maybe some people do not read and only get what they have by ear. It is a way of living but I am sure that I cannot learn anything by bulletins and short takes and a fellow reading from paste-ups.

Then to have the same thing repeated like a nickel-in-the-slot machine performance was too much.

Naturally, the commercials were numerous, prolonged, uninteresting and a deterent to enjoyment. Advertisements in a newspaper can be taken or left at will. If you refuse to read them, nobody can sue you. My wife reads the ads before she reads the news. It is a matter of taste. She says that ads are news — for her. I only earn the money; she spends it. So she needs to have somebody tell her how to spend it.

But these commercials on television come up suddenly, in the middle of something. If you don't want to listen to them, you have to get up, walk across the room, turn the darn thing off until you calculate the jingles are dead. Then you walk some more, turn it on, and get caught with beer or spaghetti or something.

During the newspaper strike in New York, I was astonished that both radio and television lacked the initiative to set up a news service that would supply the community's need. I listened every day for a week to the radio, having it on all the time. I got flashes, bulletins, some amateurish background, but it was inadequate.

The radio companies may say, with some justice, that they did not know how long the newspaper strike would last and that therefore they could not set up a complex news organization such as newspapers have. Furthermore, they have commitments which require them ot show particular serials about broken love to take care of soap, breakfast food and cigaret advertising. Also, they like to cater to all tastes, including those who have no taste. It is like the argument of the advertising agencies against sponsoring controversial persons on the ground that as many Democrats as Republicans smoke cigarets and for that matter, so do Socialists, Communists and even spies. Therefore, the best kind of person to have on the air is someone who is bland.

So, we go back to the newspapers, after this strike, with the sure knowledge that the printed word is here to stay and that radio and television, while they have their particular places, will never replace the newspaper as a means of recording the course of events.

Teach mankind that brotherhood
Is the royal road of life.

There's no patent right to Christmas,
God's wondrous gifts are ours to share
With father, mother, sister, brother,
Friends and neighbors
everywhere.
O Immanuel! Abide Thou
with us,
Drive dull care and fear away,
Let the eerie shades of nightfall
Be harbingers of a better day.

In atonement for the above "poetic" effusion, the author invites his readers (if any) to disentangle from the following acrostic the 14 hidden letters that spell out his seasonal greeting to one and all:

Acrostic Greeting

My first is in poem
But not in classic,
The meter is bad,
The lines are fantastic.

My second is in needle,
But never in knit,
You can solve this puzzle
With very little wit.

My third is in grapefruit,
Likewise in persimmon,
My fourth is just like it,
But not found in lemon.

My fifth is in jelly
But not in preserves;
Eat plenty of celery,
It's good for the nerves.

A, B, C, and D:
Count your calories
If healthy you'd be.

My seventh is in holly,
But not in mistletoe;
These symbols at Christmas
Keep affections aglow.

My eighth is in yew tree
But never in cone;
The light that shines farthest
Shines brightest at home.

My ninth is in friend,
But never in foe;
Our friends grow dearer
As years come and go.

Untold Treasure

My tenth is in silver,
But not in gold;
The coin of friendship
Is treasure untold.

My eleventh is in tangerine,
Likewise in kumquat;
Here's wishing you health,
Happiness and what not.

My twelfth is in many,
But not in few;
Many happy returns
I'm wishing for you.

My thirteenth is in apple,
But not in dewberry;
Eat fruits and vegetables,
But cut out the sherry.

My fourteenth is in Santa
Put not in reindeer;
May this joyous slogan
Be yours through the year!

The next "show" will be January 9, 1954. Till then, Personally yours,

BROTHER BARNABAS

ON THE NEWS

BY ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

No External Revenue

Government expressed me form 1040-F to re-load for farm income, if, when and why.

If, meaning if living, when, meaning when did it occur and why meaning why.

The farm dollar has shrunk like a coward's sclap. My farm is on a flat rock that's uphill both ways. Last summer we bought 20 loads of top-soil and an extra load for the cat.

We tried to raise some Connecticut leaf but the borers got into it. The manufacturer sent it back with a note, "We make cigars—not piccolos."

We rented our ever-normal silo to an artist who signs nothing but his own pictures. There was no income from anything inside the barn. But we got two tickets from Ringling Brothers for plastering the outside with circus posters.

The crows acted as middlemen for the corn, the jaybirds got the berries and the robins took care of everything else. By the time skywriting gets out our way it doesn't spell anything. The radio is all static and the television is herringboned like a gambler's vest.

Ronald Dale Gordon To Wed Janis Arlene Shultz

Miss Janis Arlene Shultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Palmer Shultz, 1401 West Dartmouth Street, Flint, Mich., is to become the bride of Ronald Dale Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Gordon, 526 Avondale Avenue, Cumberland, today.

The double ring candlelight wedding ceremony is being solemnized at 7 p. m. in the Community Presbyterian Church, Flint, with Rev. Elmer I. Braden officiating.

Miss Edwina Faith Blanford is to be the bride's maid of honor; Miss Mary Ellen Bouldrey, Miss Margaret Urban and Miss Beverly Ervin, bridesmaids, and Karen Maguire, flower girl. Leland Gordon, city, is serving as his brother's best man; while James MacAdam Willson, Sandusky, Ohio; Richard Green, Syracuse, N. Y., and Robert DeHaven, city, are the ushers.

The church is decorated with four white baskets of chrysanthemums and poinsettias, and a Christmas tree at either side of the altar. Five electric candelabra, decorated with white satin streamers, placed along the center aisle, provide the light.

Mrs. Marsden Maguire is singing, "The Lord's Prayer," with Mrs. Roderick Matheson at the organ and also playing the traditional wedding march from the opera Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's recessional.

Being given in marriage by her father, the bride is wearing a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a Peter Pan collar and tulle yoke. The fitted bodice is accented by a flounce of the lace tapering to a point in the back, over a billowy tulle skirt, which ends in a full length train. Her three-quarter-length veil falls from a tiara of satin and seed pearls. Completing her costume, she is carrying a white prayerbook, topped with white roses and Pinochle pompons, and satin streamers.

Her attendants' gowns are of velvet and net, made with a velvet bodice trimmed in net and tiered, waltz-length, nylon net skirts. Small velvet shrug jackets cover their shoulders. Their matching headbands are of net and velvet, set off by rhinestones, and they will carry bouquets of Rubrum lilies and feathered carnations, with streamers matching their gowns. The maid of honor's dress is of deep green and the bridesmaids', deep red. The flower girl also is in a deep red frock with an all velvet bodice and tiered nylon net skirt.

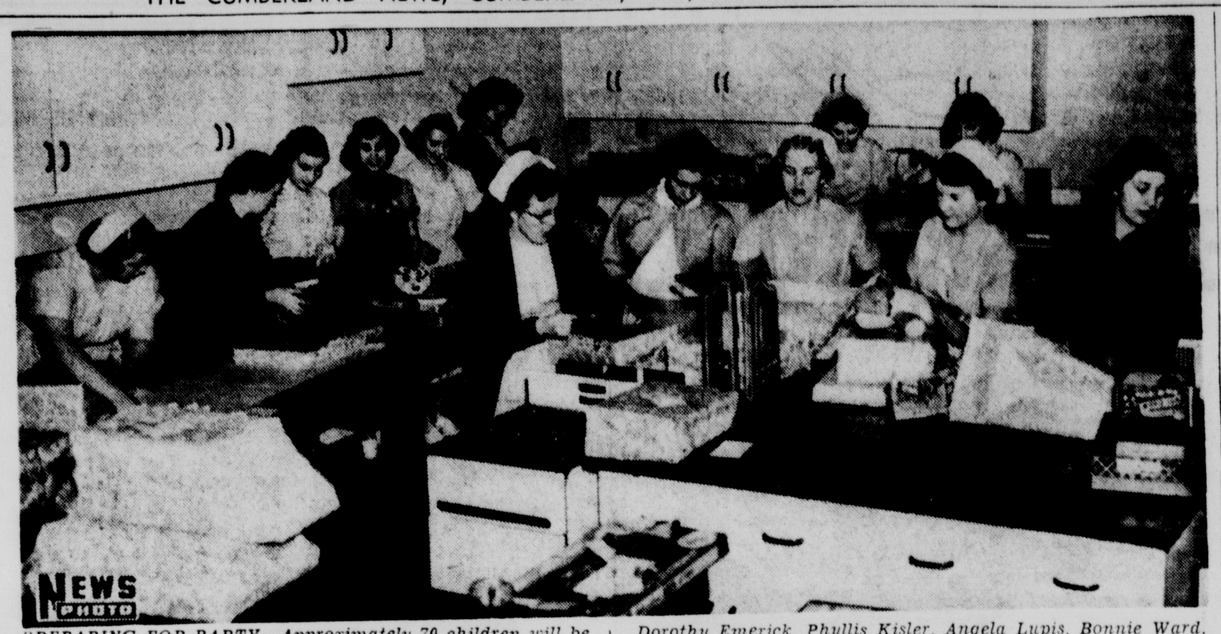

Mrs. Shultz chose a grey-blue taffeta with bead trim for her daughter's wedding. With it she will wear matching slippers and elbow-length gloves and a corsage of pink and white roses. Mrs. Gordon selected a blue taffeta, ballerina-length dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white roses.

The bride is a graduate of Flint Junior College, and Industrial Business Girls of Flint. She is a member of Mu Delta sorority, Tau Chapter; and Phi Alpha honor society. Prior to her resignation, she was employed in the office of the General Motors Company.

Mr. Gordon is a graduate of Fort Hill High School class of 1951, and is a junior at General Motors Institute, Flint, majoring in mechanical engineering. He is a member of the National Honor Society, Naval Reserve, the Rocket Club, Ski Club and the Independent Association.

Approximately 200 guests are expected for the reception being held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Pink and white chrysanthemums, white tapers and white satin streamers are being used in the decorations. Miss Joanne Holstine is serving the cake and Miss Karen Lindberg will preside at the punch bowl.

For traveling the bride has chosen a wool suit of tiny blue and grey checks with matching red accessories, and full-length white cashmere coat. After visiting Niagara Falls and Washington, Mr. Gordon and his bride will spend Christmas with his parents here. Upon their return they will reside at 3073 West Dayton Street, Flint.

Jeanne Collins To Become Bride Of Ronald L. Beck

Miss Edna Jeanne Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman Collins, Pinto, is to become the bride of Ronald Lloyd Beck, son of Frederick R. Beck, city, today.

The wedding ceremony is being solemnized at 2 p. m. in the parsonage of Trinity Methodist Church, with Rev. C. L. Beard officiating.

Mrs. Ray Moreland is to be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant, while Eugene Martin is serving as Mr. Beck's best man.

The bride has selected a pink street-length dress for her wedding. With it she is wearing navy blue hat and accessories and an orchid corsage will complete her costume.

Her matron of honor will be attired in a pale blue dress with yellow accessories and has a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Collins chose a Navy blue costume for her daughter's wedding. With it she will wear black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The bride is a graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1951, majoring in distribution education, and is employed by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1947. He served four years in the Navy and is employed as a television technician at Bendix Radio Corporation, Baltimore.

Mr. Beck is entertaining with a wedding reception for his son and his bride following the ceremony. It will be held at Nancy's Dinette, South Centre Street, with the bridal motif carried out in the tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

For their wedding trip to Western States the bride is wearing a yellow costume with Navy accessories and her orchid corsage.

Mr. Beck and his bride will reside in Baltimore.

Mrs. Burgess Installed By Homemakers

An International theme was carried out in the annual luncheon and Christmas party of the Mapleside Homemakers Club, at which time officers were installed. It was held in the Green room of Central YMCA with 50 attending.

The table decorations, favors and napkins carried out the International Christmas motif with the favors, global napkins, folded in the shape of the world and topped with a flag of one of the United Nations countries. On the officers' table was a globe of the world with the flag of the United Nations flanked by flags of some of the larger countries of the organization.

Club sisters exchange also was carried out in the same theme by using a "magic carpet of goodwill" upon which the secret sisters were revealed. Mrs. Emory Showman had charge of the traditional jingle and club sister distribution.

Mrs. Glenn Diehl presided and welcomed the group. During the short business session a collection was made for a basket for a needy family.

A program on the International theme consisted of Christmas customs on "The Birth and Why We Celebrate Christmas," by Mrs. Curtis Bloss; "Burning Candles and Sending Cards," Mrs. H. B. Rice; Santa Claus, Mrs. Paul Shircliff; carols, Mrs. John Breakiron; Christmas customs in foreign lands, Mrs. Harry Brotemarkle and Peter Marshall's sermonette, "Let's Keep Christmas," Mrs. George Reiter. Angler

Lynn C. Lashley, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association, is shown with the 7 foot, 3-inch marlin he caught on a recent fishing trip out of Ocean City. The board of directors of the Association had Lashley's catch mounted and presented it to him at a recent board meeting. It now hangs in his office, where the photo was taken. The black-and-silver fish weighed 61 pounds when Lashley hauled it out of the Atlantic, and the mayor of Ocean City gave him a certificate of membership in the Ocean City Marlin Club. Lashley made the deep-sea fishing expedition with John Workmeister, Louis Spoerl and Charles Smith, all of Cumberland.

Lashley Completes 25 Years With Savings Association

Lynn C. Lashley, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, was honored recently at a board of directors' meeting of the organization in commemoration of 25 years service with the association.

The board presented to Lashley a mounted marlin which the First Federal head had caught on a fishing trip to Ocean City shortly before. The fish was hooked by Lashley on an ocean voyage in a chartered boat with John Workmeister, Louis Spoerl and Charles Smith. It measured 7 feet 3 inches and weighed 61 pounds, with black and silver coloring.

Lashley admits that if it had taken more than 45 minutes to land the fish he would have been too tired to haul it in. In recognition of his services the association board footed the bill to have the marlin mounted and it now is proudly displayed on the wall of the president's office.

Close by is a certificate signed by the mayor of Ocean City admitting Lashley to the Ocean City Marlin Club.

In reviewing his 25 years of service with the Baltimore Street firm, Lashley recalled that the organization, founded in September 1928 by his father, Thomas B. Lashley, started practically from a shoestring.

"I was the whole company then, being the sole employe, making loans, collecting, depositing, borrowing and keeping the books.

In 1935 the association began to grow quickly to its present status and as it grew Lashley went from the sole employe to assistant financial secretary, secretary, executive vice president and finally, when George Martin died in 1952, he was elected to the presidency of the association.

A civic-minded native of Cumberland, Lashley is also president of the Cumberland Community Chest, a past president of Central YMCA, a treasurer of Centre Street Methodist Church, charter member of the Cumberland Lions Club, chairman of Allegany County Savings Bond division, belongs to the Elks, Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and is an active Mason.

He attended school at Allegany High School and at Gettysburg Academy, and went to West Virginia University. He and Mrs. Lashley reside at 1901 Bedford Street.

Alban G. Crabbe, 92, Succumbs At Hyndman Home

Alban George Crabbe, one of the oldest residents and former businessman of Hyndman, Pa., died yesterday at his home. He was 92.

Mr. Crabbe was a retired jeweler and was well known in the Pennsylvania community. A native of Portsmouth, England, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crabbe, and came to America at the age of eight.

Later he went to work with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad as a timekeeper and worked up to the position of superintendent of construction, under E. K. Hyndman, after whom the community was named.

For many years he operated a jewelry store in Hyndman. His business was destroyed in the Christmas fire of 1949 which gutted a large part of the downtown section of Hyndman.

Ronald Dale Gordon To Wed Janis Arlene Shultz

Miss Janis Arlene Shultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Palmer Shultz, 1401 West Dartmouth Street, Flint, Mich., is to become the bride of Ronald Dale Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Gordon, 526 Avondale Avenue, Cumberland, today.

The double ring candlelight wedding ceremony is being solemnized at 7 p. m. in the Community Presbyterian Church, Flint, with Rev. Elmer I. Braden officiating.

Miss Edwina Faith Blanford is to be the bride's maid of honor; Miss Mary Ellen Bouldrey, Miss Margaret Urban and Miss Beverly Ervin, bridesmaids, and Karen Maguire, flower girl. Leland Gordon, city, is serving as his brother's best man; while James MacAdam Willson, Sandusky, Ohio; Richard Green, Syracuse, N. Y., and Robert DeHaven, city, are the ushers.

The church is decorated with four white baskets of chrysanthemums and poinsettias, and a Christmas tree at either side of the altar. Five electric candelabra, decorated with white satin streamers, placed along the center aisle, provide the light.

Mrs. Marsden Maguire is singing, "The Lord's Prayer," with Mrs. Roderick Matheson at the organ and also playing the traditional wedding march from the opera Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's recessional.

Being given in marriage by her father, the bride is wearing a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a Peter Pan collar and tulle yoke. The fitted bodice is accented by a flounce of the lace tapering to a point in the back, over a billowy tulle skirt, which ends in a full length train. Her three-quarter-length veil falls from a tiara of satin and seed pearls. Completing her costume, she is carrying a white prayerbook, topped with white roses and Pinochle pompons, and satin streamers.

Her attendants' gowns are of velvet and net, made with a velvet bodice trimmed in net and tiered, waltz-length, nylon net skirts. Small velvet shrug jackets cover their shoulders. Their matching headbands are of net and velvet, set off by rhinestones, and they will carry bouquets of Rubrum lilies and feathered carnations, with streamers matching their gowns. The maid of honor's dress is of deep green and the bridesmaids', deep red. The flower girl also is in a deep red frock with an all velvet bodice and tiered nylon net skirt.

Mrs. Shultz chose a grey-blue taffeta with bead trim for her daughter's wedding. With it she will wear matching slippers and elbow-length gloves and a corsage of pink and white roses. Mrs. Gordon selected a blue taffeta, ballerina-length dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white roses.

The bride is a graduate of Flint Junior College, and Industrial Business Girls of Flint. She is a member of Mu Delta sorority, Tau Chapter; and Phi Alpha honor society. Prior to her resignation, she was employed in the office of the General Motors Company.

Mr. Gordon is a graduate of Fort Hill High School class of 1951, and is a junior at General Motors Institute, Flint, majoring in mechanical engineering. He is a member of the National Honor Society, Naval Reserve, the Rocket Club, Ski Club and the Independent Association.

Approximately 200 guests are expected for the reception being held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Pink and white chrysanthemums, white tapers and white satin streamers are being used in the decorations. Miss Joanne Holstine is serving the cake and Miss Karen Lindberg will preside at the punch bowl.

For traveling the bride has chosen a wool suit of tiny blue and grey checks with matching red accessories, and full-length white cashmere coat. After visiting Niagara Falls and Washington, Mr. Gordon and his bride will spend Christmas with his parents here. Upon their return they will reside at 3073 West Dayton Street, Flint.

Jeanne Collins To Become Bride Of Ronald L. Beck

Miss Edna Jeanne Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman Collins, Pinto, is to become the bride of Ronald Lloyd Beck, son of Frederick R. Beck, city, today.

The wedding ceremony is being solemnized at 2 p. m. in the parsonage of Trinity Methodist Church, with Rev. C. L. Beard officiating.

Mrs. Ray Moreland is to be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant, while Eugene Martin is serving as Mr. Beck's best man.

The bride has selected a pink street-length dress for her wedding. With it she is wearing navy blue hat and accessories and an orchid corsage will complete her costume.

Her matron of honor will be attired in a pale blue dress with yellow accessories and has a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Collins chose a Navy blue costume for her daughter's wedding. With it she will wear black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The bride is a graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1951, majoring in distribution education, and is employed by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1947. He served four years in the Navy and is employed as a television technician at Bendix Radio Corporation, Baltimore.

Mr. Beck is entertaining with a wedding reception for his son and his bride following the ceremony. It will be held at Nancy's Dinette, South Centre Street, with the bridal motif carried out in the tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Coach Bowers' Quint Defeats Hubs, 70 To 41

Kirtley And Rank Top Attack With 17 Each In 3rd Straight Win

BY TED TROXELL

Coach Walter L. "Bill" Bowers' Allegany High Campers manned their offensive guns last night, hitting on 45 per cent of their shots as they rolled to their third straight win of the season at the expense of Hagerstown High's Hubs, 70-41, on the Allegany floor.

The Hubs took an early lead when Anderson, Hagerstown forward, hit on a set shot, but a field goal and foul by Dave Steele, lanky Alco center, put the Campers in front, 3-2, and from there they steadily widened the margin.

The Campers connected on 25 of 55 shots, for an excellent percentage of .455, while the Hubs experienced a poor night in the field goal department, being able to connect on only 13 of 54 tries for a below par percentage of .240.

Bob Kirtley and Dick Rank shared scoring honors for the Campers, each accounting for 17 points. Jim Hoffman took runnerup honors with 12 tallies. Dave Wachter, Hub forward, dumped in nine to pace the Henrymen.

The Allegany JayVees downed the Alco Hi-Y five in the preliminary to the main contest, 53-47. The summary:

Angler

Lynn C. Lashley, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association, is shown with the 7½ foot, 3-inch marlin he caught on a recent fishing trip out of Ocean City. The board of directors of the Association had Lashley's catch mounted and presented it to him at a recent board meeting. It now hangs in his office, where the photo was taken. The black-and-silver fish weighed 61 pounds when Lashley hauled it out of the Atlantic, and the mayor of Ocean City gave him a certificate of membership in the Ocean City Marlin Club. Lashley made the deep-sea fishing expedition with John Workmeister, Louis Spoerl and Charles Smith, all of Cumberland.

Lashley Completes 25 Years With Savings Association

Lynn C. Lashley, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, was honored recently at a board of directors' meeting of the organization in commemoration of 25 years service with the association.

The board presented to Lashley a mounted marlin which the First Federal head had caught on a fishing trip to Ocean City shortly before. The fish was hooked by Lashley on an ocean voyage in a chartered boat with John Workmeister, Louis Spoerl and Charles Smith. It measured 7 feet 3 inches and weighed 61 pounds, with black and silver coloring.

Lashley admits that if it had taken more than 45 minutes to land the fish he would have been too tired to haul it in. In recognition of his services the association board footed the bill to have the marlin mounted and it now is proudly displayed on the wall of the president's office.

Close by is a certificate signed by the mayor of Ocean City admitting Lashley to the Ocean City Marlin Club.

In reviewing his 25 years of service with the Baltimore Street firm, Lashley recalled that the organization, founded in September 1928 by his father, Thomas B. Lashley, started practically from a shoestring.

"I was the whole company then, being the sole employe, making loans, collecting, depositing, borrowing and keeping the books.

In 1935 the association began to grow quickly to its present status and as it grew Lashley went from the sole employe to assistant financial secretary, secretary, executive vice president and finally, when George Martin died in 1952, he was elected to the presidency of the association.

A civic-minded native of Cumberland, Lashley is also president of the Cumberland Community Chest, a past president of Central YMCA, a treasurer of Centre Street Methodist Church, charter member of the Cumberland Lions Club, chairman of Allegany County Savings Bond division, belongs to the Elks, Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and is an active Mason.

He attended school at Allegany High School and at Gettysburg Academy, and went to West Virginia University. He and Mrs. Lashley reside at 1901 Bedford Street.

Brooklyn Dodgers Play Old Germans Here Sunday Night

College Stars Grace Lineup Of Road Team

Locals Seek 3rd Win, Game Set For 9 P. M., Pence Has 50 Points

The Brooklyn Dodgers — not the team that took it on the chin in the World Series—but the basketball Dodgers, invade Cumberland Sunday to play the Old Germans at 9 o'clock on SS. Peter and Paul court.

George Besnoff, of Philadelphia, Philadelphia booking agent, has assured the local management that (1) the Dodgers will be here on time, and (2) they'll have a ball club that should win over the Old Germans.

The Old Germans management complained to the Philadelphia agency that it got a bad deal last week when the team that played here as the Washington Caps and at Hagerstown as the Washington Bears did an el foldo after arriving here an hour after the scheduled starting time.

Promises Better Teams

Besnoff apologized and promised to send teams to Cumberland that are sound.

The Dodgers' roster includes the following players:

Bucky Harris—One of Gettysburg College's all-time greats and formerly of the Original House of David quint.

Ralph Namoli—Formerly of New York University's N.I.T. championship team.

Jim Soitle—Forward who formerly played at Long Island University.

Jim Maloney—Ex-Seton Hall College player who scored 680 points for Glen Falls in New York State League last season.

Joe McCloskey—Former captain at Manhattan University. Scored 500 points with the Dodgers last season.

Joe Heins—Star pivot performer from St. Francis College of Brooklyn. He stands 6-foot-5.

The Old Germans will be angling for their third win of the season tomorrow. The locals opened with a 88-84 decision over the St. Louis Bombers and whipped the Washington Bears-Caps last Sunday, 97-57.

Pence Leads With 50

In the two games played thus far, Bob Pence is pacing the O. G. scorers with a total of 50 points. He has racked up 21 field goals and 8-11 fouls. Lou Bell is runner-up with 12 goals and 26 points followed by John Fox with 24. Paul McGregor 23 and Jim Fahey 22.

Stuber Resigns As Grid Coach At Iowa State

AMES, Iowa, Dec. 18 (AP)—Emmett R. (Abe) Stuber, 50, resigned Friday as head coach of football at Iowa State College. His 1953 team won only two games while losing seven.

Stuber was not available for comment.

The close of the 1953 season brought agitation both among students and alumni that some changes be made. A petition from Marshalltown alumni, presented to Hilton this week, said it was believed Iowa State was spending about as much on its athletic program as other schools in the Big Seven conference, but was not getting the proper return from the investment.

Stuber, a 1937 graduate of the University of Missouri, came to Iowa State in 1947 from Missouri State Teachers at Cape Girardeau.

Floyd Patterson Sidelined Until Age Is Clarified

Fighter Must Be 19 To Get 8-Rounders

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP) — The New York State Athletic Commission today reinstated Randy Turpin, sidelined Floyd Patterson until his age is clarified and looked with approval on Archie Moore's light heavyweight title defense against Joey Maxim Jan. 27 at Miami.

Turpin's suspension, imposed after the British boxer became involved in legal problems after his defeat by Bobo Olson, was lifted coincidental with the arrival of Jack Solomons, London promoter.

The Patterson case was a bit involved. Manage. Cus D'Amato was advised not to sign any contracts for future fights until he produces "irrefutable proof" of Patterson's age. According to D'Amato, Patterson actually is 18 and will be 19 on Jan. 4. According to New York law, an 18-year-old can not fight more than six rounds unless given special permission by the commission. Patterson has been fighting eight rounders all year. He is unbeaten in nine pro starts.

Although there was no indication of future commission action, it appeared likely that Patterson, the 1953 "rookie of the year" probably will be given special permission for longer fights after a thorough examination by commission physicians.

Francis Averages 47.4 Against Five Four-Year Colleges

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Clarence (Bevo) Francis, Rio Grande forward, has averaged 47.4 points in each of the five games his basketball team has played against four-year colleges. That makes him the nation's top individual point getter.

In the five games Francis has plunked in 237 of his team's 455 points, small-college statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau show. In one contest against Bluffton, Francis packed in 82 points on 36 field goals and 10 free throws. Both the total points and the number of field goals set NCAA records.

Vince Leta of Lycoming College, with 40 and 36 points in his first two games, is runner up to Francis in the small-college individual ranking at 38.

Orioles Sell Nine Players To Richmond

Virginia Team Gets International Berth

BALTIMORE, Dec. 18 (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles helped Richmond, Va., become its successor in the International League today by selling it nine baseball player.

The Orioles, now in the American League as replacement for the St. Louis Browns, announced they were selling for an undisclosed sum pitchers Ken Heintzelman, Angelo Nardella, Dick Starr and Joe Ayers, infielders Russ Kerns and Ed Kaske, out fielders Marv Rackley and Roy Weatherly and catcher Marty Tabacheck.

The International League awarded Harry C. Seibold a franchise in Richmond yesterday conditioned on his acquisition of a park.

Seibold paid a reported $25,000 to Edwin Mooers for his franchise in the Piedmont League. The international League is Triple A and the Piedmont Class B.

If Richmond satisfies the ball park stipulation, then Havana, Cuba, also will become a member of the International League. Richmond and Havana will replace Baltimore and Springfield, Mass., in the league.

The Orioles turned in their franchise to the International League when they went American League and the Chicago Cubs decided to no longer foot the bills at Springfield.

The Orioles had agreed to hold on to their minor league players until the International made up its mind whether it would expand or operate with six teams.

Taliaferro shifted from halfback to quarterback late in the season to fill the important spot because of injuries to the regular signal caller, Fred Enke. He led the Colts in offense with 479 yards rushing, 346 on pass receiving, 211 on passing, 331 on kickoff returns and 31 on returning punts for a total, 1,398.

Taliaferro's selection followed that of Art Donovan as the best defensive lineman. Each received a prize of $100.

Lane Admits He Got The "Bird" When A's Sent Byrd To Yankees

Asserts New York Is Worried About Chisox

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox snarled a challenge at the world champion New York Yankees today, contending the acquisition of pitcher Harry Byrd and first baseman Eddie Robinson hasn't clinched the 1954 pennant for the Yanks.

As a matter of fact, Sox General Manager Frank Lane asserted the White Sox are better strengthened than the Yanks for next season.

"The Yankees in their deal with the Philadelphia Athletics merely took up the slack left when pitcher Johnny Sain and first baseman Johnny Mize quit," said Lane.

"I feel that we strengthened more this winter than the Yanks by building a strong bench," continued Lane, who admits he got the "bird" when the A's lured a $150,000 Sox offer for Byrd and then sent the right-hander to the Yankees.

"We feel badly about losing Byrd, but look at it this way," said Lane. "The Yankees lost Sain, who was a 14-game winner last season. So Byrd has to do better to help New York's pitching. Robinson might be a regular, but then he might only be a pinch-hitter. That's what Mize was—and he's gone."

With all the seriousiness he could muster, Lane suggested:

"The mere fact the Yankees made such a deal shows they're worried about the White Sox threat."

The White Sox finished third, 11½ games behind the Yankees this year.

Guglielmi And Heap Hopeful Of Returning

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 18 (AP) — Notre Dame football stars Ralph Guglielmi and Joe Heap were missing from their classes today. The two have been suspended for breaking curfew.

Although university officials refused comment the two junior players were hopeful they'd be readmitted. They were enroute to their homes—Guglielmi to Columbus, Ohio, and Heap to Abita Springs, La.

Heap said he and Guglielmi were "about 20 minutes late" for the 12:30 a. m. Notre Dame curfew following a celebration of Notre Dame's 40-14 season-ending victory over Southern Methodist Dec. 5.

Fire Danger Is 'Guest' At Yule Holiday Parties

Fire can turn a gay holiday party into tragedy within a few seconds, and the threat hangs over most of the parties which will be held here during the Christmas holidays, Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker warned yesterday.

New Year's parties can be especially dangerous, he added, if the Christmas tree is left up for the occasion. A spark or flame can turn an evergreen tree into a roaring pillar of flame in seconds.

Members of the Fire Department are volunteering to aid at many of the Christmas parties being held for children of the city.

Since firemen cannot be present at all parties, Chief Parker recommended the following rules of the National Board of Fire Underwriters:

Check to see that the Christmas tree is not located near any stairway or elevator shaft which would provide a draft, and that it doesn't block an exit.

Someone in authority should inspect the tree to determine whether it is too dry to leave up.

Provide plenty of ashtrays for smokers. Don't allow smoking near the tree.

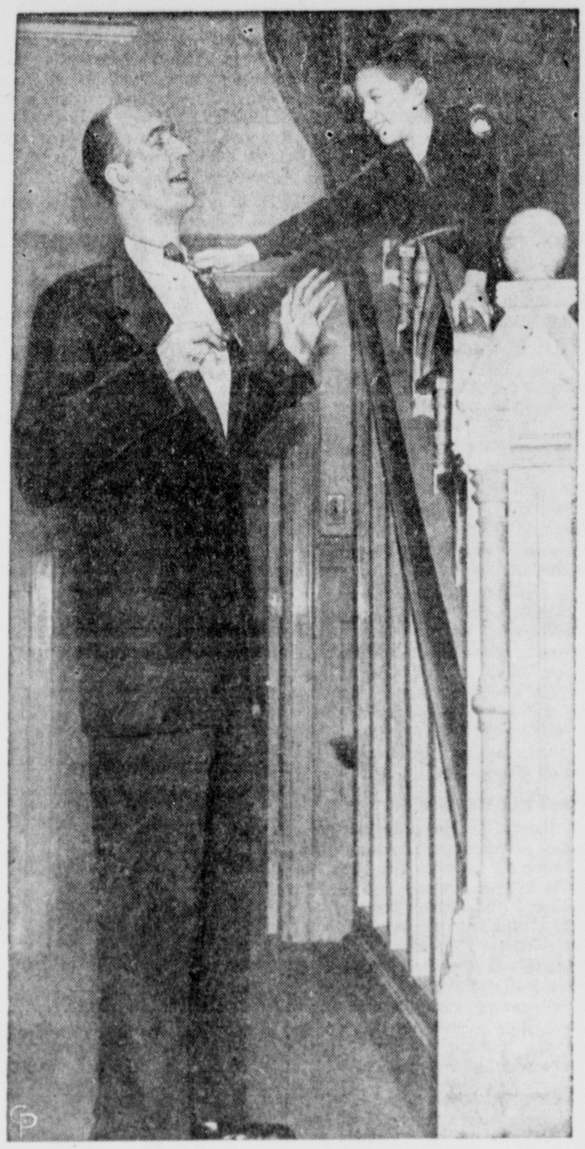

Be sure that all decorations have been flameproofed.

Avoid using net or gauze-like fabrics for dresses, costumes or children's clothes. Loosely woven fabrics can easily catch fire.

If loosely woven costumes must be worn, they should be flameproofed with the following solution: mix 9 ounces of borax and 4 ounces of boric acid in a gallon of water. Dip the fabric in this solution, wring by hand and hang to dry. Flameproofing must be repeated each time the garment is laundered.

Don't use candles for decoration, or let children carry them in tableaux or choir singing. Electric candles are just as effective, and much safer.

If there is an open fire, see that the fire screen is in place and that the tree and other combustibles are not near the fireplace.

TALLEST MAN in the world, Henry Hite, stands in hallway in Chicago while his friend, Richard Hoffman, stands several steps up the stairs to get high enough to adjust Hite's tie. Hite is 7-feet-9 shoeless, and 8-feet-2 wearing shoes size 25. His shirt sleeves are 45 inches long. He is the third tallest man in medical history. (International)

On The Line

Here is an exclusive understatement from Caruso:

"The new style will meet resentment among American men who remember the days of their youth when they had to wear trousers much too short for them while waiting for their younger brothers to grow old enough to take over their suit so they could get a new one. Any American who remembers the famous battle cry of his youth, 'Hey, Stink— pull up your shoes, your pants are too short,' will fight the new style."

You can never tell about fashions, however, especially those that come from abroad. Billy Reed, a saloon-keeping friend, tells us about a push-cart peddler who was born on the East Side and never got six blocks away from his birthplace until he retired at 85 and took a cattleboat to England.

Walking down old Bond Street one day our shabby hero dropped into a tailoring establishment and ordered a suit. The tailor, who looked like an especially well-groomed Anthony Eden, was quite upset but reluctantly took the order. There was a number of fittings, done with great disdain, but at last the day arrived when our man looked at himself, in the finished suit, in a mirror that may have reflected the younger Pitt, Disraeli, George Arliss and other great British statesmen.

Our man burst into tears. He was sharply chided by the tailor, who reminded him that he had been warned in advance that the price would be steep.

"I'm not crying about the price," our man said, blubbering.

"Well, then, what are you crying about?"

"We lost India," our East Sider said with simple dignity.

Nearly 60 working newspapermen, flying home from the Bermuda conference Tuesday a week ago, were not given an advance text of President Eisenhower's great U.N. speech—to work on en route. Wasn't ready, Jim Hagerty said.

Advance copies were given to Time magazine and Newsweek the previous day or two before, and to Molotov, too.

County Seeking School Funds

Application forms were signed by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, requesting the state to turn over $800,000 in funds from a bond issue for school construction.

The interest rate on the state school bond issue is anticipated at 1.7 per cent, the board members said. Repayment of the state school bonds is provided over a 15-year period. The commissioners decided to participate in the state bond issue due to the unfavorable bond market condition. Previously, the county sold bonds on bids from private banking houses.

The request yesterday by the county officials will take care of school construction costs from the period starting last April and ending March 31, 1954, according to Webster.

It has been learned that an additional $390,000 in state bond money is available to Allegany County and the board decided yesterday to make application for this sum also. The money will be used in future school building work.

The county will borrow a grand total of $3,500,000 from the state over a two-year period for the projected expansion of school facilities. Included is a new school for Westernport and LaVale and various additions.

$468 Fund Raised In ABL Rocket Revue

The Rocket Revue presented recently by employes of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory to raise funds for the Christmas fund resulted in $468.87 being realized. Expenses of putting on the show amounted to only $34.13.

The committee in charge of the event consisted of Loren Morey, C. C. DeHaven, Larry Kahn, Cletus Hartsock, and Mary Perretti.

In addition to the money raised by the revue, employes will donate non-perishable food at the plant to be put in Christmas baskets for the needy.

Officer E. P. Wilson Is Injured In Fall

A Cumberland policeman was admitted to Memorial Hospital early yesterday as the result of an accident which occurred while he was making his rounds in the central business district.

Injured was Officer E. P. Wilson, who suffered a fracture of his right leg at the knee in a fall on Baltimore Street. Attaches reported him in "good" condition and said X-rays were to be taken.

A report at Police Headquarters said Officer Wilson fell while leaving the Windsor Hotel, where he had gone to contact a detective agency representative. A former resident, Carl Rossi, who lives in Meyersdale, Pa., was driving by when the accident occurred and stopped to see if he could be of assistance to the officer.

Rossi drove the injured patrolman to headquarters, from where he was taken to the hospital by Rossi and Officer John Daum.

Allegany Wallops Hagerstown, Fort Hill And Bruce Win

BY TED TROXELL

Coach Walter L. "Bill" Bowers' Allegany High Campers manned their offensive guns last night, hitting on 45 per cent of their shots as they rolled to their third straight win of the season at the expense of Hagerstown High's Hubs, 70-41, on the Allegany floor.

The Hubs took an early lead when Anderson, Hagerstown forward, hit on a set shot, but a field goal and foul by Dave Steele, lanky Alco center, put the Campers in front, 3-2, and from there they steadily widened the margin.

The Campers connected on 25 of 55 shots, for an excellent percentage of .455, while the Hubs experienced a poor night in the field goal department, being able to connect on only 13 of 54 tries for a below par percentage of .240.

Bob Kirtley and Dick Rank shared scoring honors for the Campers, each accounting for 17 points. Jim Hoffman took runnerup honors with 12 tallies. Dave Wachter, Hub forward, dumped in nine to pace the Henrymen.

The Allegany JayVees downed the Alco Hi-Y five in the preliminary to the main contest, 53-47. The summary:

Keyser Kiwanians Hear Problems Of Veterinarians

KEYSER — Dr. Wilbur L. Rehkemper, 43 North Main Street, Keyser, veterinarian for the eastern part of West Virginia for the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, was the speaker at Keyser Kiwanis Club. Dr. Rehkemper, who has been located here for the past four years, is a native of Texas, where he was employed by the bureau from the date of his graduation in the profession, has received notice of a promotion to another field, and will leave January 17, for Lansing, Mich., which will be his headquarters while working through the state of Michigan.

In speaking to Kiwanians, he discussed some of the problems facing veterinarians in the field, and gave a history of some of the animal diseases for which he and his coworkers in the bureau are ever watchful. Tuberculosis, he said, was, at one time one of the greatest of worries for cattle owners, but this disease has been almost wiped out, although there are still some cases that come to the attention of the field workers.

Some of the diseases that were prevalent in live-stock a number of years ago, are now extinct, and improvement is being made all along the line, he said. In speaking of this he reviewed the history of the bureau from its inception in 1844. He made reference to tick fever which has, through many years been the source of a heavy loss to cattle men, but it is now practically eliminated. But, he said there are still some new diseases that add to the work.

Attorney Charles Smith, Keyser, was a guest at the club meeting, and James Watson, a member, who has been ill for several weeks, was able to attend.

A group of six Keyser Kiwanians visited at the luncheon meeting of Cumberland Kiwanis Club at Central YMCA on Thursday.

Former County Man's Christmas Scenes Popular

FROSTBURG—Andrew H. "Son" Speir, a former resident of Frostburg, who resides at 3109 Wisteria Avenue, Hamilton, Baltimore, was given considerable publicity in a Baltimore newspaper this week in reference to a Christmas display on the windows of his home.

Speir, who for 26 years was a teacher of art in Baltimore public schools, including Baltimore City College, each year paints Nativity scenes that have a stained glass appearance when placed on the windows of his home.

Scores of people in the suburban district visit the home each Christmas to see the display which has become so much a feature of the neighborhood Yule decorations for the past 12 years.

He is assisted in his decoration work by his wife, a retired teacher who taught art for 47 years at Clifton Park and Hamilton Junior High Schools.

Speir, is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Speir, of Frostburg, is a brother of Mrs. Lillian Speir Stewart, Mrs. Lou Spates and Mrs. Mabel Stevens, of Frostburg.

Brooklyn Dodgers Play Old Germans Here Sunday Night

Locals Seek 3rd Win, Game Set For 9 P. M., Pence Has 50 Points

The Brooklyn Dodgers — not the team that took it on the chin in the World Series—but the basketball Dodgers, invade Cumberland Sunday to play the Old Germans at 9 o'clock on SS. Peter and Paul court.

George Besnoff, of Philadelphia, Philadelphia booking agent, has assured the local management that (1) the Dodgers will be here on time, and (2) they'll have a ball club that should win over the Old Germans.

The Old Germans management complained to the Philadelphia agency that it got a bad deal last week when the team that played here as the Washington Caps and at Hagerstown as the Washington Bears did an el foldo after arriving here an hour after the scheduled starting time.

Promises Better Teams

Besnoff apologized and promised to send teams to Cumberland that are sound.

The Dodgers' roster includes the following players:

Bucky Harris—One of Gettysburg College's all-time greats and formerly of the Original House of David quint.

Ralph Namoli—Formerly of New York University's N.I.T. championship team.

Jim Soitle—Forward who formerly played at Long Island University.

Jim Maloney—Ex-Seton Hall College player who scored 680 points for Glen Falls in New York State League last season.

Joe McCloskey—Former captain at Manhattan University. Scored 500 points with the Dodgers last season.

Joe Heins—Star pivot performer from St. Francis College of Brooklyn. He stands 6-foot-5.

The Old Germans will be angling for their third win of the season tomorrow. The locals opened with a 88-84 decision over the St. Louis Bombers and whipped the Washington Bears-Caps last Sunday, 97-57.

Pence Leads With 50

In the two games played thus far, Bob Pence is pacing the O. G. scorers with a total of 50 points. He has racked up 21 field goals and 8-11 fouls. Lou Bell is runner-up with 12 goals and 26 points followed by John Fox with 24. Paul McGregor 23 and Jim Fahey 22.

Stuber Resigns As Grid Coach At Iowa State

AMES, Iowa, Dec. 18 (AP)—Emmett R. (Abe) Stuber, 50, resigned Friday as head coach of football at Iowa State College. His 1953 team won only two games while losing seven.

Stuber was not available for comment.

The close of the 1953 season brought agitation both among students and alumni that some changes be made. A petition from Marshalltown alumni, presented to Hilton this week, said it was believed Iowa State was spending about as much on its athletic program as other schools in the Big Seven conference, but was not getting the proper return from the investment.

Stuber, a 1937 graduate of the University of Missouri, came to Iowa State in 1947 from Missouri State Teachers at Cape Girardeau.

Floyd Patterson Sidelined Until Age Is Clarified

Fighter Must Be 19 To Get 8-Rounders

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP) — The New York State Athletic Commission today reinstated Randy Turpin, sidelined Floyd Patterson until his age is clarified and looked with approval on Archie Moore's light heavyweight title defense against Joey Maxim Jan. 27 at Miami.

Turpin's suspension, imposed after the British boxer became involved in legal problems after his defeat by Bobo Olson, was lifted coincidental with the arrival of Jack Solomons, London promoter.

The Patterson case was a bit involved. Manage. Cus D'Amato was advised not to sign any contracts for future fights until he produces "irrefutable proof" of Patterson's age. According to D'Amato, Patterson actually is 18 and will be 19 on Jan. 4. According to New York law, an 18-year-old can not fight more than six rounds unless given special permission by the commission. Patterson has been fighting eight rounders all year. He is unbeaten in nine pro starts.

Although there was no indication of future commission action, it appeared likely that Patterson, the 1953 "rookie of the year" probably will be given special permission for longer fights after a thorough examination by commission physicians.

Francis Averages 47.4 Against Five Four-Year Colleges

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Clarence (Bevo) Francis, Rio Grande forward, has averaged 47.4 points in each of the five games his basketball team has played against four-year colleges. That makes him the nation's top individual point getter.

In the five games Francis has plunked in 237 of his team's 455 points, small-college statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau show. In one contest against Bluffton, Francis packed in 82 points on 36 field goals and 10 free throws. Both the total points and the number of field goals set NCAA records.

Vince Leta of Lycoming College, with 40 and 36 points in his first two games, is runner up to Francis in the small-college individual ranking at 38.

Orioles Sell Nine Players To Richmond

Virginia Team Gets International Berth

BALTIMORE, Dec. 18 (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles helped Richmond, Va., become its successor in the International League today by selling it nine baseball player.

The Orioles, now in the American League as replacement for the St. Louis Browns, announced they were selling for an undisclosed sum pitchers Ken Heintzelman, Angelo Nardella, Dick Starr and Joe Ayers, infielders Russ Kerns and Ed Kaske, out fielders Marv Rackley and Roy Weatherly and catcher Marty Tabacheck.

The International League awarded Harry C. Seibold a franchise in Richmond yesterday conditioned on his acquisition of a park.

Seibold paid a reported $25,000 to Edwin Mooers for his franchise in the Piedmont League. The international League is Triple A and the Piedmont Class B.

If Richmond satisfies the ball park stipulation, then Havana, Cuba, also will become a member of the International League. Richmond and Havana will replace Baltimore and Springfield, Mass., in the league.

The Orioles turned in their franchise to the International League when they went American League and the Chicago Cubs decided to no longer foot the bills at Springfield.

The Orioles had agreed to hold on to their minor league players until the International made up its mind whether it would expand or operate with six teams.

Taliaferro's selection followed that of Art Donovan as the best defensive lineman. Each received a prize of $100.

Asserts New York Is Worried About Chisox

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox snarled a challenge at the world champion New York Yankees today, contending the acquisition of pitcher Harry Byrd and first baseman Eddie Robinson hasn't clinched the 1954 pennant for the Yanks.

As a matter of fact, Sox General Manager Frank Lane asserted the White Sox are better strengthened than the Yanks for next season.

"The Yankees in their deal with the Philadelphia Athletics merely took up the slack left when pitcher Johnny Sain and first baseman Johnny Mize quit," said Lane.

"I feel that we strengthened more this winter than the Yanks by building a strong bench," continued Lane, who admits he got the "bird" when the A's lured a $150,000 Sox offer for Byrd and then sent the right-hander to the Yankees.

"We feel badly about losing Byrd, but look at it this way," said Lane. "The Yankees lost Sain, who was a 14-game winner last season. So Byrd has to do better to help New York's pitching. Robinson might be a regular, but then he might only be a pinch-hitter. That's what Mize was—and he's gone."

With all the seriousness he could muster, Lane suggested:

"The mere fact the Yankees made such a deal shows they're worried about the White Sox threat."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 18 (INS) — To me this seems perfect casting —Deborah Kerr as the woman in Graham Greene's great story, "End of the Affair."

Well, Deborah is going to do it when she leaves the cast of "Tea and Sympathy" on Broadway. The contract has just been signed for Deborah to go to England next summer to make the picture for David Rose, with David Lewis producing.

I can't tell you how glad I am that David Lewis at last has a chance to make this picture. It's been the most important thing in his life for several years. Now he has the money, he has a great star and the backing of a British company.

Donna Reed, hotter than a chili pepper, steps up to co-star with Dana Andrews in Harry Joe Brown's "Gunslinger."

Oddly, Dana is just back from England and Africa where he made "Duel in the Jungle" for Donna's husband, Tony Owen.

Hollywood producers are viewing Donna with a very different eye ever since her deeply emotional playing of the "entertainer" in "From Here, etc." and no one is happier than she. She's been heartily sick of her mamby-pamby ingenue roles for years.

Surprise, surprise — considering that MGM is on a Cinemascope kick, the only production to so far bear Dore Schary's personal seal in 1954, "I'll Be Seeing You," will be shot in "old fashioned" black and white for an average size screen!

Although the picture has a $3,000,000 budget and top bracket Charles Vidor will direct, the head man at MGM isn't qualifying his decision.

Well, why not? "From Here to Eternity" is doing all right, isn't it, in plain black and white on a regular screen?

Of course it's a musical that will take Frankie Laine back to Columbia for his fifth picture.

He's in the midst of negotiations now with Jonie Tapps for a film that is merely being called "Musical of 1954."

His records continue to be very popular, and although the pictures he's made have not been really outstanding hits, at least they have done okay at the boxoffice—and, I believe his pictures always will because he has a big following with the teen-agers.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Abigail Adams at Bob Dalton's with Bob Gold. She now says her romance with George Jessel is yesterday's news.

Sitting in a corner of the Secret Harbor Cafe, apparently not wishing to be seen, Gene Nelson was dining with an unknown brunette.

Clark Gable says he hasn't seen the sun for three months and he's taking himself off to the desert. We hope the sun will shine for him.

At the Gourmet-Beverly, Betsy Wynn with a new man, Bill Kane, by name.

I couldn't get over all the weight Joan Evans has lost. She's very thin and it's extremely becoming.

Red Skelton with his Georgia at Charley Foy's really had himself some fun. He and Doodles Weaver, who has a show there, had everyone in hysterics.

Carmel Myers and her husband, Al Schwalenberg, president of film distribution at Paramount, are at Deep Well Ranch in Palm Springs. They'll be in town Monday.

John Fontaine feels his name is too similar to Joan Fontaine, so he's changed it to Jeffrey Stone.

Debra Paget is going after some of that Las Vegas folding money by preparing a singing and dancing night club act.

Billy Wilder and his pretty wife remained for both of the Jimmy McHugh-Vic Damone shows at the Sands. Not since Ziegfeld has there been prettier chorines as at this Las Vegas nitery.

Julia Adams and Rock Hudson, who made their first public appearance together at the "Glenn Miller Story" premiere, have apparently discovered each other because they've been having dates ever since.

Johnnie Ray will play Santa Claus at New York's Public School 47, which is a school for deaf children. Johnnie's own affliction makes his heart go out to these handicapped children.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

LOW DOUBLES PAY HIGH

BUSINESS doubles of low bids, especially overcalls, afford one of the main chances for you to score more points than were dealt to you in the cards. In brief, it may not be possible for your side to make a game in anything. But an overcall by an opponent, if doubled, may produce a much greater score than any less-than-game contract could be worth. So the fine competitor keeps his eyes and ears open, looking for the knock of opportunity, in the form of some risky bid by an unintending victim.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	1 NT
Dbl.

With most advanced players, a bid of 1-No Trump, in a situation like that of East, has a double meaning when it is over a bid of 1-Spade—not over any other call. It should be left in or raised by the partner, if holding an adequate sprinkling of honors here and there, such as a couple of kings and queens, but should be treated as an informative or takeout double with a weak hand containing an unbid suit of five cards or more.

West should have taken that out into 2-Diamonds, especially after South doubled. When the double reached East, he considered a redouble as an S. O. S. for a suit takeout, but feared that West would misinterpret it as a show of confidence and leave it in.

Due to this fortuitous treatment of South's double, the defenders beat the 1-No Trump a single trick. That was worth 200 points, better than could have been done on the offense, as only 3-Spades could have been made. That would have been worth only 90 in tricks, plus a potential value of the partial, reckoned in duplicate as 50 points, or a total of 140.

Natural play could easily have enabled West to make 2-Diamonds, if he had made that bid.

Master the art of a quick shampoo and you can have radiantly glistening hair all of the time!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The busy days are here and it's not only rush-a-day time but rush-an-evening, too.

For the girl with fine, soft hair, the kind that crushes quickly and whose curls go limp in what seems like no time at all, keeping a coiffure bright and shiny becomes a problem. Too many hours in any one day spent with hat on the head can mean an unglamorous halo for the evening. What to do about it?

If you wear your hair in any of the currently smart short styles, you can take a trick out of the beauty book of the models who must keep their locks glintful enough to coax highlights from the hypercritical lens of the camera every day. For those with very blonde or light brown hair and those with very fine hair this means a shampoo every day or at least two or three times a week. But as they have discovered, the trick can be accomplished — and you can bathe, dress and be ready for an evening date in as little as an hour and a half after you arrive home.

Quick Change

Start by giving your hair a good brushing. Then soak it thoroughly. Next, measure out the amount of shampoo cream, or liquid advised. Using your hands, cover your entire head and your hair (be sure to include the ends) with the first application. Little suds can be expected from the first application, so make this rubbing brief.

Now rinse. Then apply the second application of shampoo and work up a rich lather, massaging every inch of your scalp. Then rinse so well that the nair tweaks or squeaks between your fingers.

After this rinsing, brush your hair until almost dry, using a dryer while you brush. Next part your hair and pin it up in loose, fat curls.

Cleanse your face. Cover it with cream. Have your bath. Then lie down with your head hanging over the edge of your bed and again use a hand dryer to completely dry your curls.

Shining and Refreshed

Dress. Using cosmetic apron around your shoulders for complete protection, apply your cosmetics. Then take out your curlers or setting pins. Carefully comb or brush your coiffure into place.

Sound like an impossible time table? Try it — you'll discover just as the models have that you can run through the routine and feel rested, relaxed and refreshed at the finish.

What's more, you'll have the shining, lustrous kind of hair beauty that is woman's crowning glory!

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK—(INS)—The passing show—

There was a dramatic behind-the-scenes drama on the "This Is Your Life" TV show which told the story, or a bit of it, of Toots Shor, famed Democratic publican.

Toots is a man of massive sentiment. Everybody Ralph Edwards led in was heartily mauled and the expressions of recurrent warmth and affection were such that our particular TV set alternately succumbed to heavy rainfalls and heavier blizzards.

One participant in the review of toots' life was in sharp danger. It took real moxie to go through with his role. He was Eddie Davis, for whom Toots worked as a bouncer in the early days. Eddie had just driven from New York to Virginia Military Institute to see his son when he got the flash he was needed on the show. He made a screeching u-turn and sped back to New York, arriving barely in time.

Eddie wears a hearing aid that works dandy. But he wanted to be absolutely certain that night. So he strapped two receiving apparatuses on his chest, so as not to miss any cues. He was a mass of wires beneath his business suit as he came on stage.

Then a look of deep concern creased his face. It must have confused millions of viewers. I asked Eddie to explain it, and he said:

"I suddenly was afraid Toots would cry and electrocute me."

The newest British tailoring edict, which would have all American well-dressed men walking around looking like Carl Hubbell or Ted Williams, will be opposed as vigorously as a tea-tax the same nation once attempted to impose on us crude colonials, according to Fifth Avenue Tailor Pat Caruso.

The newest Bond Street style in men's clothes, according to the Fashion Foundation of America, will have trouser cuffs a full four inches above the shoetop. Caruso says flatly this will leave the Amer-

One letter simple stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

W.Va. Drought Aid Forms Are Now Available

County Groups Named To Set Eligibility

MORGANTOWN — County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (formerly PMA) offices in West Virginia's 42 designated drought-stricken counties are now taking applications for drought aid, it was announced by Clarence P. Hott, chairman of the West Virginia's USDA Drought Committee. Hott is also chairman of the State ASC Committee.

In each of the 42 Mountain State counties named as drought-stricken, the program is being administered by a County USDA Drought Committee com[illegible]ed of the chairman of the ASC county committee, who serves as chairman of the Count, USDA Drought Committee, the county agricultural agent, the county director of the Farmers Home Administration, a prominent farmer, and a local banker.

Since conditions will vary from conty to county and from farm to farm, the County USDA Drought Committee is given wide latitude in determining the eligibility of individual farmers, Hott pointed out.

To qualify for the program, which applies to growers of cattle and sheep, a farmer must apply to the local committee and indicate:

1. That he has less than a 30-day supply of feed to supplement the roughage for the maintenance of his foundation herd. Basic foundation herds of cattle (beef and dairy) consist of cows, bulls, nursing calves and such heifers as may be kept to replace over-age and other undesirable cattle culled from herds. Substantially the same definition applies in the case of sheep.
2. That he is not in a financial position to buy at prevailing market prices through the probable duration of the drought emergency period the feed necessary to maintain his basic foundation and still have a reasonable chance to stay in the livestock business.

Aid Available

Eligible farmers are free to purchase corn, wheat, oats, or cottonseed meal, cakes, or pellets through their ASC County Committee, or to purchase drought emergency mixed from any eligible feed mixer or distributor. Emergency feed will be made available to eligible farmers at $1 per bushel for corn, $1.10 per bushel for wheat, 50 cents per bushel for oats, and $35 per ton for cottonseed meal, cakes, or pellets delivered in the county.

Hay Distribution Program

The hay distribution program has also been extended to the 42 drought-stricken counties in the Mountain State, Mr. Hott explained. The nation's railroads have reduced their freight rates 50 per cent on shipments of hay delivered under this program until December 31, 1953. The Federal Government agrees to pay half the remaining freight cost up to $10 a ton to eligible farmers.

Eligibility of farmers in drought-stricken counties to participate in the emergency hay program will likewise be determined by the local County USDA Drought Committee, in accordance with requirements for feed aid — except that supplies of hay will be limited to a 60 days' supply rather than 30 days. Application for procurement of hay under this program also will be made at the local County ASC Office in drought-stricken counties. Eligible farmers will make their own arrangements for providing hay.

Funds for the hay distribution program totaling $205,000 have been allocated to West Virginia and are being handled through the State Department of Agriculture, Hott said.

Keyser WSCS Has Yule Party

KEYSER—The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Grace Methodist Church held its annual Christmas program Thursday night under direction of Mrs. Frank Snider, spiritual life chairman. The group sang Christmas carols led by Mrs. A. V. Gallion. Miss Jean Meecham, Potomac State College student, gave a reading: "The Little Serving Maid" by Grace Crowell.

Mrs. Lavada Cole sang, "O Holy Night," accompanied by Mrs. Paul Dayton on the piano. While she sang Mrs. Harry Taylor, Mrs. Beulah Hesen, Miss Lillian Keller and Patty Ott, portraying the angel, gave the scene at Bethlehem in pantomine.

The group then sang: "There's a Song in the Air" and "Silent Night," again led by Mrs. Gallion. Mrs. Mildred Robinson was the pianist.

Mrs. Frank Snider conducted the devotions closing with prayer.

The short business meeting which followed was presided over by Mrs. V. D. Twigg.

Following the business session the group retired to the dining room where refreshments were served in a holiday motif amid Christmas decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. David M. Linn Announce Daughter's Marriage

FROSTBURG — Mr. and Mrs. David M. Linn, of Frostburg, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Rose E. Linn, to Thomas A. McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McKenzie, of Mt. Savage.

The ceremony was performed Saturday, December 12, at 7 p. m. in St. Michael's Catholic Church, by Rev. Francis E. Montgomery, administrator.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a ballerina length gown of nylon and net and carried a nosegay of mums and pink rose buds.

The bridegroom is employed at the Acme Market, Cumberland.

Keyser Kiwanians Hear Problems Of Veterinarians

KEYSER — Dr. Wilbur L. Rehkemper, 43 North Main Street, Keyser, veterinarian for the eastern part of West Virginia for the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, was the speaker at Keyser Kiwanis Club. Dr. Rehkemper, who has been located here for the past four years, is a native of Texas, where he was employed by the bureau from the date of his graduation in the profession, has received notice of a promotion to another field, and will leave January 17, for Lansing, Mich., which will be his headquarters while working through the state of Michigan.

In speaking to Kiwanians, he discussed some of the problems facing veterinarians in the field, and gave a history of some of the animal diseases for which he and his coworkers in the bureau are ever watchful. Tuberculosis, he said, was, at one time one of the greatest of worries for cattle owners, but this disease has been almost wiped out, although there are still some cases that come to the attention of the field workers.

Some of the diseases that were prevalent in live-stock a number of years ago, are now extinct, and improvement is being made all along the line, he said. In speaking of this he reviewed the history of the bureau from its inception in 1844. He made reference to tick fever which has, through many years been the source of a heavy loss to cattle men, but it is now practically eliminated. But, he said there are still some new diseases that add to the work.

Attorney Charles Smith, Keyser, was a guest at the club meeting, and James Watson, a member, who has been ill for several weeks, was able to attend.

A group of six Keyser Kiwanians visited at the luncheon meeting of Cumberland Kiwanis Club at Central YMCA on Thursday.

Former County Man's Christmas Scenes Popular

FROSTBURG—Andrew H. "Son" Speir, a former resident of Frostburg, who resides at 3109 Wisteria Avenue, Hamilton, Baltimore, was given considerable publicity in a Baltimore newspaper this week in reference to a Christmas display on the windows of his home.

Speir, who for 26 years was a teacher of art in Baltimore public schools, including Baltimore City College, each year paints Nativity scenes that have a stained glass appearance when placed on the windows of his home.

During the day one must be inside to get the effect, but at night when the room lights are on the Speir home takes on cathedral-like qualities. Scores of people in the suburban district visit the home each Christmas to see the display which has become so much a feature of the neighborhood Yule decorations for the past 12 years.

He is assisted in his decoration work by his wife, a retired teacher who taught art for 47 years at Clifton Park and Hamilton Junior High Schools.

Speir, is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Speir, of Frostburg, is a brother of Mrs. Lillian Speir Stewart, Mrs. Lou Spates and Mrs. Mabel Stevens, of Frostburg.

Stock Market Shakes Mild Restraints, Gains Slightly

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Shaking loose from some mildly restraining influences, the stock market managed to close with a moderate gain today.

There wasn't anything spectacular in the market. Only in a few instances did prices move more than a fraction.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks added 30 cents and stood at $109.50. Volume held up rather well at 1,500,000 shares yesterday.

Radio Corp. was the day's most active issue up ⅜ at 24 with 27,200 shares traded. It was followed by North American Aviation up ⅝ at 21½, U. S. Steel unchanged at 40¼, Budd Co. up ¼ at 12⅛, and AVCO Mfg. unchanged at 4⅝.

Western Pacific was down 1⅞ at 56½ after a move was made to reopen a tax case previously won by the railroad.

Also lower were Consolidated Natural Gas, Kennecott Copper, American Woolen, American Tobacco, Douglas Aircraft, and Reynolds Tobacco "B".

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 18 (INS) — To me this seems perfect casting —Deborah Kerr as the woman in Graham Greene's great story, "End of the Affair."

Well, Deborah is going to do it when she leaves the cast of "Tea and Sympathy" on Broadway. The contract has just been signed for Deborah to go to England next summer to make the picture for David Rose, with David Lewis producing.

I can't tell you how glad I am that David Lewis at last has a chance to make this picture. It's been the most important thing in his life for several years. Now he has the money, he has a great star and the backing of a British company.

Donna Reed, hotter than a chili pepper, steps up to co-star with Dana Andrews in Harry Joe Brown's "Gunslinger."

Oddly, Dana is just back from England and Africa where he made "Duel in the Jungle" for Donna's husband, Tony Owen.

Hollywood producers are viewing Donna with a very different eye ever since her deeply emotional playing of the "entertainer" in "From Here, etc." and no one is happier than she. She's been heartily sick of her mamby-pamby ingenue roles for years.

Surprise, surprise — considering that MGM is on a Cinemascope kick, the only production to so far bear Dore Schary's personal seal in 1954, "I'll Be Seeing You," will be shot in "old fashioned" black and white for an average size screen!

Although the picture has a $3,000,000 budget and top bracket Charles Vidor will direct, the head man at MGM isn't qualifying his decision.

Well, why not? "From Here to Eternity" is doing all right, isn't it, in plain black and white on a regular screen?

Of course it's a musical that will take Frankie Laine back to Columbia for his fifth picture.

He's in the midst of negotiations now with Jonie Tapps for a film that is merely being called "Musical of 1954."

His records continue to be very popular, and although the pictures he's made have not been really outstanding hits, at least they have done okay at the boxoffice—and, I believe his pictures always will because he has a big following with the teen-agers.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Abigail Adams at Bob Dalton's with Bob Gold. She now says her romance with George Jessel is yesterday's news.

Sitting in a corner of the Secret Harbor Cafe, apparently not wishing to be seen, Gene Nelson was dining with an unknown brunette.

Clark Gable says he hasn't seen the sun for three months and he's taking himself off to the desert. We hope the sun will shine for him.

At the Gourmet-Beverly, Betsy Wynn with a new man, Bill Kane, by name.

I couldn't get over all the weight Joan Evans has lost. She's very thin and it's extremely becoming.

Red Skelton with his Georgia at Charley Foy's really had himself some fun. He and Doodles Weaver, who has a show there, had everyone in hysterics.

Carmel Myers and her husband, Al Schwalenberg, president of film distribution at Paramount, are at Deep Well Ranch in Palm Springs. They'll be in town Monday.

John Fontaine feels his name is too similar to Joan Fontaine, so he's changed it to Jeffrey Stone.

Debra Paget is going after some of that Las Vegas folding money by preparing a singing and dancing night club act.

Billy Wilder and his pretty wife remained for both of the Jimmy McHugh-Vic Damone shows at the Sands. Not since Ziegfeld has there been prettier chorines as at this Las Vegas nitery.

Julia Adams and Rock Hudson, who made their first public appearance together at the "Glenn Miller Story" premiere, have apparently discovered each other because they've been having dates ever since.

Johnnie Ray will play Santa Claus at New York's Public School 47, which is a school for deaf children. Johnnie's own affliction makes his heart go out to these handicapped children.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Daily Bridge Lesson

LOW DOUBLES PAY HIGH

BUSINESS doubles of low bids, especially overcalls, afford one of the main chances for you to score more points than were dealt to you in the cards. In brief, it may not be possible for your side to make a game in anything. But an overcall by an opponent, if doubled, may produce a much greater score than any less-than-game contract could be worth. So the fine competitor keeps his eyes and ears open, looking for the knock of opportunity, in the form of some risky bid by an unintending victim.

With most advanced players, a bid of 1-No Trump, in a situation like that of East, has a double meaning when it is over a bid of 1-Spade—not over any other call. It should be left in or raised by the partner, if holding an adequate sprinkling of honors here and there, such as a couple of kings and queens, but should be treated as an informative or takeout double with a weak hand containing an unbid suit of five cards or more.

West should have taken that out into 2-Diamonds, especially after South doubled. When the double reached East, he considered a redouble as an S. O. S. for a suit takeout, but feared that West would misinterpret it as a show of confidence and leave it in.

Due to this fortuitous treatment of South's double, the defenders beat the 1-No Trump a single trick. That was worth 200 points, better than could have been done on the offense, as only 3-Spades could have been made. That would have been worth only 90 in tricks, plus a potential value of the partial, reckoned in duplicate as 50 points, or a total of 140.

Natural play could easily have enabled West to make 2-Diamonds, if he had made that bid.

Junkmen's Steeds Get Gift From Santa Claus

DETROIT, Dec. 18 (AP) — Santa Claus came yesterday — for 26 Detroit horses.

The steeds, most of them owned by junkmen, got a bale of hay, a bag of oats, a hank of carrots and a handful of apples.

Santa visited them in an alley behind the Michigan Humane Society's shelter. Inside, their masters sipped steaming coffee and ate doughnuts.

Master the art of a quick shampoo and you can have radiantly glistening hair all of the time!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The busy days are here and it's not only rush-a-day time but rush-an-evening, too.

For the girl with fine, soft hair, the kind that crushes quickly and whose curls go limp in what seems like no time at all, keeping a coiffure bright and shiny becomes a problem. Too many hours in any one day spent with hat on the head can mean an unglamorous halo for the evening. What to do about it?

If you wear your hair in any of the currently smart short styles, you can take a trick out of the beauty book of the models who must keep their locks glintful enough to coax highlights from the hypercritical lens of the camera every day. For those with very blonde or light brown hair and those with very fine hair this means a shampoo every day or at least two or three times a week. But as they have discovered, the trick can be accomplished — and you can bathe, dress and be ready for an evening date in as little as an hour and a half after you arrive home.

Quick Change

Start by giving your hair a good brushing. Then soak it thoroughly. Next, measure out the amount of shampoo cream, or liquid advised. Using your hands, cover your entire head and your hair (be sure to include the ends) with the first application. Little suds can be expected from the first application, so make this rubbing brief.

Now rinse. Then apply the second application of shampoo and work up a rich lather, massaging every inch of your scalp. Then rinse so well that the hair tweaks or squeaks between your fingers.

After this rinsing, brush your hair until almost dry, using a dryer while you brush. Next part your hair and pin it up in loose, fat curls.

Cleanse your face. Cover it with cream. Have your bath. Then lie down with your head hanging over the edge of your bed and again use a hand dryer to completely dry your curls.

Shining and Refreshed

Dress. Using cosmetic apron around your shoulders for complete protection, apply your cosmetics. Then take out your curlers or setting pins. Carefully comb or brush your coiffure into place.

Sound like an impossible time table? Try it — you'll discover just as the models have that you can run through the routine and feel rested, relaxed and refreshed at the finish.

What's more, you'll have the shining, lustrous kind of hair beauty that is woman's crowning glory!

Water Shortage To Be Relieved At Hyndman, Pa.

Civil Defense Pump Will Be Utilized

The acute water shortage problem which has harassed the community of Hyndman, Pa. during the past several months is expected to be relieved early next week.

Members of the council, school board, fire department, and interested citizens met Thursday night with Harry A. DeWire, advanced sanitary engineer of the Department of Health at Harrisburg

DeWire, according to Councilman Wade Kipp, member of the Water Commission, gave the community the go-ahead signal to use the electric pump on the Dr. John Topper farm near Hyndman. The much needed water from the reservoir will be pumped into the two reservoirs of the Pennsylvania community.

To Filter Water

Provisions are being made to filter the water from the Topper farm, Kipp added. All necessary steps in the operation are expected to be completed by Monday, at which time approximately 100 gallons of water a minute, or 6,000 gallons an hour, will be pumped into the reservoirs for public consumption.

Some time ago plans were formulated to pump water from the Topper farm, but the State Health Department disapproved the idea because the water lines were not filtered, and stated the water was not pure enough for wholesale consumption by the residents

Since then measures have been taken to filter the water properly. The electric pump and several thousand feet of pipe were installed through cooperation of the Civil Defense organization in the event of an emergency.

Due to the lack of a normal supply of water, a strict conservation program has been underway. The council divided the community into two sections, ordering the upper portion of town to use water for wash days on Mondays and Wednesdays and the lower section on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

School Is Hit

Aside from the sanitation problem in the homes of the community, Hyndman was faced with a similar problem in the Hyndman-Londonderry School. Since the water was so low that officials of the school cut the hours of classes so as to conserve the water supply.

The normal water pressure of 80 in the school had dwindled to from 4 to 12 pounds recently. Toilet facilities, wash basins and showers were practically useless, according to Lloyd G. Keller, principal.

Kipp pointed out that the water situation of Hyndman remains critical although relief will be realized as the pump on the Topper farm is put into operation.

Attending the meeting were DeWire, Casper Hyre, president of the council, Vance Dieni, Thomas Smith, Kipp, of the council and George Holler, secretary.

Elmer Pliss, president of the school board was present, as well as Dr. John Topper, vice president, C. H. Close, board member and Dayton Harold Jr. secretary. Also attending were Keller, supervising principal of the school, H. M. Carpenter, intermediate school principal, Arden Fichtner, fire chief, and other interested citizens.

Garrett Countian Seeks Immediate Trial In Fraud

A Garrett County man who is accused of removing six tires from his truck with intention of defrauding the Farm Bureau Insurance Company yesterday filed a petition in Allegany County Circuit Court asking for an immediate trial.

Isiah Cecil Savage, 32, who lives in the White Rock section near Friendsville, admitted guilt in the petition filed by his attorney, Edward J. Ryan. Savage said that he desires to waive his right to indictment by the Grand Jury and seeks to submit the case to court on an information to be filed by the State's Attorney.

The Garrett County man adds that he has made a statement to the State's Attorney and has admitted facts as charged.

Savage was arrested the night of November 4 at his home by State Police Cpl. William F. Baker, who had been investigating the man's report that six large tires tubes and wheels had been stolen off his truck, parked on Walnut Ridge near Oldtown about September 20.

Cpl. Baker reported that he discovered four of the tires and tubes in a woodshed and the other two in the back yard at Savage's home. The arresting officer explained that Savage admitted collecting $1,000 from his insurance company after removing the tires himself.

The Garrett countian was freed from Allegany County Jail under $1,000 bond, November 7.

Sunday School To Give Christmas Program

Children of the Sunday School of the Nazarene Church, Oldtown Road, will present a program tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. Later, the "Christmas Story" will be presented by the choir in song and narration.

Heating Equipment Aids In Flood Work

Despite the current frigid weather, concrete work on two sections of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Control Project is continuing at an almost normal pace due to modern heating equipment being used by the contractor, the E. J. Albrecht Company of Chicago.

The bad weather came at a time when the company is pouring concrete both at the industrial dam across the Potomac River and also at the channel job in Wills Creek.

At the dam, where workers are completing the second phase, including pouring concrete for half of the dam wall and spillway and center pier, the company is heating part of the material before transportation to the site.

Sand And Stone Heated

The sand and stone is heated at the enclosed batch plant in Corriganville and is then taken to the dam location. Water for mixing is heated by means of an oil heater.

The section of the dam where the concrete is to be poured is first covered with tarpaulin and the enclosed area is heated by hot air from two ducts. After the concrete mixture is poured, the area is covered with tarpaulin and the hot-air heat is applied for 24 hours. After that period, the concrete is covered with straw.

Officials said the enclosure must be at a 50-degree minimum temperature. They added the procedure is not very economical, and concrete cannot be poured too late at night after temperatures drop. The danger lies in a cycle of freezing, thawing and then freezing again, officials said.

Pours of concrete are over three feet, company heads said, and a chemical process in the mixture itself causes the concrete to generate its own heat. This would not occurr in shallow pouring of the mixture such as on highways.

Moisture Kept In

Because of this chemical heating, which dries the moisture in the concrete, the concrete has to be kept wet during summer months. Use of straw during cold periods helps keep moisture in.

Officials said the heating system was being used on the Wills Creek channel work, but it was stopped yesterday. Work will continue there when temperatures again climb to about 32 or 35 degrees, workers said.

Rex E. Dexter, area engineer for the Corps of Army Engineers, said the Albrecht Company has completed nearly half of the industrial dam. Besides both side abutments and wing walls, the company has completed two of the seven monoliths on the Maryland half of the dam wall, have parts of three other monoliths completed and about three-fifths of the center pier finished.

After completion of the Maryland side of the dam, the company will construct another circular enclosure or coffer dam on the West Virginia side and begin concrete work for the final stage.

The dam which is scheduled to be finished by late September, yesterday had the company working in the 247th day of its 540 calendar days of work. At the present rate of progress, officials feel the dam will be completed ahead of schedule.

May Finish Ahead Of Deadline

When completed, the dam's side abutments will be 32 feet high, the center pier will be 34 feet in height and the wall and spillway will be about 11 feet high. Actually, from the rock foundation the wall wil be approximately 25 feet high.

Work of paving the sides and bed of Wills Creek, in the first phase, takes in 3,000 feet of concrete in four sections. The Albrecht Company has already completed two sections of the work, and has the third section half completed and the fourth part about 75 per cent finished.

The channel project is due to be completed by March 7, and yesterday workers were in the 621st day of its 700-day contract period.

Baptists Plan Yule Carol Event

A Christmas carol festival, in three parts, is being planned tomorrow by members of Grace Baptist Church, 213 Greene Street.

The program, according to Rev. V. Randolph Keefe, pastor, will begin at 11 a. m. and will have as its theme, "Jesus, the Light of the World."

The prelude will be given by Mrs. Robert Huck, and the processional, "Oh Come, All Ye Faithful," will be sung by the Senior and Chapel choirs. Rev. Keefe will then have the call to worship.

The introduction of the program will be by Miss Mary Robb with an anthem, "Carol of the Village Musicians," by the Chapel Choir.

Judith Ann Wilt will give the Story of a Carol and the entire congregation and choirs will join in singing "O Little Town of Bethlehem." Rev. Keefe will hold a White Christmas Service and other hymns will be sung.

The three parts with appropriate Scripture texts, carols and anthems include, "The Prophecy of the Light," "The Preparation for the Light," "The Coming of the Light."

Benediction by the pastor will bring the program to a close. The congregation is planning to erect a Nativity scene in front of the church. Trustees and members of the congregation are doing the work with Frederick Layman in charge, assisted by Clyde Runion. Mrs. Robert Matlick painted the various scenes of the Nativity.

So. Cumberland Plans Yule Tree Lighting Event

Program Arranged For Monday At 7:30

Santa Claus will arrive at the Municipal Airport Monday at 3 p. m. and will be escorted through South Cumberland to be on hand for the Community Christmas Tree lighting program at Race and Seymour streets, scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

Sponsored by the South Cumberland Business Men's Association, a program of music, speaking and worship has been arranged to mark the opening of Christmas week.

Santa To Pull Switch

Santa Claus will pull the switch lighting the huge community tree in behind the South End fire station, and will also light the floodlamps which will reveal the colorful Nativity scene to be erected there.

Rev. Fr. Jude of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church will be guest speaker. James Weber will be master of ceremonies and Rev. Frederick J. Eckerd, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, will offer the invocation.

A special program of music will be presented by Fort Hill High School's a capella choir under the direction of Miss E. Annetta Yates, with instrumental music by a brass section of the Fort Hill High School band directed by William F. Gordon.

Elaborate Decorations

George Millenson is chairman and James F. Scarpelli is co-chairman, in charge of arrangements for the Business Men. Col. Nelson W. Russler is arranging for the reception of Santa Claus at the Municipal Airport and for an escort up Virginia Avenue.

Millenson said last night an effort has been made by the committee to make the program an especially appropriate one for the occasion, and that the decorations and yard around the tree are the most colorful, realistic and elaborate yet displayed here.

Tree-Lighting Ceremony Set

Traditional rites will be held tomorrow night at Riverside Park to mark the official opening of the Christmas season in Cumberland.

The community tree lighting ceremony will be held at 9:15 o'clock so evening churchgoers may participate.

Certain mechanical details pertaining to the proposed LaVale Elementary School were discussed at a meeting of architects with Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster and his assistant, Richard T. Rizer.

Christmas Will Be Brighter

Health Workers Aid In Study Of Home Accidents

Will Probe Causes Of Fatal Mishaps

The Allegany County Health Department is cooperating in a state program designed to reduce the toll of deaths from home accidents.

The program in Maryland is being directed by the Bureau of Environmental Hygiene of the State Health Department, according to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer.

Pilot studies of the causes of fatal home accidents are being sponsored in Maryland and seven other states under a W. K. Kellog Foundation grant.

Health Department workers will be asked to investigate the causes of all accidental deaths in the home which are not subject to normal investigations by authorities.

The program has been approved by the Medical and Chirurgical Society of Maryland.

All of the information will later be compiled and studied so plans can be made to eliminate some of the causes of home accidents.

Plans for the program were presented to area health officials at a meeting in Hagerstown Thursday.

Attending were Dr. Frantz, Mrs. Jennie Graham, J. B. Dowling and Miss Margaret Morrissey.

Dr. Frantz said the present study will include only fatal home accidents. Plans call for extending the study later to include all home accidents.

Kiwanians To Give Sunshine Campers Christmas Party

Cumberland Kiwanis Club, instead of its regular meeting next Thursday, will hold a Christmas party at Central YMCA at 12:15 p. m. Wednesday for the youngsters who were guests at Sunshine Camp last summer.

According to Thomas N. Berry, club president, this is the first time the club has made an effort to have an off-season contact with its young campers. As many as can be contacted will be present, he said.

A local magician has been obtained to present a program to entertain the boys and girls, and gifts will be presented to each child.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the YMCA has promised to serve a turkey dinner for the occasion.

Allegany Artists Brighten Christmas For Institutions

Choir Will Sing At Yuletide Assembly

By ALBERT D. DARBY

More than 20 members of the Senior Art and Poster Club of Allegany High School again this Christmas season are bringing cheer to the aged, infirm and unfortunate in hospitals and other institutions around town.

The art students, directed by Mrs. Ethel C. Bruce, have been carrying on a community service project by painting traditional Christmas scenes on the windows at Memorial and Sacred Heart Hospitals, the County Infirmary, the County Home and on the walls of Juvenile Court.

While the artists are busy around town, the musically-inclined students at Allegany, at least some 50 of them belonging to the choir, are putting the fininshing touches on preparations for the annual Christmas assembly program which will be presented Tuesday morning. The first performance, at 10 a. m., will be the junior high assembly. The second, for senior high students, will start at 10:45 a. m.

Hymns, Popular Songs Included

The musical assembly has been divided into two parts, the first featuring the lighter holiday songs and the second the deeply moving Christmas hymns, according to Miss Dorothy Willison, music instructor.

The first scene opens upon a typical family group of husband and wife and their six children trimming the Yuletide tree on Christmas Eve. Members of the family are James Runner, as the father, Margaret Moulton as the mother, and Sally Conrad, Patty Robison, Judy Cooper, Bruce Tierney, Robert Dawson and Richard Ayers. The eight, incidentally, are members of the octet which sings several selections.

"Deck The Halls" is sung as the opening number as the family begins the tree-trimming operation. Then the boys' quartet of Richard Glass, Bruce Tierney, Robert Dawson and Richard Ayers will sing "Winter Wonderland."

Also in the first part of the assembly will be "Merry Christmas Time," sung by the musettes, a group of 12 girls, and "Down Through The Chimney" sung by the octet.

One pantomime during the affair will depict Jack Hersh as Santa Claus and Shirley Keating as the little girl. As Santa leaves the choir will sing "Jingle Bells." Then while church bells sound in the background the choir ends the first portion of the assembly by singing "Carol of the Bells."

During a break between scenes the junior high octet will present several selections in the first assembly. During the senior high assembly there will be a Scripture reading and singing of carols by the audience.

Procession To Be Held

The second act opens as the family enters the church for the midnight service Christmas Eve. Before a stained glass window will be portrayed the Nativity scene with Patricia Kerns as Mary, and Marian Hamilton as the angel.

During a candlelight procession into the church, the choir will sing "Oh Come, All Ye Faithful." Then the choir will offer "Carol Of The Little King" and "Shepherds Rejoice." The octet will sing "I Wander As I Wonder" and finally the boys in the choir will conclude the assembly by singing "Silent Night."

Accompanists for the performance will include Robert Mann for the choir, Jane Platt for the octet, Barbara Ossip for the musettes and Betty Joan Beck for the boys' quartet. Mrs. Joyce Bestwick Macy directs both the musettes and boys' quartet.

Besides trimming windows of various institutions, the art students while in the classroom have been making Christmas "mobiles," gaily-colored ornaments which are hung in hallways where they continue to move in the slightest breeze because of shifting balances.

Local Man Loses Savings, Offers $100 For Return

A part-time carpenter is offering $100 to the person who finds and returns his summer's savings of more than $600 which he lost somewhere along North Centre Street the other day.

Elmer Powers, 64-year-old grandfather, said the money was all that he and his wife had saved from occasional jobs he had done since last summer.

He went downtown with the money in his billfold, to start his Christmas shopping, but stopped off first to buy some groceries. A few minutes later, before he got his shopping started, he found that his wallet was missing. It contained five $100 bills and several bills of smaller denomination.

Powers said he's particularly worried about the money because his two small grandchildren live with him and "Christmas begins to look kind of bleak."

Treat For Children Planned By Red Men

Tonkaway Tribe No. 120, Improved Order of Red Men, and Algonquin Council 54, Degree of Pocahontas, will hold their annual Christmas treat for children Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. at the Red Men's Hall, 20 Bedford Street.

There will be treats for all children under 14 years of age. Children will enter on Bedford Street and leave by Frederick Street.

The committee in charge includes John R. Wilson, Floyd Myers, Dorothea Payton, Pauline Keyser and Georgia Myers. Members of both lodges will assist in the distribution of gifts.

City firemen and auxiliary policemen have volunteered to assist.

Potomac Park Church Choirs Plan Cantata

The junior and senior choirs of Potomac Park Evangelical United Brethren Church will present the annual Christmas cantata, "Joseph and The Nativity," at the church tomorrow night at 7:30. Rev. L. G. Bridgers, pastor, is director, and Mrs. Bridgers will be organist.

Taking part will be Mrs. Harold Turner, Mrs. Ivan DeWitt, Mrs. Ray Simpson, Mrs. Claude Yoder, Mrs. Edward Shaffer, Mrs. Kenneth Crowe, Mrs. Mildred Thomas, Harold Turner, Ray Simpson, Harry Waybright, John Wills, Ralph Harmon, Roy Hinebaugh, Edward Shaffer, John Fyock, Misses Mary Yoder, Janet Pfeiffer, and Ruth Jane Layton.

CSMC To Sing Carols

Lurana Veterans Unit, Catholic Students Mission Crusade, will sing Christmas carols for patients at the County Infirmary tomorrow night. John G. Burke, corresponding secretary, asked that all members meet at 7 p. m. in front of St. Patrick's Church.

'Buzz' Thompson, Popular Mail Clerk, Retires After 30 Years In Postal Service

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT

Familiarly and popularly known as "Buzz," George A. Thompson, of 405 Pulaski Street has retired as a postal clerk at the Cumberland Post Office after 30 years of service.

A veteran of World War I, serving at Camp Humphrey, Va., with the Engineers, Thompson entered the mail service here on December 1, 1923. Prior to that he had worked as a stenographer and bookkeeper for the Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Company on Commerce Street for four years, and then worked for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company here as a pipefitter's helper.

While he has already left his job, his retirement is not official until the close of business at the end of this year. He had some accumulated vacation and leave time, and this enabled him to retire ahead of the actual date.

For 24 of the 30 years he spent at the local post office and the old post office on North Liberty Street which now houses the Public Safety building, "Buzz' Thompson worked the night shift.

At the night shift, he came in contact with the circulation men of The Cumberland News every morning as they mailed thousands of papers for rural delivery. Consequently he was almost a fixture with these circulation men and they, because of his willingness to help with the heavy mail sacks they hauled to the post office, and his genial attitude, already miss him.

At the post office, some of the younger clerks are already beginning to wonder just how Thompson's retirement will affect them. Since, by his own request, he preferred night work for 24 years, this made it possible for a younger man to enjoy daylight turn. After the holiday season when extra help is no longer needed and schedules adjusted, one of the regular younger men will find himself shifted to night work.

The oldsters at the post office, who have worked with "Buzz" for many years also commented yesterday, "we miss him very much. He always carried his own weight and did his work well."

Thompson, since his retirement, says he plans to travel some, to rest, and to take part in the activities of some of the organizations to which he belongs. He also owns a couple of Cocker Spaniel dogs which provide him with the "nearest thing I ever came to a hobby."

Thompson is well known in Masonic circles and is a 32d degree Mason. He is a member of East Gate Lodge No. 216, AF and A Masons; Cumberland Consistory Scottish Rite and Ali Ghan Shrine Temple. He also belongs to Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion.

He makes his home with a brother, Raymond Thompson, and is unmarried.

Frigid Weather Continues Grip On City, Area

Cold Causes Several Water Line Breaks

The cold spell continued yesterday, sending mercury down to an official 14 degrees in Cumberland, the city's coldest reading for the season.

The Weather Bureau promised some letup in the cold snap for today in Maryland and West Virginia. The Bureau said today will be "fair and not as cold" in Western Maryland, and predicted "some cloudiness and not as cold" in nearby West Virginia.

Western Pennsylvania is not so lucky. The Bureau forecast snow flurries today in that section with low readings this morning between five and 15 degrees.

Thermometers in the Queen City didn't get above the freezing mark yesterday as the official report measured a high temperature of 21 degrees.

Workers at the Cumberland Water Department warehouse last night said several breaks in water pipes have been reported, but the number was far below normal for cold spells.

City crewmen received a call about 8 p. m. yesterday when a service water line burst in the 700-block of Washington Street. Workers soon had the damage repaired.

The frigid weather meant a boost in winter clothing sales for local merchants. Several businessmen said sales of winter clothing has increased considerably since the mercury plunged to the sub-freezing mark.

Aside from dramatic renditions of colorful language as residents tried to start motors during early morning hours, the only other noticeable signs of winter here was the freezing over of Wills Creek and the extra clothing worn by pedestrians.

In other sections of the Tri-State, however, things were different. In West Virginia and Pennsylvania, residents still were digging out of from under four to 12 inches of snow, while west of Cumberland, Frostburg and Garrett County communities shoveled out from under five to nine inches.

West of here, roads are still icy and snow-covered and State Police recommend chains.

Council Studies Valley Street Bridge Problems

A number of questions concerning the construction of the new Valley Street bridge were discussed at a special meeting of the Mayor and Council yesterday.

There were indications that the contract for the bridge can be awarded Monday morning with assurances to the city that the span will be completed on schedule.

When bids were first opened on December 7, it appeared that the George Construction Company was the low bidder.

Tabulation of bids that afternoon by the J. E. Greiner Company, designers of the span, disclosed mathematical mistakes which made the S. T. Brotemarkle Construction Company's corrected bid of $280,694.50 low. The firm this week recommended that the bid be awarded to the Brotemarkle firm.

This Monday, a formal protest was lodged by Local 1024, Carpenters Union (AFL), on the basis that the low bidder had not signed a union contract and had not inquired about wage rates.

The Brotemarkle firm said it is willing to pay the union scale and city officials yesterday received a copy of the prevailing wage rates to be presented to the firm.

City officials say they can take no action on the issue of whether the job is to be done union or non-union, but insist that the work must be completed on schedule and without labor disputes.

City officials also discussed plans for acquiring two parcels of land needed to build the bridge.

Present were Mayor Roy W. Eves, Commissioners Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder and William J. Edwards, City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

Emmanuel Methodist Sells Parsonage

The parsonage of Emmanuel Methodist Church, located at 23 Humbird Street, has been sold to Harold E. Meyers and Helen M. Meyers, his wife, who now reside at 33 Humbird Street.

A deed recording the sale of the property was filed for record in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, yesterday. The congregation has owned the property since 1918.

Trustees of Agur Chapel Methodist Episcopal Church South of Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, sold the property. The congregation now is building a new brick parsonage for Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Grove and their family at 27 Humbird Street. They expect to move into the new home in the spring.

Yule Program Sunday

A Christmas program will be presented by the Sunday School at Zion Methodist Church tomorrow evening at 7:30. It consists of recitations and a play.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK—(INS)—The passing show—

There was a dramatic behind-the-scenes drama on the "This Is Your Life" TV show which told the story, or a bit of it, of Toots Shor, famed Democratic publican.

Toots is a man of massive sentiment. Everybody Ralph Edwards led in was heartily mauled and the expressions of recurrent warmth and affection were such that our particular TV set alternately succumbed to heavy rainfalls and heavier blizzards.

One participant in the review of toots' life was in sharp danger. It took real moxie to go through with his role. He was Eddie Davis, for whom Toots worked as a bouncer in the early days. Eddie had just driven from New York to Virginia Military Institute to see his son when he got the flash he was needed on the show. He made a screeching u-turn and sped back to New York, arriving barely in time.

Eddie wears a hearing aid that works dandy. But he wanted to be absolutely certain that night. So he strapped two receiving apparatuses on his chest, so as not to miss any cues. He was a mass of wires beneath his business suit as he came on stage.

Then a look of deep concern creased his face. It must have confused millions of viewers. I asked Eddie to explain it, and he said:

"I suddenly was afraid Toots would cry and electrocute me."

The newest British tailoring edict, which would have all American well-dressed men walking around looking like Carl Hubbell or Ted Williams, will be opposed as vigorously as a tea-tax the same nation once attempted to impose on us crude colonials, according to Fifth Avenue Tailor Pat Caruso.

The newest Bond Street style in men's clothes, according to the Fashion Foundation of America, will have trouser cuffs a full four inches above the shoetop. Caruso says flatly this will leave the Amer-

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simple stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

N A B Q S W F . . . S N Q F K H F Y B V L B
B V S A U V V F C J B B C F Q L J Y, V F O L J Y
J B S Z Z I J B V B V J P E J P U—D S I O F K.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: WONDERFULLY TRUE. THAT EVEN SHADOWS HAVE THEIR SHADOWS TOO!—CHURCHILL.

Water Shortage To Be Relieved At Hyndman, Pa.

Civil Defense Pump Will Be Utilized

The acute water shortage problem which has harassed the community of Hyndman, Pa. during the past several months is expected to be relieved early next week.

Members of the council, school board, fire department, and interested citizens met Thursday night with Harry A. DeWire, advanced sanitary engineer of the Department of Health at Harrisburg

DeWire, according to Councilman Wade Kipp, member of the Water Commission, gave the community the go-ahead signal to use the electric pump on the Dr. John Topper farm near Hyndman. The much needed water from the reservoir will be pumped into the two reservoirs of the Pennsylvania community.

To Filter Water

Provisions are being made to filter the water from the Topper farm, Kipp added. All necessary steps in the operation are expected to be completed by Monday, at which time approximately 100 gallons of water a minute, or 6,000 gallons an hour, will be pumped into the reservoirs for public consumption.

Some time ago plans were formulated to pump water from the Topper farm, but the State Health Department disapproved the idea because the water lines were not filtered, and stated the water was not pure enough for wholesale consumption by the residents

Since then measures have been taken to filter the water properly. The electric pump and several thousand feet of pipe were installed through cooperation of the Civil Defense organization in the event of an emergency.

Due to the lack of a normal supply of water, a strict conservation program has been underway. The council divided the community into two sections, ordering the upper portion of town to use water for wash days on Mondays and Wednesdays and the lower section on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

School Is Hit

Aside from the sanitation problem in the homes of the community, Hyndman was faced with a similar problem in the Hyndman-Londonderry School. Since the water was so low that officials of the school cut the hours of classes so as to conserve the water supply.

The normal water pressure of 80 in the school had dwindled to from 4 to 12 pounds recently. Toilet facilities, wash basins and showers were practically useless, according to Lloyd G. Keller, principal.

Kipp pointed out that the water situation of Hyndman remains critical although relief will be realized as the pump on the Topper farm is put into operation.

Attending the meeting were DeWire, Casper Hyre, president of the council, Vance Dieni, Thomas Smith, Kipp, of the council and George Holler, secretary.

Elmer Pliss, president of the school board was present, as well as Dr. John Topper, vice president, C. H. Close, board member and Dayton Harold Jr. secretary. Also attending were Keller, supervising principal of the school, H. M. Carpenter, intermediate school principal, Arden Fichtner, fire chief, and other interested citizens.

Garrett Countian Seeks Immediate Trial In Fraud

A Garrett County man who is accused of removing six tires from his truck with intention of defrauding the Farm Bureau Insurance Company yesterday filed a petition in Allegany County Circuit Court asking for an immediate trial.

Isiah Cecil Savage, 32, who lives in the White Rock section near Friendsville, admitted guilt in the petition filed by his attorney, Edward J. Ryan. Savage said that he desires to waive his right to indictment by the Grand Jury and seeks to submit the case to court on an information to be filed by the State's Attorney.

The Garrett County man adds that he has made a statement to the State's Attorney and has admitted facts as charged.

Savage was arrested the night of November 4 at his home by State Police Cpl. William F. Baker, who had been investigating the man's report that six large tires tubes and wheels had been stolen off his truck, parked on Walnut Ridge near Oldtown about September 20.

Cpl. Baker reported that he discovered four of the tires and tubes in a woodshed and the other two in the back yard at Savage's home. The arresting officer explained that Savage admitted collecting $1,000 from his insurance company after removing the tires himself.

The Garrett countian was freed from Allegany County Jail under $1,000 bond, November 7.

Sunday School To Give Christmas Program

Heating Equipment Aids In Flood Work

Despite the current frigid weather, concrete work on two sections of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Control Project is continuing at an almost normal pace due to modern heating equipment being used by the contractor, the E. J. Albrecht Company of Chicago.

The bad weather came at a time when the company is pouring concrete both at the industrial dam across the Potomac River and also at the channel job in Wills Creek.

At the dam, where workers are completing the second phase, including pouring concrete for half of the dam wall and spillway and center pier, the company is heating part of the material before transportation to the site.

Sand And Stone Heated

The sand and stone is heated at the enclosed batch plant in Corriganville and is then taken to the dam location. Water for mixing is heated by means of an oil heater.

The section of the dam where the concrete is to be poured is first covered with tarpaulin and the enclosed area is heated by hot air from two ducts. After the concrete mixture is poured, the area is covered with tarpaulin and the hot-air heat is applied for 24 hours. After that period, the concrete is covered with straw.

Officials said the enclosure must be at a 50-degree minimum temperature. They added the procedure is not very economical, and concrete cannot be poured too late at night after temperatures drop. The danger lies in a cycle of freezing, thawing and then freezing again, officials said.

Pours of concrete are over three feet, company heads said, and a chemical process in the mixture itself causes the concrete to generate its own heat. This would not occurr in shallow pouring of the mixture such as on highways.

Moisture Kept In

Because of this chemical heating, which dries the moisture in the concrete, the concrete has to be kept wet during summer months. Use of straw during cold periods helps keep moisture in.

Officials said the heating system was being used on the Wills Creek channel work, but it was stopped yesterday. Work will continue there when temperatures again climb to about 32 or 35 degrees, workers said.

Rex E. Dexter, area engineer for the Corps of Army Engineers, said the Albrecht Company has completed nearly half of the industrial dam. Besides both side abutments and wing walls, the company has completed two of the seven monoliths on the Maryland half of the dam wall, have parts of three other monoliths completed and about three-fifths of the center pier finished.

After completion of the Maryland side of the dam, the company will construct another circular enclosure or coffer dam on the West Virginia side and begin concrete work for the final stage.

The dam which is scheduled to be finished by late September, yesterday had the company working in the 247th day of its 540 calendar days of work. At the present rate of progress, officials feel the dam will be completed ahead of schedule.

May Finish Ahead Of Deadline

When completed, the dam's side abutments will be 32 feet high, the center pier will be 34 feet in height and the wall and spillway will be about 11 feet high. Actually, from the rock foundation the wall wil be approximately 25 feet high.

Work of paving the sides and bed of Wills Creek, in the first phase, takes in 3,000 feet of concrete in four sections. The Albrecht Company has already completed two sections of the work, and has the third section half completed and the fourth part about 75 per cent finished.

The channel project is due to be completed by March 7, and yesterday workers were in the 621st day of its 700-day contract period.

Baptists Plan Yule Carol Event

A Christmas carol festival, in three parts, is being planned tomorrow by members of Grace Baptist Church, 213 Greene Street.

The program, according to Rev. V. Randolph Keefe, pastor, will begin at 11 a. m. and will have as its theme, "Jesus, the Light of the World."

The prelude will be given by Mrs. Robert Huck, and the processional, "Oh Come, All Ye Faithful," will be sung by the Senior and Chapel choirs. Rev. Keefe will then have the call to worship.

The introduction of the program will be by Miss Mary Robb with an anthem, "Carol of the Village Musicians," by the Chapel Choir.

Judith Ann Wilt will give the Story of a Carol and the entire congregation and choirs will join in singing "O Little Town of Bethlehem." Rev. Keefe will hold a White Christmas Service and other hymns will be sung.

The three parts with appropriate Scripture texts, carols and anthems include, "The Prophecy of the Light," "The Preparation for the Light," "The Coming of the Light."

Benediction by the pastor will bring the program to a close. The congregation is planning to erect a Nativity scene in front of the church. Trustees and members of the congregation are doing the work with Frederick Layman in charge, assisted by Clyde Runion. Mrs. Robert Matlick painted the various scenes of the Nativity.

Health Workers Aid In Study Of Home Accidents

Will Probe Causes Of Fatal Mishaps

The Allegany County Health Department is cooperating in a state program designed to reduce the toll of deaths from home accidents.

The program in Maryland is being directed by the Bureau of Environmental Hygiene of the State Health Department, according to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer.

Pilot studies of the causes of fatal home accidents are being sponsored in Maryland and seven other states under a W. K. Kellog Foundation grant.

Health Department workers will be asked to investigate the causes of all accidental deaths in the home which are not subject to normal investigations by authorities.

The program has been approved by the Medical and Chirurgical Society of Maryland.

All of the information will later be compiled and studied so plans can be made to eliminate some of the causes of home accidents.

Attending were Dr. Frantz, Mrs. Jennie Graham, J. B. Dowling and Miss Margaret Morrissey.

Dr. Frantz said the present study will include only fatal home accidents. Plans call for extending the study later to include all home accidents.

According to Thomas N. Berry, club president, this is the first time the club has made an effort to have an off-season contact with its young campers. As many as can be contacted will be present, he said.

A local magician has been obtained to present a program to entertain the boys and girls, and gifts will be presented to each child.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the YMCA has promised to serve a turkey dinner for the occasion.

Allegany Artists Brighten Christmas For Institutions

Choir Will Sing At Yuletide Assembly

By ALBERT D. DARBY

More than 20 members of the Senior Art and Poster Club of Allegany High School again this Christmas season are bringing cheer to the aged, infirm and unfortunate in hospitals and other institutions around town.

The art students, directed by Mrs. Ethel C. Bruce, have been carrying on a community service project by painting traditional Christmas scenes on the windows at Memorial and Sacred Heart Hospitals, the County Infirmary, the County Home and on the walls of Juvenile Court.

While the artists are busy around town, the musically-inclined students at Allegany, at least some 50 of them belonging to the choir, are putting the fininshing touches on preparations for the annual Christmas assembly program which will be presented Tuesday morning. The first performance, at 10 a. m., will be the junior high assembly. The second, for senior high students, will start at 10:45 a. m.

Hymns, Popular Songs Included

The musical assembly has been divided into two parts, the first featuring the lighter holiday songs and the second the deeply moving Christmas hymns, according to Miss Dorothy Willison, music instructor.

The first scene opens upon a typical family group of husband and wife and their six children trimming the Yuletide tree on Christmas Eve. Members of the family are James Runner, as the father, Margaret Moulton as the mother, and Sally Conrad, Patty Robison, Judy Cooper, Bruce Tierney, Robert Dawson and Richard Ayers. The eight, incidentally, are members of the octet which sings several selections.

"Deck The Halls" is sung as the opening number as the family begins the tree-trimming operation. Then the boys' quartet of Richard Glass, Bruce Tierney, Robert Dawson and Richard Ayers will sing "Winter Wonderland."

Also in the first part of the assembly will be "Merry Christmas Time," sung by the musettes, a group of 12 girls, and "Down Through The Chimney" sung by the octet.

One pantomime during the affair will depict Jack Hersh as Santa Claus and Shirley Keating as the little girl. As Santa leaves the choir will sing "Jingle Bells." Then while church bells sound in the background the choir ends the first portion of the assembly by singing "Carol of the Bells."

During a break between scenes the junior high octet will present several selections in the first assembly. During the senior high assembly there will be a Scripture reading and singing of carols by the audience.

Procession To Be Held

The second act opens as the family enters the church for the midnight service Christmas Eve. Before a stained glass window will be portrayed the Nativity scene with Patricia Kerns as Mary, and Marian Hamilton as the angel.

During a candlelight procession into the church, the choir will sing "Oh Come, All Ye Faithful." Then the choir will offer "Carol Of The Little King" and "Shepherds Rejoice." The octet will sing "I Wander As I Wonder" and finally the boys in the choir will conclude the assembly by singing "Silent Night."

Accompanists for the performance will include Robert Mann for the choir, Jane Platt for the octet, Barbara Ossip for the musettes and Betty Joan Beck for the boys' quartet. Mrs. Joyce Bestwick Macy directs both the musettes and boys' quartet.

Besides trimming windows of various institutions, the art students while in the classroom have been making Christmas "mobiles," gaily-colored ornaments which are hung in hallways where they continue to move in the slightest breeze because of shifting balances.

Local Man Loses Savings, Offers $100 For Return

A part-time carpenter is offering $100 to the person who finds and returns his summer's savings of more than $600 which he lost somewhere along North Centre Street the other day.

Elmer Powers, 64-year-old grandfather, said the money was all that he and his wife had saved from occasional jobs he had done since last summer.

He went downtown with the money in his billfold, to start his Christmas shopping, but stopped off first to buy some groceries. A few minutes later, before he got his shopping started, he found that his wallet was missing. It contained five $100 bills and several bills of smaller denomination.

Powers said he's particularly worried about the money because his two small grandchildren live with him and "Christmas begins to look kind of bleak."

Frigid Weather Continues Grip On City, Area

Cold Causes Several Water Line Breaks

The cold spell continued yesterday, sending mercury down to an official 14 degrees in Cumberland, the city's coldest reading for the season.

The Weather Bureau promised some letup in the cold snap for today in Maryland and West Virginia. The Bureau said today will be "fair and not as cold" in Western Maryland, and predicted "some cloudiness and not as cold" in nearby West Virginia.

Western Pennsylvania is not so lucky. The Bureau forecast snow flurries today in that section with low readings this morning between five and 15 degrees.

Thermometers in the Queen City didn't get above the freezing mark yesterday as the official report measured a high temperature of 21 degrees.

Workers at the Cumberland Water Department warehouse last night said several breaks in water pipes have been reported, but the number was far below normal for cold spells.

City crewmen received a call about 8 p. m. yesterday when a service water line burst in the 700-block of Washington Street. Workers soon had the damage repaired.

The frigid weather meant a boost in winter clothing sales for local merchants. Several businessmen said sales of winter clothing has increased considerably since the mercury plunged to the sub-freezing mark.

Aside from dramatic renditions of colorful language as residents tried to start motors during early morning hours, the only other noticeable signs of winter here was the freezing over of Wills Creek and the extra clothing worn by pedestrians.

In other sections of the Tri-State, however, things were different. In West Virginia and Pennsylvania, residents still were digging out of from under four to 12 inches of snow, while west of Cumberland, Frostburg and Garrett County communities shoveled out from under five to nine inches.

West of here, roads are still icy and snow-covered and State Police recommend chains.

Council Studies Valley Street Bridge Problems

A number of questions concerning the construction of the new Valley Street bridge were discussed at a special meeting of the Mayor and Council yesterday.

There were indications that the contract for the bridge can be awarded Monday morning with assurances to the city that the span will be completed on schedule.

When bids were first opened on December 7, it appeared that the George Construction Company was the low bidder.

Tabulation of bids that afternoon by the J. E. Greiner Company, designers of the span, disclosed mathematical mistakes which made the S. T. Brotemarkle Construction Company's corrected bid of $280,694.50 low. The firm this week recommended that the bid be awarded to the Brotemarkle firm.

This Monday, a formal protest was lodged by Local 1024, Carpenters Union (AFL), on the basis that the low bidder had not signed a union contract and had not inquired about wage rates.

The Brotemarkle firm said it is willing to pay the union scale and city officials yesterday received a copy of the prevailing wage rates to be presented to the firm.

City officials say they can take no action on the issue of whether the job is to be done union or non-union, but insist that the work must be completed on schedule and without labor disputes.

City officials also discussed plans for acquiring two parcels of land needed to build the bridge.

Emmanuel Methodist Sells Parsonage

The parsonage of Emmanuel Methodist Church, located at 23 Humbird Street, has been sold to Harold E. Meyers and Helen M. Meyers, his wife, who now reside at 33 Humbird Street.

A deed recording the sale of the property was filed for record in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, yesterday. The congregation has owned the property since 1918.

Trustees of Agur Chapel Methodist Episcopal Church South of Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, sold the property. The congregation now is building a new brick parsonage for Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Grove and their family at 27 Humbird Street. They expect to move into the new home in the spring.

Yule Program Sunday

A Christmas program will be presented by the Sunday School at Zion Methodist Church tomorrow evening at 7:30. It consists of recitations and a play.

'Buzz' Thompson, Popular Mail Clerk, Retires After 30 Years In Postal Service

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT

Familiarly and popularly known as "Buzz," George A. Thompson, of 405 Pulaski Street has retired as a postal clerk at the Cumberland Post Office after 30 years of service.

A veteran of World War I, serving at Camp Humphrey, Va., with the Engineers, Thompson entered the mail service here on December 1, 1923. Prior to that he had worked as a stenographer and bookkeeper for the Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Company on Commerce Street for four years, and then worked for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company here as a pipefitter's helper.

While he has already left his job, his retirement is not official until the close of business at the end of this year. He had some accumulated vacation and leave time, and this enabled him to retire ahead of the actual date.

For 24 of the 30 years he spent at the local post office and the old post office on North Liberty Street which now houses the Public Safety building, "Buzz" Thompson worked the night shift.

At the night shift, he came in contact with the circulation men of The Cumberland News every morning as they mailed thousands of papers for rural delivery. Consequently he was almost a fixture with these circulation men and they, because of his willingness to help with the heavy mail sacks they hauled to the post office, and his genial attitude, already miss him.

At the post office, some of the younger clerks are already beginning to wonder just how Thompson's retirement will affect them. Since, by his own request, he preferred night work for 24 years, this made it possible for a younger man to enjoy daylight turn. After the holiday season when extra help is no longer needed and schedules adjusted, one of the regular younger men will find himself shifted to night work.

The oldsters at the post office, who have worked with "Buzz" for many years also commented yesterday, "we miss him very much. He always carried his own weight and did his work well."

Thompson, since his retirement, says he plans to travel some, to rest, and to take part in the activities of some of the organizations to which he belongs. He also owns a couple of Cocker Spaniel dogs which provide him with the "nearest thing I ever came to a hobby."

Thompson is well known in Masonic circles and is a 32d degree Mason. He is a member of East Gate Lodge No. 216, AF and A Masons; Cumberland Consistory Scottish Rite and Ali Ghan Shrine Temple. He also belongs to Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion.

He makes his home with a brother, Raymond Thompson, and is unmarried.
